Clifton J. Allen

Among Southern Baptist leaders, Clifton J. Allen stood tall both in spirit and in performance. Perhaps no one in our ranks has contributed more abundantly through his writings and editorial leadership, and thus influenced more people during his many years as editorial secretary of the Baptist Sunday School Board. One of his monumental works was the general editorship of the Broadman Bible Commentary (12 volumes).

A native of South Carolina, Dr. Allen received his education at Furman University with the B.A. degree, 1923, and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, with the Th.M degree, 1928, and Ph.D degree in 1932. He served his denomination faithfully in ministries over and beyond his regular work, including the International Lesson Committee; the Uniform Services Committee; the Commission on Christian Teaching and Training of the Baptist World Alliance; Recording Secretary of the Southern Baptist Convention, 1965-1977; member of the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention, 1965-1972; visiting professor, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, 1972-1976; visiting professor, Spanish Baptist Theological Seminary, Madrid, Spain (spring semester, 1973); Chair of Southern Baptist Studies, Carson-Newman College, fall semester, 1977.

He served pastorates in Kentucky and North Carolina, 1926-1937. The friends of Clifton Allen who knew him best always viewed him in the role of a pastor filled with a heart of compassion and with a fervent zeal for lost souls. One of his former church members tells of how Dr. Allen literally pursued a lost farmer up and down the rows as he plowed, and did not give up until he had won him to Christ and to becoming one of the strongest Christians in the church.

He was a very modest unassuming servant of the Lord, reflecting the love and spirit of Jesus Christ in all of his actions. "We are partners with the Spirit," he wrote, "in a grand venture of turning all that happens to us into refining the quality of life so that the pure gold of faith and courage may reflect the presence of Christ."

He was first married to the former Hattie Bell McCracken in 1930, building a beautiful Christian home together, over a period of fiftyone years until Mrs. Allen's home-going in 1981. To this happy union were born three children: Judson Boyce Allen (now deceased); Rosalind (Mrs. John C.) Barker, and Robert Moore Allen.

Upon Mrs. Allen's death, he was married to Rosalind Sheppard Street in 1982. Mrs. Allen, upon Dr. Allen's death, returned to her native Alabama.

Among the Saints in glory Clifton J. Allen will ever shine forth, as he did here on earth, as a good and faithful servant of the Lord!

Vance Havner

In an editorial, the Greensboro News and Record (August 17, 1986) called Vance Havner "the dean of American evangelists." At his funeral at First Baptist Church, where Havner had been a member for forty-three years, the Reverend Billy Graham described Havner as a "good and faithful servant" of God. Graham's praise of his old friend was fitting and accurate. Havner devoted seventy-two years of his life to preaching the Gospel in churches throughout the nation.

Havner, who was born in a village called Jugtown in western North Carolina began preaching at the age of twelve, when he could barely see over the pulpit. He was ordained to the gospel ministry at the age of fifteen. While a Southern Baptist, his powerful and wit-filled sermons graced the pulpits of many denominations. His preaching was spell-binding. His sermons were characterized by down-to-earth wisdom laced with large doses of wit, warmth and humility. He was called the "Will Rogers of the pulpit." In his eighties he had enough invitations to preach to keep three men busy full time.

In addition to a preaching schedule which would have tired a man half his age, Havner wrote extensively. He was author of 38 devotional books, and wrote a weekly newspaper column, "Havner's multiplied and lives on.

News reporters noted how fitting it was that Vance Havner's funeral was marked "more by humor than by tears." It was a celebration of his vital faith and home-going. At last he was reunited with his beloved Sara. Shortly after her death, some twelve years earlier, a friend consoled the evangelist by saying, "I'm sorry you lost your wife." "Lost her?" replied Havner. "She's not lost. I know exactly where she is." We can say the same of Vance Havner.

Dr. Havner said that he never knew a day that he wasn't called to preach. His education included attending Boiling Springs High School (now Gardner-Webb College), Catawba College, Wake Forest College and Moody Bible Institute.

Dr. Havner's first pastorate was the Salem Baptist Church in Weeksville, N.C. Later he served for five years as pastor of historic First Baptist Church of Charleston, S.C. However, most of his life was devoted to itinerate evangelism. His last book, published in January 1986, is entitled Playing Marbles With Diamonds.

Vance met Sara Allred at Florida Bible Institute, when Billy Graham was a student there. He borrowed Billy's car to court Sara. (Vance never learned to drive and was a devoted walker.) He spoke in tiny churches and to religious conventions with thousands present, and his message was always a clear and winning Gospel appeal.

Some 1500 friends attended Havner's funeral, quite a tribute to a man who had no surviving immediate family. Some of his sharp quotes were cited:

"Too many churches and too many church services start at 11 o'clock sharp and end at 12 o'clock dull."

"The clock struck 12 at Sunday noon and the church gave up her dead."

"I used to say civilization was going to the dogs, but I've quit doing that out of respect for the dogs."

"God created Adam and Eve, not Adam and Steve."

Havner was buried with his worn, black, leather-bound Bible in his hand. He was to the end what John Calvin called "a servant of the Word." He was a man who was both intensely spiritual and perfectly natural. Opportunities came his way to make him a proud man, yet he remained authentically humble. His use of humor in the pulpit was never to get a laugh, but to make a point.

Vance Havner's appeal went across all generations. The First Baptist Church of Greensboro honored him with a Vance Havner Day in July 1974. My wife and I were studying at Oxford, so I called home to check on the special event. Kathy, our fifteen-year-old daughter, said, "Dad, Dr. Havner was great!" He experienced no generation gap.

The Kingdom of God has been enriched by the life and unselfish ministry of this servant of God. Thank God for Vance Havner.

L. James "Jimmy" Morriss

L. James "Jimmy" Morriss was born October 11, 1909 in Union County, North Carolina and died December 19, 1985 in Raleigh, North Carolina.

Mr. Morriss received his undergraduate degree from Davidson College and continued his education in the graduate schools of Wake Forest, Duke, and the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, where he completed most of his studies toward a Ph.D. He was awarded an honorary Doctor of Divinity from Campbell University in 1976.

Education was important to Jimmy Morriss and he began teaching at Chicod School in Pitt County. He also served as basketball coach there. He later taught courses in Audio Visuals at Wake Forest College and Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.

On February 27, 1942, Mr. Morriss was ordained to the gospel ministry at the Rolesville Baptist Church in Wake County. He later served as pastor at Rolesville, Forestville in Wake Forest, Bay Leaf in Wake County, and Calvary and Saint John's, both in Raleigh. He began full time with the Baptist State Convention in February, 1958 after having worked as a part-time employee for a number of years. He retired December 31, 1977.

He married Christeen Fowler of Rolesville in 1940. They had one daughter, Phyllis. Mrs. Morriss died in 1978. He later married Christine Ham.

Mr. Morriss began work with WRAL radio in Raleigh as an announcer and disc jockey in the early 1940's. He was later associated with WRAL television as religious coordinator. His association with the television station gave Jimmy Morriss a very unique opportunity as he led North Carolina Baptists into a television ministry. He produced such programs as Church of Our Fathers, a summary of the International Bible Lesson, using local church choirs and their pastors; Light Unto My Path, a message in audio and sign language for the deaf and hearing impaired; Light For Living, a devotional to begin and end the day; Bible Story Time, a Bible story simply told for the children of the viewing audience. He also served as unofficial chaplain to the employees of WRAL and their families.

Strongly believing that a picture is worth a thousand words, Jimmy Morriss was instrumental in establishing an Audio Visual Library for North Carolina Baptists. With his strong dedication to the smaller churches in the state and their needs for leadership training and programming, this free rental library became the most outstanding Audio Visual Library in the Southern Baptist Convention. He was the writer and producer of the visuals promoting State Missions and various agencies of the North Carolina Convention. He also produced a full length motion picture on the life of James Floyd Fletcher, a mountain preacher/missionary in the Ashe/Alleghany area of North Carolina.

Jimmy Morriss loved mankind and never tired of doing all he could to lead people to know our Lord. Being a believer in the "open door" policy, he spread the Gospel wherever he saw a need.

J. Winston Pearce

Dr. J. Winston Pearce, well-known pastor, teacher, writer and speaker of Campbell University, died November 28, 1985, at the age of 78.

The author of 15 books, co-author of seven more, and either author or co-author of countless articles, commentaries and pamphlets, Dr. Pearce was, at the time of his death, serving as writer-in-residence at Campbell University, a position which he had held since 1971.

A 1932 graduate of Campbell College, Dr. Pearce continued his education at Wake Forest College, where he received his bachelor of arts degree in 1934, and at the University of Chicago, where he received his bachelor of divinity degree in 1937.

Dr. Pearce did graduate studies at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, University of Edinburgh, Edinburgh, Scotland, and Yale University. He received the honorary doctor of humane letters degree from Campbell University in 1978 and the honorary doctor of divinity degree from Wake Forest University in 1952.

He served as pastor of First Baptist Church, Durham, for 14 years, First Baptist Church in De Land, Fla., Seventh Baptist Church in Baltimore, Md., and First Baptist Church in Nevada, Mo.

In 1961 Dr. Pearce joined the faculty of Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary as professor of preaching, where he remained until 1970. Dr. Pearce and his wife, Winnie, traveled to Ruschlikon, Switzerland, in 1970, where Dr. Pearce served as a guest professor at the Baptist seminary.

Dr. Pearce served as president of the General Board of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina; a member of the board of trustees at Wake Forest College; president of the Baltimore Pastors' Conference; Official Clergy Staff at John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore; a member of the Executive Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention; and as a preacher of the national "Baptist Hour."

A recipient of the Distinguished Alumni Award at Campbell, Dr. Pearce was the author of the work, Campbell College: Big Miracle at Little Buies Creek, 1887-1974, as well as Campbell University: Big Miracle at Little Buies Creek, Volume 2.

In 1979, Dr. Pearce was honored by the Heritage Foundation of America and was presented the Gold Medal Award as Clergyman of the Year in recognition of 50 years of distinguished service as a pastor, teacher, writer and speaker.

To meet J. Winston Pearce one would find a quiet, unassuming man, quick to smile and ask questions. A great traveler, Dr. Pearce could warm the hearts of all he met along the way. He was compassionate, humble and understanding with all and in all his relationships. His influence will live on in the countless lives he has touched.

He is survived by his wife, Winnie Rickett Pearce, and three children: Patricia Dutton of Middletown, N.Y.; Paula Hinton of Buies Creek; and Perry Pearce of Santa Fe, N.M.; one sister, Mrs. Robert Frazier of Wake Forest; and five grandchildren.

John Edward Steely

John Edward Steely, Professor of Historical Theology at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary since 1956, died March 28 of heart failure. Memorial services were held April 1 at Pullen Memorial Baptist Church, Raleigh, and Wednesday, April 2 in Binkley Chapel on the Southeastern campus.

Steely, 63, was a native of Almyra, Ark. He is survived by his wife, Donna, of Wake Forest; a daughter, Deborah, Raleigh; and a son, John Alan, Winston-Salem.

Well known as a scholar, writer and translator, Steely was honored last year by the Southern Baptist Historical Society. He received the Norman W. Cox Award at the annual meeting of the Historical Society and the Southern Baptist Convention Historical Commission in April 1985.

He earned the B.D., Th.M. and Th.D. degrees from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky. He was graduated magna cum laude from Ouachita Baptist College, Arkadelphia, Ark. in 1944. He received an honorary D.D. from Ouachita in 1982.

Steely was pastor of four Baptist churches in Arkansas and one in Illinois. From 1948 until he joined the Southeastern faculty in 1956, he was head of the Department of Bible and Religious Education at Southern Baptist College, Walnut Ridge, Ark.

Steely was a diligent and productive scholar whose translations of theological works from German and Dutch and whose authorship of learned articles, parts of books edited by others, and co-authorship of a volume, extended his influence far beyond the campus and our denomination.

As a leader in the Pullen Memorial Baptist Church, Raleigh, he was both a skillful change agent and an enhancer of the prophetic stance which has been a distinctive part of the tradition of that congregation. Issues relating to hunger, poverty, human rights, race and ethnic relations, and women's roles in church and society were a part of his agenda because he believed they were a part of the Lord's agenda. Deeply rooted in the Baptist heritage, Professor Steely was an able advocate of the best in our history, including Baptists' historical commitments to religious liberty, soul competency, and the priesthood of all believers. As a historian he was a critic of our failings, but he was a loving critic. While thoroughly at home as a Baptist, Steely was an ecumenical Christian who affirmed and appreciated the whole church of Jesus Christ by celebrating its diversity and its unity.

We also cherish the memory of John Steely as one who loved and was loved by little children. He also had a remarkable capacity to care for God's earth. He quietly engaged in ministries in which the grace gifts of others were acknowledged, encouraged, and supported. With a deep sense of personal loss we say our ave atque vale to our Christian brother, friend, and colleague. Profoundly grateful that his life touched ours for these years, we anticipate a joyful reunion in the house not made with hands.

Harold Wayland Tribble

Four miles north of the courthouse in Winston-Salem, stand the graceful and imposing buildings that house Wake Forest University. Beside the library is the classroom building, with the name Harold W. Tribble inscribed over its main entrance. Through those doors, in the marbled lobby, is a portrait of the man whose name represents the second founding of North Carolina's pioneer Baptist college. Both the name upon the building, and the portrait hanging at the entrance, are appropriate, for he, more than any other single individual, was a force in moving Wake Forest College to Winston-Salem and expanding its capacity to serve state and nation. His death on June 17, 1986, was a reminder and a memorial to the contributions he made to the cause of Christian higher education.

All of Harold Wayland Tribble's life was preparation for the strenuous task of presiding over Wake Forest College in its years of uprooting and replanting. He was born in Charlottesville, Va., on November 18, 1899 and learned the possibilities and pitfalls in college administration from his father. The elder Tribble was president of Columbia College in Lake City, Fla., a Baptist college that lost is struggle to survive. It was a lesson the son never forgot. Harold Tribble was graduated from Richmond College and then from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. Further study at the University of Edinburgh completed his formal training as a systematic theologian.

It was as teacher and administrator that Tribble devoted his life and talent, and exerted an incalculable personal force upon those in his generation who knew him. For more than 20 years at Louisville, and for another three at Andover-Newton, he trained minds, souls, and voices for the pulpits of Baptist churches in all the land. He became the tenth president of Wake Forest College in 1950. By then, many of the pastors whose support he needed had met his incisive mind and dedicated personality in the seminary. Teaching informed his mind, sharpened his reasoning, polished his talent for speaking, and enlarged his compassion for human need. During the early years of his administration he directed, planned, and raised funds for the removal of the school from the Forest of Wake to a red hill in Forsyth County over determined opposition from a concerned minority.

In 1956, Wake Forest opened its first semester on the new campus. Harold Tribble's energy and organizational ability succeeded in making real the second founding of the college. It was a tribute to his character and life-long commitment that the migration of the physical components of Wake Forest to a new home was accompanied by the preservation as well of the intangibles. The college motto, Pro Humanitate, the tradition of excellence in the classroom, the best teachings of classical and sacred thinkers, and the values of liberal learning, all flourished and bloomed under his careful nurture. The four college generations that passed through Wake Forest felt the impact of Tribble's strong mind and personality. Many of them considered that his name on their diplomas increased its value to them. Harold Tribble was a prophet who dreamed dreams and saw visions, and possessed the administrative talent and the stamina to make them come true. His dream of Wake Forest becoming a university was realized in 1967, the year of his retirement. To him be honor and respect from all whose lives he touched, in his span of days and in the generations yet unborn who shall drink deeply of the waters of learning from the spring that he carefully tended.

Eph Whisenhunt

Born September 17, 1892, in Buchanan, Georgia, Eph Whisenhunt became a North Carolinian by adoption. Fifty-three of his 93 years were spent in this state.

Converted at the age of 16. Whisenhunt returned to the public school classroom as a pupil one year later and graduated from high school at age 21. From there he went on to graduate from Mercer

University and Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.

While at the seminary he met Edith Adair of Gainesville, Georgia. Following their graduation in 1921, they were married and sailed immediately to China where they spent three years as Southern Baptist missionaries. It became necessary for them to return home because of Mrs. Whisenhunt's poor health.

Upon their return to the states, they settled in North Carolina where Dr. Whisenhunt became pastor of First Church, Lincolnton. He later was pastor of First Baptist, Elkin and First Baptist, Clayton. A denominational loyalist, he gave generously of his time and influence to denominational causes. These activities included serving as vice president of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, representing North Carolina on the Foreign Mission Board for seven years and serving 16 years as a trustee of Meredith College, including two years as chairman.

Following his retirement in 1957, Whisenhunt was named Pastor Emeritus of First Church, Clayton. He continued to be actively engaged in ministry for an additional 23 years following retirement. During this time he served as interim pastor of 24 churches and served as pulpit supply, evangelist or missionary speaker in approximately 150 churches in six states. At the memorial service at First Baptist Church, Clayton, on October 13, 1985, Dr. James Cammack remembered him as a minister "who rightly divided the Word of Truth."

A son, Yates Manley Whisenhunt, died in 1930. Mrs. Whisenhunt died in 1934. His second wife, Mary Lawton died in 1954. Eph Whisenhunt died on October 10, 1985, at Hayes Home in Winston-Salem. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Robert Cantwell of Clemmons.

Friends and family members remember him as a Godly, gracious and delightfully humorous person.

PREAMBLE

For the declaration of its fundamental purposes and the permanent guidance and control of its activities, the body does adopt the following as its Constitution, to wit:

Article I. Name

The name of this body is the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina.

Article II. Purposes

The object of this Convention shall be to promote missions, evangelism, education, social services, the distribution of the Bible and sound religious literature, and to cooperate with the work of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Article III. Authority

While independent and sovereign in its own sphere, the Convention does not claim and will never attempt to exercise any authority over any other Baptist body, whether church, auxiliary organizations, association, or Convention.

Article IV. Composition

The Convention shall be composed of:

A. Two messengers from each cooperating church and one additional messenger from each church for every hundred members or major fraction thereof, beyond the first one hundred members; provided, that no church shall be entitled to more than ten messengers. No one shall be a messenger who is not a member of a church cooperating with the Convention, and messengers must be duly elected by their churches; a cooperating church shall be one that supports any object of the Convention and which is in friendly cooperation with this Convention and sympathetic with its purpose and work; and

B. The officers of the Convention, the members of the General Board, the editor of the Biblical Recorder and the President of the Woman's Missionary Union.

Article V. Meetings

The Convention shall convene annually on Monday after the second Sunday in November no earlier than 6:30 PM and no later than 7:15 PM. In case of emergency or unusual circumstances, the General Board is empowered to change the time or place of meeting, cancel the sessions of the Convention, or call a special meeting by a vote of two-thirds of the members present when the vote is taken.

Article VI. Officers

The officers of the Convention shall be a President, a First Vice-President, a Second Vice-President, a Recording Secretary, an Assistant Recording Secretary, an Executive Director-Treasurer, three Trustees, and a Parliamentarian. The President shall appoint the Parliamentarian, who will serve during the term of the President.

A. President, Vice Presidents and Trustees

The terms of the President, the Vice-Presidents, and Trustees shall commence at the conclusion of the annual sessions at which they are elected and continue until the close of the next annual session of the Convention. The President and Vice-Presidents may not be elected for more than two consecutive terms. A vacancy in the presidency shall be filled by the Vice-Presidents succeeding to the office in order of their rank. The President shall serve as ex officio without voting on all Convention committees.

B. Recording Secretary and Assistant Recording Secretary

The terms of the Recording Secretary and the Assistant Recording Secretary shall commence on the first day of May following the annual session at which they are elected and continue until the first day of May in the following year.

A vacancy in any of the above mentioned offices (in A and B) except that of President, occurring between sessions of the Convention may be filled by the General Board.

C. Executive Director-Treasurer

- 1. In cases of a vacancy in the office of Executive Director-Treasurer, the General Board shall nominate a person to the Convention to fill this office.
- 2. Opportunity shall be given to receive additional nominations from the floor of the Convention.
- 3. The person receiving the majority of votes cast shall be declared elected. Upon election the Executive Director-Treasurer shall hold office for an indefinite period, with retirement to take effect based upon policies established by the Executive Committee and approved by the General Board.
- 4. In case the position of Executive Director-Treasurer becomes vacant between sessions of the Convention, the General Board, upon the recommendation of its Executive Committee, shall name an acting Executive Director-Treasurer to serve until the next regular session of the Convention.

The General Board shall nominate three trustees to be elected by the Convention in annual session. These trustees may succeed themselves, if nominated and elected, and will continue in office until their successors have been elected. The trustees shall hold title to the property of the Convention and convey and use the same as directed by the Convention, its General Board or Executive Committee. They shall execute obligations only in behalf of and as ordered by the Convention. They shall have the powers granted to trustees of religious societies by the laws of the State of North Carolina, but subject always to the limitations imposed by this Constitution and by action of the Convention, its General Board or Executive Committee. They shall require the treasurer of the Convention to give suitable bond, with corporate security and in adequate amount as determined by the General Board, and they shall cause such bonds to be safely kept. Failure on the part of the treasurer to maintain such a bond in force for as long a period as ten days shall authorize the trustees to remove the treasurer from office. 44. Mr. Langford summarized a proposal on Wake Forest University (see page no. 100), adopted by the Council on Christian Higher Education, the General Board's Executive Committee and the General Board. The proposal calls for a fraternal relationship between the University and the Convention which would mean: (1) Wake Forest will be autonomous and elect all of its trustees beginning with the January, 1987 class. (2) Effective January 1, 1987, it will no longer receive any Cooperative Program funds (although each Baptist church may designate gifts for the University). (3) Wake Forest would continue its friendly relations with other Baptist colleges through a non-voting membership on the Council on Christian Higher Education. The University has also expressed a desire to continue its present Baptist programs and maintain fidelity to its Baptist heritage. In order to implement the provisions of this proposal, Mr. Langford moved that Article XIV of the Constitution be reworded to read:

Article XIV. The Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and Wake Forest University shall have a fraternal, voluntary relationship under which Wake Forest University is autonomous in governance. In order to facilitate that relationship, the University will have associate, non-voting membership on the Council on Christian Higher Education, and will be represented by the same officers as schools which are members of the Council. The Board of Trustees of Wake Forest University shall be elected by that Board in accordance with such procedures as that Board may prescribe. Wake Forest University shall not share in the distribution of Cooperative Program Funds. (See No. 68.)

45. M. O. Owens, Jr., Gastonia, spoke in favor of the motion.

46. Mr. Langford said that convention officers, the executive director, representatives of the other six colleges, the General Board and other interested persons were involved in formulating the recommended constitutional change after in-depth study, intensive prayer and consensus conviction. He endorsed the proposal with no reservations as the best alternative.

47. President Poe announced that Parliamentarian Jeff Batts had to leave the convention due to a break-in at his Rocky Mount office. Michael Taylor, Albemarle attorney, will serve in his absence.

53. A motion from the floor to extend the time 10 minutes carried.

(See No. 59.)

- 56. Billy Cline, Merrimon Avenue Church, Asheville, spoke in favor of the Langford motion.
- 57. Travis Newton, Smyrna Church, Whiteville, spoke for the motion.
- 58. On a point of personal privilege, the president said that countless hours had been devoted to this issue and in his opinion, the proposal is a good solution and the best one. He said the alternative would be court action to bring about an autonomous board of directors for Wake Forest University, that such suit had not been threatened but, in his opinion, would come.

59. On a point of personal privilege, a messenger complained that the president failed to take a negative vote on the extension of time (See No. 53.) and had not recognized a motion for the question. (See No. 55.) President Poe said he did not call for a negative vote because he perceived the favorable vote as overwhelming.

61. In a motion from the floor, the question was called for and in a vote taken by a show of hands, the motion carried.

62. Fred Bentley, president of Mars Hill College, asked that voting be by standing.

- 63. The president ruled that a ballot vote had been called for and procedures for voting were explained by Randy Minnix, chairman of Tellers.
- 64. Through concensus, it was agreed that the time for resolutions be moved to 2:45 p.m. since that time will not be needed for run-off elections.
- 65. Mr. Gatwood led the assembly in singing "Come Thou Almighty King."

66. Horace Jackson, pastor, Sunset Park Church, Wilmington, read scripture and led in prayer.

67. David O. Byler, minister emeritus, First Church, Hickory, sang several selections on the theme of love.

68. Billy Mobley, First Church, Hickory, preached the convention sermon.

"The Way of Love,"

John 13:34-35; 14:15, 21, 23-25; 15:12-13, 17. Jesus' new commandment to His disciples was to "love one another." Dr. Mobley gave six words as a framework for his message: Person, Priority, Pattern, Place, Prove, and Peace. He said that with Jesus, it is not how you do things, it is how you relate to others, preferring one another. In this manner all of your relationships will be shaped and formed in love. (Full text, Biblical Recorder, Nov. 29, 1986.)

69. Nane Starnes, Asheville, retired pastor, West Asheville Church,

Tuesday Afternoon — November 11, 1986

70. They presented "Crown Him With Many Crowns," arr. Nagel; "I Will Sing the Wondrous Story," arr. Jim Davidson; "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah," arr. Nagel; and "A Mighty Fortress," arr. Nagel.

71. The president announced results of the vote on Wake Forest University (See No. 44.) as 2,689 or 81 percent of registered messengers for the motion, 649 or 19 percent of registered messengers against the motion; therefore the motion carried.

72. The president gave a tribute of appreciation to Charles Gatwood and presented him with a plaque. Mr. Gatwood, who will retire at the end of February, 1987, expressed appreciation for the tribute. Following the presentation the assembly was led in a medley of songs by Mr. Gatwood.

73. Mr. Macon, chairman of Committee on Enrollment, reported that as of 2 p.m., 3,950 messengers had registered, with 191 visitors.

74. James C. Cammack, Snyder Memorial Church, Fayetteville, preached on the convention theme. His scripture was John 5:30:

Jesus' purpose is our continued and unfinished task. We must be about the business of the Father and do something meaningful. Redemption is the need of mankind. Our work is more than triviality. We need to be kind to each other and faithful to the task God has entrusted to us. Our work will never be completed. The outreach ministry continues to challenge us.

75. First Vice-President Smith reported the following request from

Kenneth Singley, pastor, Eagles Church, Macclesfield:

"Whereas it is Veteran's Day, we ask for a moment of silence in honor of those who served in all wars; and

Whereas there are 61 men from North Carolina who are still missing in Vietnam as MIA's whose families are members of our community;

"Therefore be it resolved that the convention meeting on this Veteran's Day 1986 pay respect to these by a moment of silence."

Mr. Smith closed the period of silence with a prayer of appreciation and concern.

76. With the president presiding, Ray Roberts, Asheville, a member of the Southern Baptist Convention Peace Committee, brought greetings as second vice-president of the Southern Baptist Convention.

77. First Vice-President Smith recognized Alton McEachern, pastor, First Church, Greensboro, chairman of the Resolutions Committee.

78. Mr. McEachern presented Resolution No. 1 as printed and in the hands of messengers, and moved its adoption. The motion carried.

WHEREAS, the 156th annual session of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina is meeting in Greensboro, with the theme "Sharing the Dream...United in Christ"; and

WHEREAS, we are indebted to the various committees and personalities for arranging and conducting the session of our Convention;

THEREFORE, we express gratitude to these leaders, our host city and its citizens for making available the physical facilities both for our deliberative assembly and for our personal accommodations.

79. Resolution No. 2 was presented by Mr. McEachern who moved its adoption (See No. 87.)

WHEREAS, one of the distinctives of Baptists is the autonomy of the local church; and

WHEREAS, the local church has the authority to call whomever she chooses: and

WHEREAS, our Baptist Churches support and affirm the work of the Home Mission Board in reaching our Bold Mission Thrust objectives; and

WHEREAS, the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina does not restrict pastoral support on the basis of gender; and

WHEREAS, the local church should not be hindered in any way by Convention agencies that assist our churches in carrying out our mission;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we the messengers to the North Carolina Baptist State Convention meeting in Greensboro, N.C. November 10-12, 1986 respectfully request that the Home Mission Board trustees reconsider their recent decision to provide "no financial support...in the future for a woman serving as pastor in a local church," and that a copy of this resolution be sent by the Recording Secretary of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina to each of the following: the trustees of the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention in Atlanta, GA, the Baptist Press, and the Biblical Recorder in Raleigh, North Carolina.

80. John Hewett, First Church, Asheville, spoke for the motion.

81. M. O. Owens, Jr., Gastonia, a trustee of the Home Mission Board and member of the committee that brought the recommendation to the Board, said the decision was made after long deliberation over one and one-half years. He moved that a substitute resolution be adopted: "Whereas one of the distinctives of Baptists is autonomy of the local church; whereas the local church has the authority to call whomever she pleases; and whereas our Baptist churches support and affirm the work of the Home Mission Board in reaching our Bold Mission Thrust objectives; and whereas the Baptist State Convention of N.C. does not restrict pastoral support on the basis of gender; therefore be it resolved that we the messengers to the Baptist State Convention lovingly assure the Home Mission Board trustees of our continuing prayers as they face the task of winning our nation to Christ and the hard questions they continually face."

82. First Vice-President Smith ruled that the substitute resolution would have to go to the Resolutions Committee for action unless, by a two-thirds majority vote, the rules are suspended.

83. Virgil Holloway, Waynesville, Grandview Church, moved that the rules be suspended.

84. Steve Sells, Greensboro, on a point of order, protested the ruling that the resolution could not be amended. Mr. Smith said that Mr. Owens introduced a substitute resolution, not an amendment to the resolution presented by Mr. McEachern. (See No. 79.)

85. In a vote by standing, Mr. Holloway's motion to suspend the rules was defeated and the substitute resolution was sent to the Committee on Resolutions.

86. Paul Craven, First Church, Winston-Salem, spoke in favor of the original motion and moved the previous question. In a vote taken by standing, the motion for the previous question carried.

87. In a vote taken by standing, Mr. McEachern's motion for adoption of Resolution No. 2 carried (See No. 79.)

88. David C. Woodley, Soldier Bay Church, Brunswick Association, asked for a ballot vote on Resolution No. 2 since to him, the vote seemed very close.

89. The ruling of the chair on Resolution No. 2 was sustained in a vote taken by standing.

90. Cecil Merritt, Goldsboro, moved that the feasibility of changing the time of the annual session of the Baptist State Convention to a weekend to encourage greater participation by lay persons be studied and reported to the 1987 annual session by a committee of 12 appointed by the General Board to consist of six lay persons, three members of the General Board and three pastors at large. In a vote by standing, the motion lost.

91. With the president presiding, Mr. Hodge introduced Curtis Barbery, pastor, Beulah Church, Randolph Association, chairman of the Special Fruitland Study Committee, who presented its report which has been adopted by the General Board. (See Page No. 103.) 92. James Jarrard, Immanuel Church, Greensboro, read the Constitution and Bylaws changes that are necessary due to the General Board's adoption of the report of the Special Fruitland Study Committee, and moved adoption. The motion carried by a two-thirds majority in a vote taken by a show of hands.

Sitting at His feet is the posture of a learner, a student of the Kingdom. Martha was a deep believer but lost her composure. We, too, have lost our composure and have become fragmented. in Jesus. We need to be obedient to the Father and work in harmony with Him.

127. Mr. Hodge recognized Calvin Knight, Winston-Salem, director of church and community relations of the Baptist Hospital, who read the hospital's policy and procedure statement of Nov. 7, 1986 regarding therapeutic abortions:

I. Introduction

Since its opening day in 1923, The North Carolina Baptist Hospital has been dedicated to the relief of pain and to the saving of lives. This mission emerges from our Christian heritage which brought the hospital into existence.

In fulfilling this ministry, the Hospital and its medical staff face many complex situations. One of these is reconciling the provision of therapeutic abortions with the goal to preserve life.

In order to insure that the goals of this institution are maintained in the provision of therapeutic abortions, the following policy is established.

II. Policy

The North Carolina Baptist Hospital does not perform abortions except for therapeutic abortions when the life or health of an expectant mother is threatened by the pregnancy. Therapeutic abortions will be done only after medical screening and professional counseling have been provided. Follow-up counseling will be provided for patients who have therapeutic abortions.

III. Procedure

A. The Patient

- 1. The patient will be seen by the Department of Obstetrics/Gynecology for medical evaluation.
- 2. Patients whose condition meets the medical requirements for pregnancy termination shall be provided counseling by the Department of Pastoral Care or, at the request of the patient, by some other qualified counselor acceptable to the patient, the Department of Pastoral Care and the attending physician.

B. Physician

- 1. When the attending physician has determined that termination of pregnancy is medically advisable, the physician will explain to the patient the procedure, the risks involved and other appropriate medical information.
- 2. The physician will assist the patient in making an appointment with an appropriate counselor and will brief the counselor about the patient.

C. Chaplain/Counselor

- The counselor will assist the patient in understanding the physical and emotional effects of the procedure and will confer thereafter with the physician.
- 2. The patient will be provided adequate time to make an informed decision
- 3. After counseling with the patient, the counselor will discuss the patient with the physician before the procedure is undertaken.
- 4. Follow-up counseling will be provided.

D. Admission

A request for admission to the Hospital for abortion will be accompanied by the form which confirms, by signatures of the admitting physician and counselor, that the request conforms to this policy.

132. During miscellaneous business, Benny Sprouce, Jr., Evergreen Church, Columbus Association, moved that the convention go on record as affirming the action of the Baptist Hospital statement of policy on therapeutic abortions. In a voice vote, the motion carried.

133. Harrill Jones, Gastonia, asked questions which the chair ruled should be directed to the General Board.

134. On a point of personal privilege, Mr. Jones expressed concern about the Biblical Recorder. When his time had expired, the body voted two additional minutes. No action was required on his comments.

135. On a point of personal privilege, Dade Sherman, pastor, Benton Heights Church, Monroe, said he hoped that no Baptist would be denied the opportunity of speaking on the convention floor.

136. Hovis Allen, First Church, Hudson, expressed approval of press reports about the show of solidarity in the Wake Forest vote and his hope that messengers would go back to their churches and report that this has been a great convention and that the Southern Baptist Convention ought to follow this example.

137. Peter Gilliland, pastor of Church of God's Glory, Rocky Mount, asked that the rules be suspended for consideration of a resolution dealing with "our relationship with our black brothers and sisters."

138. Harry Smith, First Church, Eden, moved that the rules be suspended. In a vote taken by standing, the motion did not get a two-thirds majority required for suspension of rules.

139. Mr. Gilliland moved that at next year's convention, the Resolutions Committee be instructed to provide a time for hearing those who submit resolutions for consideration. The motion carried.

140. Steve Sells, Greensboro, moved that the convention instruct the trustees of the N.C. Baptist Hospital, because of the controversial nature of the issue of abortions, to instruct the physicians in the hospital to cease all abortions and refer anyone who would like to have an abortion to another hospital.

141. Tim Horldt, pastor, First Church, Valdese, on a point of order, asked if the convention had not just affirmed the trustee's action. (See

No. 132.)

142. The chair ruled that since the convention had just voted on this issue, the motion will be referred to the trustees of the hospital.

143. On a point of personal privilege, R. G. Puckett, editor of the Biblical Recorder, responded to remarks made by Mr. Jones (See Nos.

144. Charles Allard, chairman of the Program/Place and Preacher Committee, moved that the preacher for the 1987 convention be Don Bouldin, Carmel Church, Charlotte, with Joe Brown, Hickory Grove Church, Charlotte, alternate. The place for the convention will be decided by the General Board. The motion carried.

145. With the president presiding, the spouses of the president, first and second vice-presidents and the executive director were recognized.

146. Mr. Gatwood led the assembly in singing.

147. Charles D. Page, pastor, First Church, Nashville, Tenn., preached the closing sermon with the convention theme as his subject and scripture, Acts 2:41; 4:32-34:

Sharing the dream demands the power of Pentecost. There are some prerequisites to Pentecost: (1) Prayer. There is power in prayer. Prayer works but it is work. Barriers can be broken down through prayer. (2) Filled with the Spirit—God in us. God's Spirit is one of unity and power. We need to be filled with His Spirit. (3) Be a witness—Christ's commission is a serious one. We need to take Jesus seriously. Go tell of His power to save. (4) Look for Jesus' return. We need to be expectant. We need to be obedient and faithful. We need to be prepared for His coming. We need to get a lost world ready for His coming. God has His hands on Southern Baptists. God wants to work His miracles of Pentecost again through them. Will we let Him through our obedience and faithful ministry for His cause? God help us.

148. John E. Lawrence, Winston-Salem, retired pastor, Forest Hills Church, Raleigh, and past president of the convention, gave the benediction.

Introduction To Wake Forest University Proposed Relationship

By James Langford, pastor, First Church, Ahoskie; president, Council on Christian Higher Education

Mr. President and Fellow Messengers:

154 years ago last August during the annual session of the Baptist State Convention held at Tick's Creek Meeting House (now Rives Chapel) in Chatham County, the idea of a Baptist school we now call Wake Forest University was conceived. One and a half years later in February, 1834 it became a reality with the historic founding of our oldest North Carolina Baptist college.

Through these 152 years the relationship between Wake Forest University and the Baptist State Convention has grown and been nurtured by a healthy respect for each other. That relationship has taken different forms not the least of which has been a covenant relationship entered into between Wake Forest and the Convention in

This morning the annual session of the BSC is being asked to consider a new relationship—a voluntary and fraternal relationship with Wake Forest. The word, fraternal, signifies cooperation, love and care that comes from the closeness of family and the commitment coming from those ties.

Under a fraternal relationship:

1. Wake Forest will be autonomous and elect all of its trustees beginning with the January, 1987 class.

2. Effective January 1, 1987 it will no longer receive any Cooperative Program funds (although each Baptist Church may designate gifts to the University).

3. Wake Forest would continue its friendly relations with other Baptist colleges through a non-voting membership on the Council on Christian Higher Education. The University has also expressed a desire to continue its present Baptist programs and maintain fidelity to its Baptist heritage.

This recommendation has been thoroughly discussed by both Convention and University representatives. It comes to you with the endorsement of the General Board, its Executive Committee and the Council on Christian Higher Education.

Mr. President, with this brief background in mind, I move the following substitute for Article 14 of our constitution:

A Proposal For a New Relationship Between the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and Wake Forest University

The Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and Wake Forest University have had a strong and generous relationship since the school was founded in 1834. During these 152 years of partnership in missions and Christian education, the form of the relationship has been altered from time to time. Such changes were the result of study, deliberation and prayer by men and women of good intentions.

On several occasions the Convention called upon Wake Forest to develop programs and move toward the achievement of university status. Responding to the Convention's mandate and the desires of the trustees and administration of Wake Forest University, university status was established in 1967. The steady development of Wake Forest as an educational institution with a broadening reputation for excellence and quality was a natural consequence of the move to become a university.

In 1980 a new Covenant Relationship was entered. The University, with Convention approval, broadened representation on its board of trustees to include up to one-third of the Board from beyond the borders of the state and from churches other than Baptist. At the same time, budgeted monetary support from the Convention to Wake Forest ended, with voluntary Cooperative Program funds from churches continuing. In the years of the Covenant the relationship between the Convention and the University has been remarkably fruitful. In that time Wake Forest has increased its services to North Carolina Baptists, maintained the essence of its traditions, freely proclaimed its Baptist heritage, and had the benefits of participation in programs of the Convention.

As a result of its University status Wake Forest has necessarily broadened its areas of service. Without abandoning those it has traditionally served, it has come to serve Baptists, and others, in a broader geographical range. Its Board of Trustees has resolved to maintain its fundamental principles, to be an outstanding Baptist University of service to the nation, to maintain a relationship to the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and to maintain services to the Baptists of North Carolina.

The Convention has during these same years developed a broad range of missions, including many educational activities beyond those which existed when Wake Forest was founded. While the Convention provided substantial monetary assistance to Wake Forest until 1979 (and many churches have provided voluntary assistance since then), over the years the contribution of the Convention to Wake Forest's development and nurture has been perhaps even greater in other areas. The Convention's financial resources can now be turned more directly to other missions. At the same time, Baptist beliefs and traditions, and a relationship with the Convention which provides an opportunity for sharing in those beliefs and traditions, will continue to give Wake Forest University a unique perspective and unique opportunities in Christian higher education. This is a fraternal relationship which the Convention will fully and willingly share with Wake Forest.

ELEMENTS OF A NEW RELATIONSHIP

During their months of negotiations, it became clear to the two covenant committees that a new proposal was called for, one that would clarify the disputed issues, provide for the welfare and future of Wake Forest University, eliminate any misunderstandings which have developed between the two groups, and allow a friendly relationship to continue out of 152 years of common history. The essence of the recommendations now under consideration is: The Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and Wake Forest University shall have a fraternal, voluntary relationship under which Wake Forest University is autonomous in governance. The Board of Trustees of Wake Forest University shall be elected by that Board in accordance with such procedures as that Board may prescribe. Wake Forest University shall not share in the distribution of any Cooperative Program funds. The president, dean and trustee chairperson of Wake Forest University shall be non-voting associate members of the Council on Christian Higher Education.

The University has declared its intent to honor its Baptist heritage. Baptist and other Christian programs will remain and will be promoted and funded by the University. Under this new relationship, the University will be separated from Cooperative Program dollars; the Convention will be separated from trustee election; the University and the Convention will affirm and declare a fraternal and voluntary relationship as a substitute for the Covenant Relationship, and in lieu of all other ties which have previously existed; and an associate relationship with other institutions of Christian higher education will be nurtured and maintained through the Council on Christian Higher Education.

In order to implement the proposed new relationship, the following language is recommended as a substitute for Article XIV of the Convention's Constitution:

Article XIV. The Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and Wake Forest University shall have a fraternal, voluntary relationship under which Wake Forest University is autonomous in governance. In order to facilitate that relationship, the University will have associate, non-voting membership on the Council on Christian Higher Education, and will be represented by the same officers as schools which are members of the Council. The Board of Trustees of Wake Forest University shall be elected by that Board in accordance with such procedures as that Board may prescribe. Wake Forest University shall not share in the distribution of Cooperative Program Funds.

The covenant committees believe the time has come for such a change in the relationship between the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and Wake Forest University. In that relationship there is opportunity for the Convention and for the University.

Fruitland Bible Institute Study Committee

By Curtis Barbery, pastor Beulah Church, Bennett; Chairman, Fruitland Study Committee

I. Forward

In Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute, North Carolina Baptists have a unique institution of great value to our denomination. Fruitland has been an essential link in the chain that has provided educational opportunities for persons fulfilling their call to Christian ministry. The influence of the school can be measured by the number of students and graduates who are now serving Southern Baptist churches. For many of the graduates, Fruitland has become an open door through which they entered into higher levels of education and Christian training. The high level of respect for the school is seen in the number of colleges and universities which accept earned hours at Fruitland toward an undergraduate degree.

The Study Committee strongly recommends that Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute continue to serve North Carolina Baptists as a special education institution and that its purpose not be altered. In its deliberations, the Committee has surfaced no interest in modifying or changing the unique function of the school. From convention administration, Fruitland faculty and staff, and Fruitland Alumni have come a firm resolve that the school continue to provide educational opportunities to persons who for one reason or another could not attend college or some institution of higher education. The Study Committee is of the opinion that North Carolina Baptists will always need an institution like Fruitland. We should give due credit to our denominational leadership and other dedicated persons whose wisdom and foresight envisioned the commitments necessary to make Fruitland the school it is today.

The Study Committee acknowledges there have been times of tension and misunderstanding between the Fruitland family and the State Convention. Dating back to the 1950's, there were concerns expressed to the effect that Fruitland should be given the opportunity for determining its own future under the supervision of a Board of Trustees. The tensions between the school and the convention were

While many of these misunderstandings can be traced to communication difficulties, it is the opinion of the Study Committee that structural problems in the Convention's operation of Fruitland have contributed to the tensions. The unclear ground between the Fruitland advisory committee and the Fruitland administration has often confused a clear line of authority for the operation of the school. Due to the nature of Fruitland's origin and purpose, this structural difficulty was inevitable in the light of the school's growth and development.

The Study Committee feels it is time for the Convention to put in place a governing structure that will both administer the operation of Fruitland and contribute to its growth and progress. It is the strong conviction of our Committee that Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute has a tremendous role to play in the work of North Carolina Baptists as we seek to fulfill Christ's mission for our denomination.

11. The Recommendations of the Study Committee

The Study Committee recommends that Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute become an agency of the General Board of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and be operated by a Board of Directors consisting of twelve members who shall serve four-year terms. One-third of the directors shall be Fruitland Alumni who may or may not be members of the General Board. One-third of the directors shall be persons who are presently on the General Board; and one-third shall be at-large members who are not presently serving on the General Board. Three of the directors shall be elected each year at the January meeting of the General Board. The Chairman of the General Board and the Executive Director-Treasurer shall be ex officio non-voting members of the Board of Directors.

The President of the General Board during its September meeting shall appoint three members of the Executive Committee to serve as the Nominating Committee for the purpose of suggesting nominees for the January election. Vacancies on the Board of Directors shall be filled by election from nominees suggested by the Nominating Committee of the General Board.

If the report of the Study Committee is adopted by this Convention the President of the General Board in the December meeting of the Executive Committee shall instruct the Nominating Committee to bring the names of twelve nominees to the January, 1987 meeting of the General Board. At the first election by the General Board, three of the Board of Directors shall be elected for one year, three for two years, three for three years, and three for four years. The date of expiration of a director's tenure shall be at the conclusion of the January General Board Meeting.

The Fruitland Study Committee recommends the following suggestions for consideration:

1. Under Article VIII of the Constitution entitled "The General Board," the Committee recommends there be added an additional paragraph specifying Fruitland as an agency of the General Board and describing the unique purpose of the Institute.

2. Under Article IV of the Bylaws entitled "The General Board," the Committee recommends that Fruitland Advisory Committee be deleted and that the agency status of Fruitland be specified along with the responsibilities and guidelines for the operation of the school by the Board of Directors.

3. The Board of Directors shall meet in conjunction with the stated meetings of the General Board and at other times as required to administer the work of the Institute.

4. The Board of Directors shall be responsible to the General Board and ultimately to the Convention for the operation of Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute and shall report annually to the September meeting of the General Board. A synopsis of this report shall be given by the General Board to the annual meeting of the Convention.

5. The Board of Directors shall operate Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute in accordance with Baptist principles and any major change or alteration of the purpose of Fruitland shall require approval by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina upon recommendation of the General Board.

6. The transition of the operation of Fruitland from the supervision of the Missions Committee to that of agency status is conceived of as being a gradual process so as to prevent financial hardship on the Institute. For the foreseeable future, it is envisioned that Fruitland will continue to use the resources of the Baptist State Convention as a conduit for financial services.

7. All properties of Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute shall remain in the trusteeship of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and no debt shall be incurred without the approval of the General Board.

8. The Board of Directors shall be accountable to the General Board for the fiscal operation of Fruitland and shall make periodic financial report to the same including annual audits.

9. The Board of Directors shall be free to secure endowment funds for Fruitland's future according to the general policies for fundraising established by the Convention for all agencies and institutions.

10. The Board of Directors shall be responsible for all administrative and policy-making decisions of the Institute including the creation and supervision of an annual budget. For the employment or dismissal of a President of the Institute, the Board of Directors shall recommend action to the General Board. In turn, the President of the Institute shall recommend all other personnel subject to approval by the Board of Directors. Recommendations and suggestions from the faculty and administration shall be given high priority with ultimate decisionmaking authority residing with the Board of Directors.

11. If for any reason a member of the Board of Directors shall cease to be a member of a church cooperating with the Convention or shall remove residence from the State, membership on the Board of Directors shall be thereby terminated. A member whose General Board membership is terminated due to a relocation within the State may continue his membership on the Board of Directors until his term expires.

12. No person shall serve on the Board of Directors who at the same time is employed, either partially or fully, by Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute or by any other agency or institution of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina.

13. For the purpose of long-range planning and development of Fruitland, the Study Committee recommends that the General Board through its Budget Committee give financial guidelines for the projected funding of Fruitland. It is understood that these financial parameters will not be binding on the Convention.

14. The Board of Directors shall provide appropriate orientation for all new members.

III. Conclusion

The Fruitland Study Committee recognizes the transitional nature of these proposed changes in the operation of Fruitland. Both Convention leadership and the Fruitland faculty and administration will need to function in a supportive role as the Board of Directors establish guidlines and administrative procedures for the operation of the school.

While we believe that these proposed changes will greatly enhance the ministry of Fruitland, the Study Committee recognizes that Fruitland's future depends upon a healthy relationship with the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. This relationship will be strengthened as Fruitland is given more prominence at annual meetings of the Convention and in available avenues for informing North Carolina Baptists. The success of the Board of Directors in the operation of Fruitland cannot be achieved apart from the financial and prayer support of all our people. The present moment calls for a time of thanksgiving for the many contributions of Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute and a firm resolve to work together for an even greater future of service to the Kingdom of God.

Two Resolutions to Borrow Proposed

The constitution of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina provides that "notice of any and all contemplated borrowings (by convention institutions and agencies) shall appear in the Biblical Recorder in three separate issues in advance of the meeting of the convention during which it is proposed that action be taken."

Hence, the following resolutions are published in advance of the November meeting of the state convention:

Resolution to Borrow $9,000,000 Baptist Retirement Homes, Inc.

WHEREAS, the need has developed to provide a new, full-care facility for older adults in the Winston-Salem area; and

WHEREAS, the Baptist Retirement Homes, Inc. of North Carolina, headquartered in Winston-Salem since 1951, has demonstrated a desire and ability to provide a full-care facility for older adults in this area; and

WHEREAS the Baptist people of North Carolina continue to express greater interest in expanding services and ministries to older adults in the state—the fastest growing segment of the population: Therefore be it

RESOLVED, that the Baptist Retirement Homes, Inc. of North Carolina be authorized to borrow up to $9,000,000 for the construction of a congregate care facility in the Winston-Salem area;

RESOLVED FURTHER, that the loan be repaid over a period of 15 years at the best market rate of interest from monies derived from operation of facilities, special gifts and other sources.

FINALLY, be it resolved that authorization for the loan be contingent upon a satisfactory report from the Baptist Retirement Homes, Inc. detailing plans for debt repayment of the loan. And that such plans be presented to the Executive Committee at its January 1987 meeting.

Resolution to Borrow $2,000,000 Baptist State Convention

WHEREAS, the need has developed to use the North Carolina Baptist Assembly property for more than a summer youth camp; and WHEREAS, there is a need for an adult facility on the North Carolina

Baptist Assembly grounds; and

WHEREAS, there is a need for additional classrooms to accommodate summer assembly and conference groups: Therefore be it

RESOLVED, that the Baptist State Convention authorize the General Secretary-Treasurer to borrow up to $2,000,000; and be it

RESOLVED further, that these funds be used for the purpose of constructing a three-story 33,000 square foot "self-contained" adult facility at North Carolina Baptist Assembly that will house 33 bedrooms, four bedroom suites, one efficiency apartment, five classrooms, a dining room to accommodate 200 people, and a large porch; and be it

RESOLVED further, that these funds also be used to construct two 8,400 square foot classroom buildings that will house 16 classrooms each, and be it

RESOLVED further, that authorization be granted to secure the services of an architect to complete the working drawings of the Conference Center and classroom buildings for Caswell, and be it

RESOLVED further, that: First, $318,000 per year be desginated from convention funds for debt amortization from 1987-1996, and secondly, up to half the generated income surplus at Caswell go toward debt retirement.

Partners in Wholeness

Partners in Wholeness, the North Carolina-Togo Partnership is now completing its third year of operation. Changes are taking place in the Moretan region of Togo—and in the lives of North Carolina volunteers who have given of themselves in that small, West African land.

Since early 1984, North Carolina Baptists, working side-by-side with Togolese Baptists and our missionaries in Togo, have seen many results:

• Fifty-five wells have been completed. They provide clean, pure water in many villages where water has not previously been available at all. Forty-eight manually operated pumps, built in Togo, have been installed.

 Seven catchment ponds are completed. These will provide water for animals and crops during dry periods and will make the area more "drought-resistant." Surveying has been completed for several others.

• A 210-foot long bridge has been completed over the Mono River. One of the most significant projects ever undertaken by Baptist volunteers, the bridge will give year-round access to the entire Moretan area, which has previously been cut off from the rest of Togo during the six-month annual rainy season.

A pharmacy is under construction. When it is completed, the Togolese government will provide a pharmacist for it.

• Health lessons are being taught on several topics, including the importance of pure water; family planning; oral rehydration to combat the effects of diarrhea; and diseases, such as malaria. After the Partnership is over, the camp where volunteers are now housed will become a community learning center for the teaching of these and other subjects.

• Since Baptists started working in the Moretan area, in August 1983, there have been more than 700 baptisms. There are fifteen new churches (groups of baptized believers) and fifteen preaching points (groups of professing Christians who are awaiting baptism). All new Christians go through lengthy discipleship training classes before being baptized.

Almost 200 North Carolina Baptists have been to Togo to work in the project. Their assignments have been as brief as two weeks and as long as two and a half years. Several volunteers have returned for a second work period.

The North Carolina-Togo Partnership will continue through the middle of 1987. Volunteers are still needed for the first six months of the year. These volunteer needs include carpenters, dozer operators, tractor operators, cooks, nurses, and discipleship teachers.

Two career missionary families have moved to Moretan and are living in houses built by North Carolina volunteers. Through the Ethredges and the Keys and the hundreds of new Christians, the ministry and mission of Baptists will continue long after the Partnership concludes.

NC/Togo Partnership Steering Committee

Minister Support

Almost with the beginning of 1986, efforts at correlating various kinds of support for ministers being undertaken by the Baptist State Convention were begun. Retirement Planning, (relating to the Southern Baptist Convention Annuity Board plans for retirement and insurance), Church/Minister Relations, and a renewed focus on programs and opportunities for training and fellowship provided for ministers by the Baptist State Convention were combined into the work of the Administrative Associate for Minister Support.

Retirement Planning received a great deal of attention during the first part of the year, since Bob Bruhn was still to be involved in Church/Minister Relations through August 31, 1986. Some 2,072 churches and associations are involved in Annuity Board Plans in North Carolina. That is only 58 percent of the churches relating to the Baptist State Convention, a shockingly low percentage of churches protecting their minister's—and their own—futures. Beyond that, the average annuitant in North Carolina receives only $148 per month. Both of these figures point out the need for active promotion of the Expanded Church Annuity Plan.

During the year, Annuity Board personnel helped in numerous conferences to share needs and the basic facts relating to the Expanded Church Annuity Plan. More than 40 associations and some 20 churches have signed the cooperative agreement, although the actual promotion only begins in October of this year, and will continue through December 31, 1987.

The Annuity Board achieved unprecedented growth in 1985. Total assets managed by the board as of December 31, 1985, were $1,689,798,415, an increase of more than $250 million over the December 31, 1984 total of $1,430,966,415. The Annuity Board paid $24,783,549 in benefits to 16,145 annuitants during the first two quarters of 1986.

The number of new retirement applications received in the program from North Carolina during the first six months was 13. The following Baptist agencies participate in the retirement program:

Baptist State Convention of North Carolina

Biblical Recorder

North Carolina Baptist Foundation

Baptist Children's Home of North Carolina

Wake Forest University

Campbell University

Chowan College

Gardner-Webb College

Meredith College

Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina

Consultants will be trained and provided to promote the improved opportunity in retirement planning for ministers which begins January 1, 1988. This is an important effort to "minister to our ministers" and help them plan for this aspect of the future. There is a great deal of agony, frustration, and even anger, over our lack of doing more about this in the past.

The Baptist State Convention voted last year to set up the Minister's Emergency Assistance Fund of $25,000 for the purpose of providing temporary help for ministers who had been terminated. Perhaps this affirmation of ministers was as significant as anything that happened at the 1985 Convention. From April through August of this year, eight ministers have been helped with an expenditure of $10,800. Two other applications are on file. A committee has been chosen to help in the administration of this fund: Charles McMillian, director of missions, Crate Jones, pastor, and Cecil Faulkner, layman. Guidelines provide for the expenditure of up to $100 a week for 13 weeks, and insurance coverage for the minister and his family for a period of three months. When one considers a 1984 Southern Baptist Convention study showing an average of 88 terminations per month, it becomes apparent there is a great ministry to be done in this area.

James M. Lambert, administrative associate

Pastor/Church Relations

Pastor/Church Relations provides basic, factual informational services for pastors and churches. As churches lose a pastor by retirement or call to another church, guidance and assistance are offered in the search for a new pastor. Pastors coming to a completion of their present field of service are shared with available Pastor Search Committees.

Associational Correlation

In 1986, this department worked in partnership with 30 directors of missions providing literature, availability, and current data on Southern Baptist pastors and staff.

General Board Report/117

Crisis Ministry

Ministry is a part of life and faces the emergencies and difficulties of broken relationships. Pastors and church staff hurt and cry and need a friend. Fifty crisis situations were ministered through this office.

Support Ministry

All human beings need support and affirmation, particularly those who may be recently retired, suddenly fired, or soon-to-begin servants of Christ. In the past year, 290 support/affirmation opportunities were provided by Pastor/Church Relations.

Ministerial Students

Southern Baptist seminaries are leading the world in currently preparing and equipping 13,000 ministerial students. The office of Pastor/Church Relations assisted ministerial students from all seminaries in their beginning pilgrimage of ministry.

Career Guidance

The office aided 120 ministers and staff personnel in their desire to retool, restructure, and reorganize their skills in outreach ministry.

Pastor Search Committees

This year, 250 pastor and church staff search committees were assisted as they began their search. Many of these were in-the-field training sessions and other conferences.

This concludes 22 years of ministry by Bob Bruhn and begins the new area of Minister Support with Jim Lambert

Robert Bruhn, director

Business Management

This has been a good year in the Business Division. Receipts have been sufficient to meet budget needs. Funds for Foreign Missions, Home Missions and gifts to missions (including Homes and Hospital) within North Carolina are greater than last year's.

The Convention's indebtedness is being reduced at a very good rate (no outstanding notes).

There are a few changes in personnel. Mrs. Rena Harrod retired after 15 years as a bookkeeper. Mrs. Doris Curtis has been employed as a bookkeeper.

118/Baptist State Convention

Attendance has been excellent at Caswell and Caraway. The boy's camp at Caswell is beautiful and very useful. The Capital Funds Campaign is moving along at a very good pace.

Richard D. Smith, director

Data Processing

The Data Processing Department continues to maintain church information such as staff positions, receipts, and statistical information. Along with the information on churches and Convention data, Data Processing supports all personal computers and software packages used in the building.

Caraway Conference Center and Camp

The site, shared with Mundo Vista, consists of 1100 acres, most of which was purchased in 1962 for $62,000. The site is the third largest land holding in Randolph County. The facilities consist of the camp with 250-bed capacity, and the Conference Center with 84 bedrooms and supporting facilities. Approximately 650 groups consisting of approximately 25,000 people will use the facilities during the year. Priority improvements include additional winterized cabins in the youth camp, and rooms with connecting halls around the auditorium of the Conference Center.

Bill lackson, director

North Carolina Baptist Assembly at Fort Caswell

The renovation and redevelopment of the Assembly continues to move ahead. Five more buildings were renovated during 1986, bringing the total of renovated resident facilities to ten. Again, much of the labor was provided by the Baptist Men.

One new cottage was built during the spring of 1986, named for Dr. Richard K. Redwine, first director of the Assembly. Plans for a new conference center and classroom buildings are being drawn.

Plans are to continue the renovation with Ft. Caswell Hotel, Driftwood Hotel, Yucca, Residence 21 and Residence 22 as the next projects for the coming years.

Attendance during 1985 and 1986 have been excellent. Youth weeks continue to draw the largest numbers but most programs have experienced growth and excellent results. During the summer of 1985 over 1,000 young people made decisions for Christ during Youth Week commitment services.

Richard Holbrook, director

Church Programs

The Division of Church Programs is composed of eight programs of work: Church Building Planning, Church Music, Church Training, Sunday School, Woman's Missionary Union (WMU), Church Administration, Weekday Early Education and Church Library (Media). These eight areas of work are organized into five departments. (Church Administration is a part of the Division Director's job description.)

The Division of Church Programs assists individuals in their effort to point people to God through Jesus Christ. This aid is offered to churches, associations, and institutions for the purpose of Christian education and leadership development—"Sharing The Dream." The number of field engagements for all of Church Programs surpassed all previous years.

"Sharing The Dream" challenges the departments within the Division of Church Programs. The five-year goals for 1985-1990 continue to constitute the very heartbeat of interest and activity. These goals are Reaching People, Developing Believers and Strengthening Missions. Program directors have been ably assisted by a great host of special and approved workers throughout the state.

May 12-14, 1986 associational key leaders were invited to Ridgecrest Conference Center for update training. Each area of work within the Division and the convention is responsible for directing the training of their particular counterparts from each association. This has proven to be a very helpful time for both state convention and associational leadership. "Sharing The Dream" was the theme emphasis for 1986.

Pina Maynard's retirement from the WMU Department as Administrative Assistant resulted in three other changes within that department. Kay Bissette filled the position of Administrative Assistant, Belle Wilson filled the position of Secretary/Receptionist, and Violet Matthews filled the position of Part-time Secretary.

Mrs. Ruth Prince retired from her position of Part-time Assistant Field Consultant in Growth in the Church Training Department. Linda Woodall replaced Doris Curtis as Part-time Secretary.

Burrell F. Lucas, director

Church Administration (Pastoral Ministries)

The objective of Church Administration (Pastoral Ministries) is to aid ministers in their personal and professional growth. This is achieved through personal growth seminars and career development seminars. Training for deacons is also offered by the Church Administration Department.

Field engagements in the area of Church Administration included pastors' conferences, training opportunities for pastors, deacons' workshops and retreats, and orientation for new ministers in our state.

Training opportunities were offered to pastors through the Minister Care Team. This training included conferences in "Understanding Self—Leading Others," "Caring, Calling Ministry," "Developing Skills for Working With Others," "Building A Staff Team," and others. Each of these conferences was related to ministers' current needs.

Burrell F. Lucas, director

Church Building Planning

The Church Building Planning Department renders personal and individualized service to every church within the Baptist State Convention and General Baptist Convention of North Carolina, as they call for assistance in the planning and maintenance of church buildings and the development of "Challenge to Build" programs.

1985-86 has been a year of expansion through service for the department. Calls for assistance exceeded 500 churches, with over 350 visits to church sites and more than 25 initial presentations of the "Challenge to Build" capital funds program. Office personnel has assisted more than 200 churches by mailing literature on furnishings, buildings, capital funding, church bonds programs, and information on architects and other professionals.

The work of the Church Building Planning Department director and staff is governed by the requests of local congregations. The department determines the level of participation, experience and potential of each church, and makes available options and instruments that will lead to appropriate decisions.

The Convention theme for 1986-90, "Touching Lives—Growing Churches," is a natural for the Department. New persons come in contact with the offices almost every day, with an effort made to help them touch lives for spiritual growth through better facilities. New churches have received particular attention, in cooperation with Brotherhood and Church Extension departments, through the offering of working drawings that may be built with volunteer teams.

Robert L. Clegg, director

Church Music

The Church Music Department assists associational and local church leaders in establishing and strengthening music programs that seek to use music as a vehicle to share the Gospel. An effective music program continually seeks to discover and develop God-given talent, train leaders, educate members of music groups, inspire and challenge the congregation and, through it all, to bear witness of God's "amazing grace."

The year has been an exciting and rewarding one for the Music Department. Highlights of the year include:

• The training of approved workers and regional directors in a two-day conference at Caraway, led by Mancil Ezell, Baptist Sunday School Board.

• A two-day worship seminar, Caraway, for pastors and ministers of music, led by Bruce Leafblad, Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

- Festivals: Two youth handbell, two adult handbell, youth choral, senior adult choral (the first such festival for North Carolina), and instrumental.
- Concerts by Singing Churchmen and Women in Morganton, Mount Airy, Lumberton, Campbell University and Kings Mountain. Through love offerings received at these concerts, a piano was purchased for use at Caraway Conference Center. The two groups also presented concerts for the WMU Convention (100th anniversary), for the opening session of the second Church Music Leadership Conference at Ridgecrest, and for the annual sessions of the Baptist State Convention. The Churchmen also presented a concert in Atlanta for the Southern Baptist Church Music Conference.

• North Carolina Baptist Music Conference at Caraway.

Key Leadership Conference at Ridgecrest with special guest LeRoy

McClard, Baptist Sunday School Board.

• Summer Camps: Children's choir camps at North Carolina Baptist Assembly (Caswell) and Mars Hill College, Youth Music Week at Camp Truett, and Youth/Adult Music Conference at Caswell. A small church music conference for part-time music leaders was held at Caswell concurrent with the Children's Choir Camp (the first such summer conference sponsored by the Department).

Music LeaderShops led by approved workers in eight locations.

- Volunteer music directors' retreats at Caraway with special guests Paul and Collis Charlton, music missionaries to Brazil. The Charltons also served as faculty for the North Carolina Baptist Music Conference and the Youth/Adult Music Conference.
- The department director and associate led the three-day Musicians on Mission Workshop, Baltimore. (They, and five other North Carolina music leaders, participated in a four-day missions project in local churches in Maryland and Delaware following the workshop.)

• Churches responded well to the small church schools program and to associational projects.

• The department director and associate conducted choral workshops and other conferences and led music in six Good News, America revivals. They also presented concerts in Morganton, West lefferson, and Greensboro and were joined by Allen Brown, Baptist General Association of Virginia, in three concerts in Virginia and three in North Carolina.

• The department director led the music for the drama of the WMU Convention and assisted in four reading clinics, sponsored by Baptist Book Stores in North Carolina.

 The associate led a weekend workshop/PraiSing in Illinois as a follow-up to the Chicago Mega Focus, sponsored jointly by the Baptist Sunday School Board and the Church Music Departments of the Illinois and North Carolina conventions.

The work of the department staff is multiplied through the effective support of faithful regional directors, approved workers, associational directors and a corps of other dedicated leaders who assist in a variety of ways.

Charles Gatwood, director

Church Training

The Church Training Department assists associational and local church leaders in equipping God's people for bold growth in discipleship through its emphasis upon Continuing Training, Short Term Training, and Leader Training.

During the past year, assistance was given to leaders through the following projects and activities:

 Church Training Enabler Conferences at Caraway and Fruitland where associational Church Training leadership from 52 associations received in-depth training and update in leadership techniques, methods, and materials. 240 associational leaders participated.

• Five associational Church Training workshops for training local church leaders.

 Approximately 40 programs of work were begun in various associations as a result of the work of Ruth Prince, Church Training Growth Consultant, and other associational leaders.

• A "Mini-Assembly" for local Church Training leadership was held in August at Caraway.

• 12 area "Doctrine of Laity" leadership seminars were held at Sylva, Charlotte, Lumberton, Asheville, Greensboro, Ahoskie, Hickory, Raleigh, Kinston, as well as Wingate, Campbell, and Gardner-Webb colleges.

was provided new religious educators.

- The department co-sponsored with the Baptist Sunday School Board a MasterLife Seminar at Caraway, reaching 82 pastors and church leaders.
- The department staff participated in eleven associational "M" Nights in 1986.

Church Training work was presented at seven Pastors'

Conferences.

 Area DiscipleLife Workshops were held in Gastonia, Mount Airy, and Raleigh.

Church Training staff interpreted MasterLife in three associations.

• A Church Training Growth Strategy meeting was held at the Baptist Building with leaders from Eastern North Carolina.

• The Church Training staff taught a course entitled "Christian Initiation and Discipleship Development" at Southeastern Seminary during the 1986 fall semester.

• The Church Training staff has held numerous individual and small group consultations in associations and churches across the state.

• In cooperation with the Evangelism Division and the "Good News Revivals," the department conducted nine New Church Member Training Seminars in various parts of the state.

Maurice Cooper, director

Sunday School

The Sunday School Department assists associations and churches plan, develop, promote and conduct growth projects and leadership training events related to "Reaching, Teaching, Witnessing, Winning and Developing." Special assignments include Vacation Bible School, Church Weekday Education, Library/Media, and Baptist TelNet information.

During the past year, assistance was given through the following projects and activities:

- State Library/Media conferences were conducted in which 132 local church media workers participated. Also, during Key Leadership associational Library/Media workers were trained to assist churches in their associations.
 - Three area-wide Church Weekday Education workshops were conducted with 205 participants from 14 associations.

• Fifty-two weekly 30-minute television programs were produced teaching the International Sunday School Lesson and made available to cable vision stations, hospitals for general telecast, and to several churches for use in Weekly Workers' Meetings.

• More than a dozen video tapes for use in Sunday School worker training were purchased and made available for loan through the Communications Library.

• To give special attention to small churches, a Small Church brainstorming group was formed, with its first meeting in July at Fruitland.

• The Sunday School Department staff served on the faculty during summer Sunday School conferences at Ridgecrest and assisted several other states with various training conferences.

Robert Stewart, director

Woman's Missionary Union

The work of Woman's Missionary Union (WMU) of North Carolina is conducted by 141,545 members of 10,568 organizations of Mission Friends, Girls in Action, Acteens, Baptist Young Women, Young Baptist Women, and Baptist Women.

These organizations seek to teach the Southern Baptist mission program, lead women into an active ministry of prayer and financial support of missions, and help them become more involved in missions in their own communities.

The state work is administered by an Executive Board, comprised of the officers—Dot Allred (Mrs. Hoyle), Gastonia, president; Ann Smith (Mrs. Sanford), Greensboro, first vice-president; Donice Harrod (Mrs. J. D.), High Point, second vice-president; Mary Stancil (Mrs. Alfred), Rocky Mount, recording secretary; Shannon Wyrick (Mrs. Robert), Greensboro, assistant recording secretary; age-level chairmen, and 15 members-at-large from the 10 state regions. The state staff consists of five field workers, four office staff persons, a camping consultant and camp resident manager. The work of the staff is greatly enhanced by volunteer approved workers and specialists. One person, Pat Ritchie, resigned from the field staff in 1985 to join the national WMU staff in Birmingham.

A Special Year

This year, 1986, was the Centennial year for North Carolina WMU. A special committee, chaired by Bernice Cross (Mrs. Gilmer) of Lexington, led in planning many special events for churches and associations which commemorated the significant year. Many thousands of people participated in a special One Hundred Days of Prayer, a churchwide birthday party on January 8, 1986, and other events and activities which not only focused on the past but served as a challenge for the future.

128/Baptist State Convention

The Centennial Celebration was highlighted by the state Annual Meeting held at the Civic Center in Raleigh on April 17-19. Three thousand fifty-six registrants attended this meeting which pointed them from the past to the present and future of mission involvement in this state and around the world.

A drama, written by Carolyn Robinson, Raleigh, and produced by Saralyn Collins, Greensboro, depicted much of the history of WMU and was a special event of the meeting.

Teach Missions

Believing that this task is foundational to all mission work, a large portion of the effort, events, and budgeted funds of Woman's Missionary Union are spent in this regard. State Woman's Missionary Union sponsored meetings for training, including Associational Leader Training (attended by 677 women from 74 associations); events for leaders of Acteens, Girls in Action and Mission Friends (enrolled 260); and missions events for members. (1800 registered).

Teaching missions at Camp Mundo Vista is a vital method of missions education. 1586 Girls in Action and 283 Acteens attended Mundo Vista in 1986. In addition, special events at Mundo Vista for Mothers and Daughters reached 696.

Support Missions

Woman's Missionary Union encourages every church to be involved in the Weeks of Prayer for Foreign Missions and Home Missions, State Missions, and the related offerings. In addition, WMU strongly supported the Baptist Women's World Day of Prayer and the Homes and Hospital emphasis and offering.

The 240 missionaries from North Carolina currently serving are supported continually through prayer. They are given a gift each Christmas as a tangible reminder of that support. Also, each newly appointed missionary from North Carolina is given $250 at the time of appointment to help provide necessities for the mission field. Missionary Journeymen and US-2 missionaries receive $75. The names of MKs (Missionary Kids) are published in each issue of Tarheel Talk, and, thus, are prayed for and receive cards and gifts on their birthdays.

Engage in Mission Action and Personal Witnessing

Woman's Missionary Union members were encouraged to participate fully in the Good News America Crusades. Specific involvement included witnessing training for women and youth as provided in special WMU materials. The effort was also supported by many prayer groups, retreats, and other prayer efforts.

Thousands of members of WMU in hundreds of North Carolina churches cooperate in providing Christmas gifts for women incarcerated in Fountain Youth Center, Rocky Mount and the Correctional Center for Women, Raleigh. WMU also sponsored two retreats at Camp Mundo Vista for honor grade inmates of these two institutions.

Support the Work of the Denomination

Woman's Missionary Union is a prime supporter of Southern Baptist Convention programs. Virtually every event and training conference included an emphasis on Bold Mission Thrust, Planned Growth in Giving, the Cooperative Program and Good News America.

Nancy Curtis, executive director

Communications Division

The Division office in 1986 was involved in the general promotion of several state and SBC programs including the American Christian Television System (ACTS), Baptist TelNet (BTN), use of print-electronic media by local churches/associations, and similar projects.

The Division office also serves as the media relations section for the Baptist State Convention with both on-going press services and special releases provided for the denominational and secular media. The Division office, in addition, contacts secular media for purchase of advertisement space for programs such as "Good News America."

William H. Boatwright, director

Publications/Distribution

The Publications/Distribution Department supports the General Board divisions, departments, councils and committees by using the most creative and effective means to produce, print and distribute promotional materials for various programs and projects.

The department is divided into three areas: Art Services, Print Services, and Bulk Mail Services. Art Services is involved with design and mechanical art production for printing, quick copy and limited speciality items, averaging 115 projects per quarter. Print Services, an in-house print shop, is primarily involved in quick copy reproduction of materials with limited assembling capabilities. The Print Services area averages 850,000 impressions per quarter. The Bulk Mail Services area's main purpose is to bulk mail materials to North Carolina churches and averages mailing 300,000 pieces of material per quarter.

In 1986, materials were published in the form of posters, brochures, fliers, programs, bulletin inserts and other speciality pieces. In addition to the normal General Board materials the Publications/Distribution Department assisted in various convention-wide projects. These included the annual Baptist State Convention materials, Good News America promotion, European Convention materials, Togo Partnership materials, the State Missions Offering promotion and the Homes and Hospital Offering promotion.

This year the convention materials for the Annual Session, the 1986 Annual, and 1986 Directory all carry the theme 'Sharing the Dream...United in Christ.' The identity program is an effort to promote the program emphases for 1986-1990 adopted by the 1985

Baptist State Convention.

Publications/Distribution Department has also provided production services for the new Homes and Hospital Offering in an effort to promote the missions work of the Baptist Children's Homes of NC, NC Baptist Hospital and Baptist Retirement Homes of NC. In addition, services were provided to promote the missions work of North Carolina churches through the new State Missions Offering.

Jane C. Richards, director

Video/Audio Visual Productions

The work of Video Productions is two-fold, producing programs 1) for General Board departments, the various institutions, agencies, associations and churches of the North Carolina and Southern Baptist conventions and for ACTS; and 2) producing programs for other mainline denominations (as defined by the Home Mission Board) and for certain other non-profit, tax exempt, community service organizations.

In 1986, Video Productions produced a total of 95 video programs. These include the weekly International Bible Lesson (Sunday School), Moments with the Master, a four program series on prayer, NC Baptist Men: Decade Two, Camp Caraway: An Experience To Grow On. Disaster Relief Ministry, NC Baptist Men & Agricultural Missions, and five messages from the NC Baptist Men's Conference (Brotherhood): Church Planter Apprentice, Church Starting Probe, Starting Churches with Praxis Teams and Continuing Witness Training: The Encourager Program (Home Mission Board), Changing Lives Through State Missions, Missions, three television spots for Baptist Children's Homes, two lectures on family life by Dr. Bob Newton, 12 programs of a 25 program series for Dr. Bill Wilson on Christian counseling, a four lecture series on pornography for Brotherhood, a documentary on missions in India for Providence Baptist Church, Raleigh, a program on church growth for United Methodists, A Long Look at Rock Music for Happenings, Inc. and Making a Difference for Carolina Association.

Audio Visual services include the audio visual library, audio and video duplication and distribution, the production of filmstrips and custom slide programs and providing some audio visual equipment for staff use.

The Audio Visual Library provides some 400 different video titles and over 2,000 filmstrip titles to North Carolina Baptist churches for a small fee to cover postage and handling. More than 5,000 of these video and filmstrip titles were used by the churches in 1986.

Audio Duplication/Distribution not only provides copies of messages from the annual convention and other major conferences during the year to purchasers, but also assists the Department of Special Ministries by duplicating and mailing the Biblical Recorder, January Bible Study, and the Home and Foreign Mission studies at no cost to visually impaired persons. More than 12,000 of these tapes are mailed each year.

In 1986, a filmstrip, Working Together.. Changing Lives was produced for state missions promotion, WMU: Diary of a Centennial was produced for Woman's Missionary Union, and two custom slide programs, Sharing the Dream through World Mission Support and Sharing the Dream through State Missions for the annual convention.

Frances J. Riley, director

Evangelism

"GOOD NEWS AMERICA" was more than a success. Reports are still coming in from all over our state about the exciting revivals and the great blessings that God poured out upon our churches.

The State Evangelism Conference, held February 3-4, 1986 in Greensboro, followed the theme, "Good News America God Loves You," emphasizing the simultaneous revivals. Over 7,000 pastor, staff, and laity attended. The 1987 State Evangelism Conference will be held in Greensboro, February 2-3, 1987.

Key Leadership for evangelism participants emphasized "Target Group Evangelism," with special emphasis on ethnics, singles/divorcees, and children—major target groups during 1987. During October regional evangelism conferences materials were given to pastors and staff to assist in working with these groups.

The Division assists North Carolina churches to develop "Church Evangelism Committees" to strengthen the work of evangelism in the church.

I. W. Hutchens, director

Evangelism Development

The department provides direction, strategy, and training for year-round evangelistic endeavor by encouraging aggressive pastoral, bivocational and ethnic leadership. The mechanics of evangelism research, writing and utilization of mass media are also featured.

132/Baptist State Convention

Specialized Evangelism Planning

Growing Evangelistic Churches in North Carolina is a five-hour seminar, basic to planning year-round evangelism. A variation, the "Church Alive" Growth Weekend, is available for a limited number of churches.

Revival Preparation

The Revival Training Seminars enable churches to organize, prepare, and utilize more fully the revival meeting.

Spiritual Awakening

Prayer for Spiritual Awakening seminars are available for churches and associations. Since 1980, there has been renewed interest in using this means to establish and implement a congregational prayer ministry as the foundation of a church's total ministry.

Metropolitan Evangelism

Urban Evangelism Awareness Conferences focus on interfacing evangelism with Christian social ministries, new work, language, student, multi-family, and inner city work.

Tent Ministry

There are two revival tents available for resort evangelism, new work starts, area crusades, and local church revivals. There is no rental charge. Allow a minimum of nine months when scheduling a tent.

Victor G. Cole, director

Personal Evangelism

The Personal Evangelism Department provides witness training for all ages, target groups such as youth, single adults and young adults. A major program provides leadership training for key church and associational leaders who, in turn, train others at the local level.

Continuing Witness Training

Twenty National CWT Seminars were conducted with approximately 200 churches, including pastors of each church attending. During 1986, seminars were held in Asheville, Fayetteville, Hendersonville, and Wilmington. Two seminars were held specifically for Southeastern Seminary and Fruitland Institute students. This process multiplies the witnesses as individuals are trained. Six seminars are planned for 1987. (Registration is done through the Personal Evangelism Department.)

Single Adult Evangelism Conference

The fourth annual Single Adult Evangelism Conference was held April 25-28 at Caraway. The conference was led by Gary Chapman and Richard Everett, with music by concert pianist Randy Atcheson.

Student Evangelism Team

WITNESS, the Student Evangelism Team for 1986, led in approximately 53 concerts. Eight college/seminary students presented the Gospel through Christian music, with each concert featuring an invitation with good public response. Some of the most valuable time was spent one-to-one and during witnessing classes.

Youth Evangelism Week

Using the theme, "KNOWING THE TRUTH," 1,025 youth and adults attended Youth Evangelism Week at Caswell, led by Cecil Seagle, Buddy Freeman and Frank Page, music by Linda Dove and WITNESS. Over 340 youth made public commitments of their faith in Christ, with over 50 of these being first-time professions of faith

Super Summer '86

During July 9-11, 500 youth and leaders met at Wake Forest University for training in evangelism and discipleship, with emphasis on prayer life, witnessing, scripture memorization, dealing with peer pressure, etc. On Thursday afternoon this group went "onto the streets of Winston-Salem" to share their faith with strangers. Barry St. Clair and Keith Naylor led these seminars.

On Friday evening, 7,000 attended the evangelistic crusade in Greensboro. Barry Wood, Linda Dove, Gabriel, WITNESS, and Gov. James B. Hunt, Jr. led the service, where over 544 youth made public decisions for Christ.

Richard W. Everett, director

Missions

The Division of Missions assists churches and associations discover mission needs, plan ways to meet these needs, and adequately fund mission programs. Jointly planned and funded mission projects create a closer team relationship between division and churches and associations.

The division's work involves seven departments: Associational Development, Brotherhood, Chaplaincy and Language, Church Extension, Cooperative Ministries and Seminary Extension, Special Ministries and Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute. (Reports for each follow.)

134/Baptist State Convention

Area Missionaries work in two areas of the state—western and eastern North Carolina.

Special assignments in 1986 were Mountain State 200 (the North Carolina/West Virginia partnership) and State Missions Week of Prayer and Offering Promotion.

Phase II of Mountain State 200, adopted by the Baptist State Convention in 1985, emphasizes church development through leadership training in Sunday School, Church Training, Brotherhood, WMU. Church Music and Stewardship.

State Missions Offering promotion included a study book, "Changing Lives," (written by Frances Riley), with churchwide study of the book recommended. The goal for the new State Missions Offering was $1,125,000.

The Division underwent reorganization and reassignment of responsibilities, providing a staff person to coordinate crime related ministries and a new associate in Church Extension.

Personnel changes included the resignations of the associate director, John Bunn, to return to the pastorate and George Shore and Jim Lambert to become administrative associates to the General Secretary-Treasurer.

Sara Ann Hobbs, director

Area Missions—Eastern North Carolina

Eastern North Carolina is being re-discovered. Some of the counties are experiencing rapid growth, making it difficult to provide even basic services.

As the people come to this vast area to live or just for a few days of vacation, the opportunity for ministry is increased.

Areas are being surveyed for possible new work in missions, Sunday Schools, etc. Opportunities abound for resort ministry teams from The Circus Tent at Kitty Hawk to Wilmington. The associations of the east are especially interested and sensitive concerning the needs of migrants who move through this vast agricultural part of North Carolina.

The large farms, big sounds and rivers often isolate people and the churches seeking to do ministry. Since most churches in the east would fit into the "small church" category, time is spent with directors of missions and other key leaders to develop and train lay people in order to meet the growing demands placed on these churches.

Key Leadership workshops, retreats, and Seminary Extension Centers continue to be valuable resources to equip lay-leadership and pastors. In addition, the area missionary also participated in World Mission Conferences, leadership conferences for all the church programs at the local level and worked with numerous pastor search committees.

Larry R. McClure, area missionary, Eastern N.C.

Area Missions— Western North Carolina

The Southwestern and Northwestern areas were combined into one area, with this area now covering the 30 mountain associations and more than 1,200 churches. Although Baptists continue to be the largest religious body in the mountains, the challenge of new people moving into the area provides growth and demands for creative approaches to reach people. The solid evangelistic base of the mountain churches is being challenged to reach these newcomers.

People are being reached through resort programs on the ski slopes, campgrounds, and the new river ministry. Several church groups from other parts of the state and nation have worked at Cherokee.

The associations strengthen this work by equipping membership in outreach at development ministries. Conferences at Ridgecrest are planned for mountain ministers. The Week of Christian Study and Fellowship (Mars Hill College) is the oldest continuous pastors' school in the convention, continuing to provide quality leadership for area church leaders.

The mountain area has had the reputation of being populated by independent and self-willed people. When it comes to the church, much of this stereotype is not deserved. The loyalty, dedication and faithfulness of these people can daily be seen in their sense of mission. The vision is being increased. Through mission education and personal involvement, they are growing in outreach to a world. It is my joy to enter into that partnership with them.

Tom E. Lolley, area missionary, Western N.C.

Associational Development

The Associational Development Department provides support for the 79 North Carolina associations through cooperative financial arrangements, consultation, training of associational staff, and communication to the convention for support in program areas.

During 1986, the Department sponsored the program at Wingate College Directors of Missions Conference, featuring Speed Leas, nationally known consultant in the field of conflict management.

The Piedmont and Pilot Mountain Associations were involved in Mega Focus Cities: A Plan of Megalopolitan Strategy Development, whereby the association evaluates the present ministry, plans for immediate needs and looks toward future challenges. Three associations—Pilot Mountain, Piedmont, and Mecklenburg—are involved in Mega Focus.

In May of 1986, Bobby Stafford became Director of the Associational Development Department. Stafford was formerly the Director of

Resort Missions

Resort Missions reaches tourists in North Carolina with the message of Jesus Christ, including such areas as ministry to truckers and ministry at flea markets. Tourism is the third largest industry in North Carolina.

Twenty-seven young people participated in various forms of resort ministry this year, on the coast (beach ministry), in the mountains (campground ministry), at Cherokee, and in larger campgrounds of the piedmont. These college-age adults are involved in ministering to both adults and children. Activities include worship services, recreation activities, children's activities, clowning, magic, cleaning up the campground, even the task of telling a vacationer that his or her loved one has just had a horrible accident. God uses these young people, along with approximately 100 church groups, to reach out to our tourists.

Another resort ministry is Race Track Ministry, now in the third year at Rockingham and first year at North Wilkesboro. Worship services on Saturday evening and Sunday morning are held at both fall and spring races. NASCAR Chaplain Bill Biard is involved in this ministry.

Mount Zion Association (Burlington area) provides counseling at a truck stop in the area, which includes Christian materials, a cool soda and a cookie, along with a pleasing smile to make the journey easier.

Two associations—Truett and Mt. Zion—provided ministry at flea markets, touching the lives of thousands of persons each weekend.

Bobby Stafford, director

Brotherhood

The basic task of Brotherhood is to involve men and boys in missions. In 1986, there were more men involved in mission action, study, and prayer groups than ever before. Men's prayer groups continue to grow at a fast rate. For both the church and Brotherhood, this is a vital sign of good things to come.

Local Leadership

During 1986, the state Brotherhood Department continued to help develop local Brotherhood leadership (associational and local church). Without good trained leadership at these levels, it will be very difficult to sustain growth in mission outreach for men and boys. Great effort was given to train specialists in Brotherhood work to help lead, both at the church and associational level.

Royal Ambassadors

Under the leadership of Tommy Puckett and Richard Brunson, the North Carolina Royal Ambassador (RAs) program has become a model for the Southern Baptist Convention. New and innovative programs have challenged boys in grades 1-12. From sports programs (involving thousands of boys) to overseas missions project (involving senior high young men), RAs has become the vehicle to challenge boys to be "Ambassadors for Christ."

Under the leadership of Richard Brunson, Camp Caraway for boys is a model example of "decentralized camping." There, over 1,700 boys (largest attendance in many years) spent a week learning valuable lessons to help them grow into manhood.

North Carolina Baptist Men

Baptist Men continues to work hand in hand with the Brotherhood Department in enlisting men to various ministries. At the present time, there are 13 different ministries in which men are involved. David Langford, director of Brotherhood work, serves as Executive Director of Baptist Men.

In 1986, Baptist Men enlisted men to build the first unit of any mission church, a program that will continue in 1987. In 1986, Men's Prayer Units were emphasized, with a video cassette on prayer now available. This program of prayer involvement, without doubt, will provide power for both the church and the men to do great things for our Master.

Staff

With regret, Eddie Pettit left the Department to go to the Brotherhood Commission in Memphis. Pettit will be missed. His contribution to North Carolina Baptists was tremendous.

David Langford, director

Chaplaincy and Language Ministries Chaplaincy

Growing a larger volunteer chaplaincy force has been the focus of the Department of Chaplaincy Ministries for the 1985-86 year. This is being accomplished by assisting associations to develop chaplaincy councils as a part of the Associational Missions Development programs. The area of focus has been ministry to institutionalized elderly, small hospitals, law enforcement, jails and prisons. The Chaplaincy Department furnishes assistance in surveys, planning and training for those who minister as volunteer chaplains.

The department continues to assist associations with funding for part-time prison and jail chaplains. Six associations participate in this program. Two seminary interns are trained for careers as prison chaplains in a program jointly sponsored by Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, the North Carolina Department of Corrections, and the Baptist State Conventon.

The director continues to give support as denominational representative to full-time chaplains serving in the three branches of the military and reserves, hospital, law enforcement and prison positions. Presently, there are 100 chaplains serving full-time positions in North Carolina.

Language

The native American (American Indian) has been joined by many nationalities to make up a multi-ethnic North Carolina. Ministries with native Americans are conducted in the Burnt Swamp Association and through the Tennessee River/Cheoah Association to the Cherokee Reservation. Other programs of the Language Department are 35 churches and missions with nine different languages: Asian Indian, Cambodian, Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Laotian, Middle-Eastern (Arab), Spanish and Vietnamese. All but four of these units have been started since the department was formed in 1977. An additional language group, the Haitians, are a part of summer ministry programs with the migrants who work in North Carolina harvesting crops.

Seventeen Baptist Associations are actively involved in ministering to the more than 65,000 migrants who work for North Carolina farmers. Approximately 61 percent of the migrants are Spanish speaking, 10 percent are Creole speaking Haitians, and the remainder are American born.

The Interfaith Witness program is a part of the work of the Language Department, teaching and training North Carolina Baptists about world religions, cults and sect groups.

The Language Department is a vital part of our convention's work as North Carolina Baptists are continually challenged by our changing

Burke Holland, director

Church Extension

The Church Extension Department works with all the churches in North Carolina through New Work Starts and Church Growth. Established churches and new churches are assisted through pastoral assistance (salary assistance for the pastor), loans and rental assistance.

Specialized assistance is provided for churches through the following programs: (1) PACT (transitional communities), (2) People Search (area surveys and analyses), (3) New Work Corps and PRAXIS (New Work summer missionaries), (4) New Work/Church Growth conferences for local churches and associations, (5) New Work PROBE (survey of local area and/or association for New Work Start potential), (6) New Work in Multi-family Housing, (7) Growth PROBE for New Congregations, (8) Urban Training Cooperative (conference on ministering to Urban needs.)

Eleven PRAXIS student Church Planters from Southeastern and Southern seminaries worked in six associations this summer. For 10 weeks they made evangelistic visits, conducted Big A Clubs, Backyard Bible Clubs, Mission Vacation Bible Schools and Home Mission Bible Fellowships. Several of the teams built good foundations that could become new works. PRAXIS Teams served in the following associations: Mecklenburg, New River, Pee Dee, Raleigh, South

Roanoke and Special area.

Another group of seminary and Fruitland students served as Church Planters in the NEW WORK CORPS. There were six associations participating in this ministry: Buncombe, Catawba, New South River, Raleigh, South Roanoke, and Wilmington.

Five New Work and Church Growth interns have been at work in several associations starting new work and assisting plateauing churches to grow.

Church Pastoral Assistance was received by 38 New Works (1-5) and 20 established works (six years and older) and five received rental assistance. Four pastors received assistance for their annuity through the Church Growth Assistance Ministry. As of August 1, 1986 there have been 35 new starts.

A PROBE was held in Dan Valley Association. Mega Focus and UTC conferences have been held in Pilot Mountain and Piedmont associations. A People Search was conducted in the Cary area. Three Good News Revivals were conducted. A statewide Church Growth Conference was held at Caraway with nationally known program personnel. A statewide Multifamily Housing and Evangelism Conference was sponsored at Southeastern Seminary. The New Work Pastors/Spouses Retreat conducted at Caraway was our first.

Church Extension works with the Cooperative Ministries Department in starting new work with Black churches, the Sunday School and Church Training Departments in assisting new works, Chaplaincy in giving assistance to language pastors, and the Evangelism Division in reaching the multifamily housing sector. There is cooperation with the Baptist Foundation and the Church Building and Planning Department in securing loans and building churches. Information is shared with all divisions for the purpose of education and awareness.

Robert E. Watson, director

Cooperative Ministries with General Baptists and Seminary Extension

The basic purpose of this department is to coordinate and promote a variety of programs including: Cooperative Ministries with General Baptists; a three-part Seminary Extension program for the Baptist State Convention, the Shaw Divinity School, and prison inmates; activities aimed at assisting an increasing number of Bivocational Ministers serving churches and institutions; In-Service Guidance programs on Baptists campuses; coordinating and expanding Crime Related Ministries to criminals and victims.

Cooperative Ministries with General Baptists

Summer Youth Program

Appointed 40 black student summer workers to serve in 17 locations throughout the state. Youth Orientation Week was held for them at Wake Forest University. Micheal Darby resigned as youth director and Norman Band was employed as a temporary replacement.

Student Aid Fund

Scholarships totaling $11,520 were provided to 33 black Baptist students preparing for church-related vocations. Southeastern Baptist Seminary provided $3,500 in matching funds. The students attended 13 different institutions.

Cooperative Personnel

Conducted annual statewide General Baptist pastor's conference and a conference for new pastors. Directed program for Christian Education for churches and associations in General Baptist State Convention. Served as Dean of Continuing Education for the Shaw Divinity School. Conducted regional institute and workshops for pastors and lay persons.

Campus Ministry

Assisted with campus ministry at North Carolina Central University, Durham.

Annuity Program for General Baptists

Seminary Extension

Baptist State Convention

Reached a total of 70 centers in addition to numerous local branches and remained the largest statewide program in the United States for the twelfth consecutive year. Granted two diplomas in Pastoral Ministries and one diploma in Biblical Studies.

General Baptists

Operating as the Department of Seminary Extension for the Shaw Divinity School, this department established 67 courses in 23 centers enrolling over 800 people who reached a registration of approximately 1,300. The total record as of August 1 now stands as follows:

Number enrolled	. 2,793
Number registrations	. 8,107
Number of courses taught	391
Certificates of Merit	34
Diplomas

Prison Inmates

Provided 355 courses for prison inmates bringing the total to 1,842 courses since beginning in 1979. Presented nine diplomas in Pastoral Ministries. Classes are being planned for new locations.

Bivocational Ministries

Held the fifth annual retreat for bivocational ministers and spouses at Caraway with a record attendance. Coordinated associational conferences in the Tuckaseigee, Burnt Swamp, Alleghany, Kings Mountain, and Rowan associations.

Crime Related Ministries

Employed Wilburn Hendrix, retired prison chaplain, Winston-Salem, to survey the associations as an initial step toward coordinating an information manual for distribution. Considering title of "Crime Related Ministries" to include ministries to criminals, victims, family members, prison and jail staff members, correctional officers, etc.

Corbin L. Cooper, director

Deaf Ministries

1986 is a historical year for Baptist work with deaf people. The First Baptist Church for the Deaf was constituted in Hickory with the cooperation of the Theron Rankin Association and the Baptist State Convention. The pastor, Rev. Jessie Bowman, is the son of deaf parents. Bowman, a hearing person, says that his goal is for the church to have a deaf pastor.

This department participates in the support of ministries at the schools for the deaf at Morganton and Wilson. A number of deaf students have accepted Christ through these ministries and have been baptized into local Baptist churches.

There is also a program of regular visitation at Lenoir-Rhyne College for counselling or just 'listening' to the deaf students. A similar program is planned for visiting the deaf students at Gardner-Webb College. (This department was instrumental in starting the program at Gardner-Webb which is gaining the reputation of being one of the best programs available for deaf college students.)

Teacher/Interpreter Conference, a statewide training program for workers with the deaf held at Caraway, was attended by nearly 200 people, both hearing and deaf. It was the largest attendance since the conference was begun.

With the sponsorship of this department a committee of deaf people in First church, Morganton, has printed and mailed a quarterly newsletter for Baptist deaf people throughout the state.

Jerry F. Potter, director

Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute

1986 may be a pivotal point for Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute. As a result of drastically reducing the program during 1985 the ministry ended that year with a surplus of more than $16,000 after all expenses, including $17,000 paid on the deficit. An additional allocation of $46,000 was provided through the Cooperative Program, and the regular schedule was resumed as of January, 1986.

The endowment fund is growing. The effort on the part of alumni to raise $2 million has been put on hold for the present, but the fund has passed $200,000 and stands a good chance to grow another $200,000 or more from the Dan Foster bequest.

142/Baptist State Convention

The enrollment remains fairly constant, averaging about 140 each quarter. The 25 faculty positions are filled with qualified persons, elected by the General Board of the Baptist State Convention, who teach in a single field.

The Advanced Diploma program is developing well but gradually. One of the courses, MINISTRIES 502—Baptist Polity, was taught by Dr. Albert McClellan of Nashville, Tennessee. Missions 502 by David Langford, director of Brotherhood in North Carolina, and Evangelism 502 by Robert Watson, director of Church Extension in North Carolina, are the other two advanced diploma courses offered in 1986.

The West Virginia Project, a supervised ministry program by Fruitland students made possible by funds so designated in the 1985 North Carolina Missions Offering, is under way. The president has been to West Virginia to make preparations for work in two communities, Brandywine and Riverton. Mark McAllister, Director of Missions in the Eastern Panhandle Association worked with the president during the two day preparation trip. The project is expected to involve eight students who will do physical labor and spiritual ministry in these two communities.

Alex L. Booth, Jr., president

Special Ministries

The Special Ministries Department is responsible for helping North Carolina Baptists become aware of and provide a ministry to persons with handicapping conditions, promote the area of Church and Community Ministries, provide literacy promotion and training, and help volunteers find ways of serving Christ through local churches.

Ministry with Blind/Visually Impaired Persons

May Waugh continues to serve effectively as field consultant for ministry with blind persons. She travels extensively, sharing with pastors, associational leadership, WMU groups, brotherhood groups, and senior citizens' groups about ways they can minister in helping blind persons know Christ, and become active in His church.

The cassette ministry of the department remains strong and in much demand. Two hundred sixty-five persons are currently on the mailing list to get each issue of the Biblical Recorder. The department also sent 44 sets of the Foreign Missions Study book, 61 sets of the January Bible Study, and 50 sets of the Home Mission Study book.

Ministry with Retarded Persons

Over 100 North Carolina Baptist churches have special classes for persons with mental retardation. Training for workers in those classes was provided in cooperation with the Sunday School Department in ASSIST Conferences, VBS Clinics, and Fall Leadership Conferences.

Susan Reed "retired" from the position of field consultant in May after five very fruitful years of leadership. She will be greatly missed!

She and her husband George now have a new "little one," Joseph Evans Reed. Congratulations!

Three Happiness Retreats were held at Caraway Conference Center and Truett Camp. Tom Roberts and Nancy Cody served as camp directors respectively. The retreat is a training session for teachers of MR classes as well as a retreat for persons with mental retardation. There were 275-300 persons at these retreats, 150 of those were persons with mental retardation.

Day camp programs for mentally retarded persons continue to be in much demand. First-time programs were conducted this year at Chowan College and Camp Cale with over 200 persons involved. Day camps at Campbell University and Wingate College were conducted for the third year. Recreation departments, BSU students, Christian service clubs, WMU groups, an ARC group, and our department work together to make these Saturday events possible.

Mental Retardation Sunday in March was promoted by sending information to churches about how to observe it. 33,000 bulletin inserts were sent to churches requesting them.

The "Open Doors" newsletter was mailed quarterly to 525 persons and/or churches with information about activities, events, teaching materials, etc., available for ministry with persons with mental retardation.

Church and Community Ministries

At the time of this report, there were six full-time and six part-time Church and Community Ministries programs in progress. One of the part-time programs is new this year. One new full-time program will start the last quarter of 1986 in Pilot Mountain Association.

The full-time Directors of Church and Community Ministries are: Carolyn Ann Johnson, Buncombe Association; Marvin Southard, Dan Valley Association; Cathy Hopkins, Eastern Association; Robert Davis, Kings Mountain Association; Gerry Hutchinson, New River Association; and Marsha Cook, Wilmington Association. (There are vacancies in the New South River, Raleigh, and Mecklenburg Associations.) Two Directors of Church and Community Ministries resigned this year to move to other areas of service: Jim Royston of Mecklenburg Association, and Dennis Gabriel of Raleigh Association.

Literacy

Bill Hern coordinates the literacy program for North Carolina Baptists. He enlisted leaders for 25 literacy workshops and conducted the annual Literacy Missions Retreat at Caraway Conference Center for about 40 persons.

The newest program is at Women's Prison in Raleigh where long term inmates have been trained as tutors. They are tremendously excited about teaching other inmates to read and write.

Stewardship

The Division of Stewardship plans, develops, and promotes a plan of biblical stewardship to aid churches in enlisting members in the practice of and growth in Christian stewardship.

This plan of biblical stewardship includes the individual Christian's response in terms of giving, life style, and money management. It also includes the local church and its stewardship responsibilities.

Biblical stewardship also includes the support of missions through the Cooperative Program.

The Division's goal for 1986 is to fulfill this purpose and help churches and individuals to reach Bold Mission giving goals.

The Division staff seeks to achieve its goals through the following programs:

Planned Growth in Giving

Serving as staff for the State Planned Growth in Giving Task Force has preempted much of the time of the Stewardshp Division staff during 1986. However, this is in keeping with the goals and objectives of the Division. Planned Growth in Giving seminars have been held in 1986 and at least five are scheduled for 1987. (A more detailed report on Planned Growth in Giving can be found in the report of the Task Force to the General Board.)

Missionary-in-Residence

The missionary-in-residence program continues to utilize a furloughing missionary couple to interpret mission support needs to the churches. James and Maxie Kirk, missionaries to Brazil, are serving until May 1987.

Partnership Missions

During 1986 the Stewardship Division staff has continued to be involved with the West Virginia partnership by leading Associational Stewardship Conferences in eight of the nine associations. Materials, as well as leadership, were provided.

O. D. Martin, Jr. and Talmage Williams led a Planned Growth in Giving seminar for pastors and leaders of the 50 churches of the European Baptist Convention. Church stewardship materials were provided and shared with the leaders from the European Baptist Convention in an additional conference.

Cooperative Program Promotion

Materials have been prepared and distributed to aid churches in emphasizing missions support through the Cooperative Program. Special emphasis was given to Cooperative Program Day in April, Vacation Bible Schools and a special insert in the Biblical Recorder.

Key Associational Leadership Conference

The Division participated in the training of key associational leadership by preparing materials for and training the 44 associational stewardship directors who attended the conference at Ridgecrest.

The Great Challenge

The Division sponsored and provided a consultant to lead Great Challenge Stewardship Programs in approximately 25 churches. The Great Challenge is a stewardship program designed especially for smaller churches.

Special Seminars

1. A Christian Money Management Workshop involved 12 couples in a process of clarifying Christian commitments, financial goal setting, assessment of resources and the development of a family spending/saving/giving plan. Lee Davis directed the process, using his book, In Charge: Managing Money for Christian Living. Each couple is asked to plan and lead a church or associational Christian Money Management Workshop within the next year.

2. A Stewardship Seminar for leaders of large churches was conducted in July with 15 persons in attendance. Morris Ashcraft, Dean at Southeastern Seminary, presented Bible studies on Christian stewardship and mission support. Ernest Standerfer from the SBC Stewardship Commission shared programs and resources for a year-round stewardship ministry.

3. Fifteen persons participated in a three-day Stewardship Seminar in August. The program included a biblical theological study of stewardship and an overview of stewardship programs. Lee Davis of the SBC Stewardship Commission presented a study on "Christian Money Management." Ernest Standerfer, also of the SBC Stewardship Commission, led the session on Stewardship in Action. Participants were asked to be available to assist churches with stewardship development.

Bold Missions Stewardship Conferences

The primary method of assisting churches in stewardship development and in reaching mission support goals is through Bold Mission Stewardship Conferences in the associations. The purpose of the meeting is to present and discuss the stewardship material in the packet developed by the Division. Conferences were held in 62 associations. Five hundred forty-five pastors and a total of 1370 representatives from 710 churches attended.

Church/Association Staff Support

Based on new information and data church/association staff support recommendations were published in a booklet entitled "The Reapers Should Receive Good Wages." The booklet was sent to church and associational leaders as well as church and association staff.

Youth and Campus Ministries

The Youth and Campus Ministries Division coordinates the many-sided youth ministry program and provision of resources for the state's 400 youth ministers through 18 full-time campus ministers, dozens of volunteers and two area resource persons. The Division also projects ministry with college students across North Carolina and encourages church workers with collegians.

Youth Ministries

The position of Youth Ministries Coordination was filled by Hal Melton, from Wilkesboro Baptist Church, in August, 1986. The position was vacated earlier by Rick Traylor, who resigned to accept a position at Samford University in Birmingham, Alabama.

During the latter part of 1985 and 1986, several persons made unusual contributions to the on-going youth ministry program: Warren Johnson, of Trinity Church in Raleigh, coordinated the 1985 Youth Council Retreats; Steve Jolly of Lakeside, Rocky Mount, Tommy Capps of Rich Fork, Thomasville, and Steve Foster of North Newton, Newton, led in planning and projecting Youth Ministry Workshops and Key Leadership Conference. Ann Johnson of Raleigh served as coordinator of three Volunteer Youth Ministry Workshops in April.

A Task Force including pastors, youth ministers, campus ministers and Convention staff (led by David Moore) planned the Youth Weeks at Caswell. The theme, "Voices and Choices," was interpreted during the four weeks by musicians Gene Cotton and Darrell Adams, Mime Doug Berky, and speakers Michael Blackwell, Jack Noffsinger and Nick Foster. Dozens of North Carolina lay people, pastors, and youth ministers led the strategic small group of Bible studies each day. During worship times a number of young people made professions of faith or recommitments, dealing with pressing issues related to Christian living. Already the Task Force is at work planning the Conferences for 1987.

A Youth Ministries Resource Team, funded by Baptist Student Union members across the state, was at work all summer leading discussions and offering study opportunities in areas as faith sharing, dating, Bible study, doctrinal exploration, relating to parents, and poverty settings. The group was trained by Youth Ministers and served under the primary direction of Youth Ministers and Associational Youth Representatives in locations across the state.

Local Campus Ministers

The full-time campus ministers (serving on 18 major campuses across the state) are unique among Convention or academic employees. They are entrusted with day-to-day ministry in these academic settings with consistent contact with administrators, faculty and other campus ministers.

Teams of students are trained to lead youth revivals, present mission programs, communicate through puppetry, inspire through music or the medium of "clowning." Those programs are coordinated with pastors, youth ministers, directors of missions and church leaders such as Sunday School or Church Training directors and campus ministers.

Advisory committees of lay people and church staff members offer perspective and counsel in many settings for the campus ministers. In each case, involvement in the life of a local Baptist church provides support and inspirations and spiritual undergirding. Staff members serve in their churches as Sunday School teachers, deacons, choir members and work with committees or in the programs as needed. Regular participation in ministers' conferences at the local level is also important for these General Board or institutional employees.

Development of leadership training programs and recurring emphases is a major concern for the next few years, with emphasis on small school delegations into the larger state community of Christian students. Some groups are re-evaluating how students are encouraged to see and promote missions. Other issues include how to encourage and provide resources for local church leaders who minister with

Three staff members, at the request of the Sunday School Board and the Canadian Baptist Convention, will serve as program personnel for Canada's first Baptist Student Convention. Geneva Metzger, Jim Greene and Don Rogers will explore how North Carolina campus ministry might develop a partnership in the industrial corridor around Toronto.

An intensive study of facilities began in the fall of 1986. Seven buildings, (all but one at least 20 years old) serve as the hub of ministry in strategic locations.

State Level BSU

The state-level BSU ministry provides opportunities for spiritual growth and leadership development for college students. State BSU helps students assume leadership roles in planning and implementing programs. Seven student committees, working with the State BSU presidents—Susan Goins, Meredith and Mark Medley, UNC-CH—developed balanced programs. Seventy-five students, representing all of the BSUs, served on these committees.

The BSU Spring Conference, planned by one of the committees, focused specifically on leadership development. Donna Forrester of Southeastern Seminary served as resource person for this event. In addition, George Reed of the Christian Life Council addressed the students on ministry needs around the world and ways students can become involved in meeting needs.

The Baptist Student Convention, held at Ridgecrest in September, attracted more than 600 students from BSUs and local churches. This meeting provided a time of fellowship and inspiration. Carolyn Weatherford, executive director, WMU; John Hewett, Pastor, First Church, Asheville; and Curt Cloninger, professonal dramatist, served as resource persons.

Another state-level emphases included an Evangelism Workshop at Caraway in January with twenty-one students representing eight campuses.

In January 1986, 40 Black students from seven North Carolina colleges and universities joined with 12 BSU Advisors, campus ministers and program resource people for the "first ever" NC Baptist Student Union Retreat for Black Students. It was a "dream come true" for students and advisors who planned for years for this retreat. Using the theme, "Dwelling Together In Unity," they gathered at Camp Mundo Vista for worship, play and study in order to build a Christian community. John Corbitt, director, National Baptist Student Union Retreat, was the keynote speaker. He joined Otis Donaldson and Robert James, who are Volunteer BSU Directors at Winston-Salem State University and Fayetteville State University, respectively.

In February, 90 international students from across the state gathered in Belmont for an International Student Conference. George Braswell, Southeastern Seminary; Mark McMasters, professional mime; and Sandra Thomas, Meredith; developed the theme, "What the World Needs Now."

Another major state-level emphasis is in the area of missions, focusing on mission education and involvement. During 1986 former US-2ers, Journeymen, and furloughing missionaries visited many college campuses to help BSUers understand the challenges and opportunities of missions.

Hundreds of students were involved in various mission projects during the year. Some were short-term as students dedicated their spring break to Mission Action. In addition, students traveled to New York City; Washington, DC; Atlanta; and Orlando to work alongside others in ministering to human need.

During the summer, 21 students were funded by fellow students to work in missions. BSUs across North Carolina gave more than $45,000 for mission causes. This money enabled students to serve in two foreign countries and six other states. In addition, 12 students were involved in different summer ministries in North Carolina.

The student mission money funded 16 internships, enabling students to work 8-12 hours per week in community ministry. Other student money funded: work in Togo, an exploration of a mission partnership in Canada, assistance for local church youth ministry, and opportunities for mission lifestyle experiences.

In a related area, 45 students were involved in Youth Ministry in local churches through the Youth Corps/Local Church Ministry Program. Sponsored jointly by the Baptist State Convention and seven N.C. Baptist Colleges, this program allows energetic and committed students to serve churches for 10 weeks in the summer, assisting in youth, children, and music ministries.

Volunteers/Church Workers With College Students

North Carolina Baptists provide full-time campus ministers for 18 of the campuses in the state. Therefore, there are a significant number of campuses where Baptist presence is dependent upon volunteer ministers. North Carolina is blessed to have a good cadre of volunteers who guide the work on 20-plus campuses. These persons are church staff members, faculty members, or other interested laypeople.

The volunteers in 1986 include: Frank Bryan and Murdina McDonald, Atlantic Christian; John and Barbara Smart, Brevard; Brooks Walker and Helen Gitlin, Caldwell Community; Cecil Wilkes, Coastal Carolina Community; Gaylin Huff and David Clemmons, Davidson Community; Herb House and Joe Bounds, Elon; Robert James and LaVern Barnes, Fayetteville State; Frank Smith, High Point; Karen Bacot, Kings; Marsha Fanning, Lenoir Rhyne; Rose Pleasant and Lorelle Martin, Mt. Olive; Jerry Armstrong, Pfeiffer; Ron Boswell, Piedmont Tech; Don Garner and Dot McDonald, Sandhills Community; Randy Barnett, Teresa Gilliam, and Eddie Morgan, UNC-A; Leigh Thompson, UNC-C; Jim Everette, Western Piedmont, Jo Hendrix, Wilkes Community; Otis Donaldson, Winston-Salem State.

In addition to work with volunteers, the division seeks to work with churches in strengthening ministries with college students, working closely with the Sunday School Department in providing resources and training opportunities for church workers.

Community College and Asheville Area Ministries

The roles as Western Area Director is to encourage, support, teach and train volunteer persons in campus ministry on community colleges and also serve as part-time campus minister at UNC-Asheville.

The major emphasis this year has been helping volunteer directors to feel and develop a larger vision of campus ministry in worship, mission, evangelism and Bible study. Another emphasis is working with local churches and the campus community through Sunday School and outreach to college students.

The work at UNC-Asheville has developed well: i.e. an increase in BSU from 12 members to a community of 50; doubled the summer missions goal from $250 to $500; began an on-going weekly worship and Bible study period.

Christian Higher Education

Council Membership

Since 1944 the Council on Christian Higher Education has served the colleges and the Convention through its coordinating and encouraging role on behalf of Christian higher education. Chief among the Council's priorities are the quality of education offered by the colleges, cooperation with the Baptist State Convention, and the promotion of support for Baptist colleges among the churches.

The Council is comprised of the presidents, academic deans and chairmen of boards of trustees of the colleges/universities; and the General Board's Committee on Christian Higher Education. New members elected from the General Board are Thad R. Dowdle, Max Freeman, and Carlton Nixon. Ex officio members of the Council are the general secretary-treasurer, Baptist State Convention; General Board president, Convention president, president of North Carolina Woman's Missionary Union; and the executive secretary of the Council on Christian Higher Education.

A New Relationship for Wake Forest

When the Covenent Relationship was approved by the 1979 Convention to become effective in 1981, a time for evaluation and renewal was part of that agreement, to be "planned by the University and the Council on Christian Higher Education." Covenant committees of the Council and the University have worked faithfully toward that end during 1985 and 1986. Members of the Council's Covenant Committee are: James E. Langford, Ahoskie, chairman; Fred B. Bentley, Mars Hill; William R. Bussey, Wilson; Jerry E. Harper, Sr., Durham; Ray K. Hodge, Kinston; T. Robert Mullinax, Raleigh; Bob D.

Shepherd, Morganton; Jerry M. Wallace, Buies Creek; John E. Weems, Raleigh; and Roy J. Smith, Raleigh, ex officio.

A new and different relationship is in the recommendation process as this report is being written, to be voted upon by the Executive Committee of the General Board, the General Board and the Convention. The new relationship will be "fraternal and voluntary," granting a new degree of freedom to Wake Forest for trustee selection, and removing from Wake Forest any means of receiving Cooperative Program funding.

During 152 years Wake Forest has grown from a manual labor institute, to a college, to a regional university, and is moving rapidly toward being a university with a national reputation for excellence. There has been a close, organic tie between North Carolina Baptists and Wake Forest since the beginning. The new relationship is not one of necessity, but of opportunity. Wake Forest has pledged to honor its Baptist heritage by continuing the many Baptist and Christian services and programs currently in place. North Carolina Baptists will be asked to honor both the former and the future relationships by agreeing to the recommended changes, therefore acknowledging the new agreement through a brief Constitutional article.

Centennial Celebration at Buies Creek

On January 5, 1986, Campbell University launched its Centennial Celebration, described as "A Century of Vision and Service— Celebrating the Past and Anticipating the Future." Since 1976, the new programs that have been announced include a School of Law, graduate studies in education and business, a School of Pharmacy and a School of Education. The name was changed from "college" to "university" in 1979. Congratulations to Campbell upon the completion of 100 years.

Gardner-Webb: Craven E. Williams, Past President

On May 30, 1986, Craven E. Williams completed almost 10 years as president of Gardner-Webb College, leaving that office to enter private business. He was honored by his fellow presidents and presented with a gift by the Council on Christian Higher Education toward the end of his tenure.

The Williams years at Gardner-Webb will be remembered for faithful, innovative leadership and solid achievements: growth of the endowment; the addition of needed buildings, including the Lutz-Yelton Convocation Center; reduction of capital indebtedness; development of new programs in communications, nursing and graduate studies; and opening of degree programs to the blind and hearing impaired. The Council and the Convention are grateful for Dr. Williams' years of service, and extend cordial best wishes to his entire family.

Gardner-Webb: M. Christopher White, New President

On June 1, 1986, M. Christopher White became the tenth president of Gardner-Webb College, having been elected by the trustees on December 30, 1985. Dr. White, a graduate of Mercer University, The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and Emory University, had served on the faculty and administration of Elon College since 1972. His most recent post at Elon was Vice President for Academic and Student Affairs. Chris and Linda White are the parents of two sons, Martin and Andrew. The Council on Christian Higher Education joins North Carolina Baptists in welcoming the Christopher Whites to their new place of partnership and service.

Chowan, Meredith Presidents Chosen for Service

Chowan College President Bruce E. Whitaker has been elected to the Board of Directors of the American Council on Education, the only two-year independent college person among the 18 institutional representatives.

John E. Weems, president, Meredith College, has been elected to the Executive Council of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the regional accrediting agency for educational institutions.

Deaths: Ben C. Fisher, Harold W. Tribble

Two outstanding leaders in Baptist higher education died during the past year: Benjamin C. Fisher and Harold W. Tribble. Both men made major contributions to the denomination through education.

Benjamin C. Fisher served as executive secretary of the Council on Christian Higher Education from 1962-1970, after which he became the executive director-treasurer of the Education Commission, SBC. He was an acknowledged leader in the field of Christian higher education in the nation.

Harold W. Tribble, a recognized Baptist theologian and author, was president of Wake Forest College from 1950 to 1967. During his presidency Wake Forest moved, in 1956, from the original campus in the town of Wake Forest to the newly-constructed campus in Winston-Salem. The college officially became a university on June 18, 1967, 12 days before his retirement. His successor, James Ralph Scales, called Dr. Tribble "a giant who was not fully appreciated until toward the end of his administration. Only his successor could appreciate what he had endured and achieved."

Words of Appreciation

The Council on Christian Higher Education acknowledges with deep appreciation the continuing level of trust expressed in the Council by the Convention and General Board. Undergirding the work with Baptist colleges is the growing conviction that it is right and good and necessary for Christian people to sponsor and to support Christian education. One major focus of the Council is upon the partnership between colleges and churches in the work of the Kingdom of God.

James E. Langford, president
T. Robert Mullinax, executive secretary

Campbell University

Campbell University began her 100th year of academic service on January 5, 1986. During this Centennial Year, the University has held 21 of the 31 events planned by the Centennial Committee.

The Centennial Commencement was held on May 11-12 with guests from all over the United States and the world attending and participating. Daffyd Davies, principal emeritus, New South Wales Baptist College, Cardiff, Wales, delivered the commencement sermon. Lim Khaik Leang, principal, Tunku Abdul Rahman College, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, presented the commencement address. Norman A. Wiggins, president, delivered remarks to the 100th graduating class, the largest class in the history of the school with 886 graduates receiving undergraduate, graduate and doctoral degrees.

The University has just been notified that its School of Pharmacy, which will receive its first class in August 1986, has been admitted to pre-candidate status by the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education. Also, the School of Pharmacy has received full membership in the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy.

Campbell graduates one of the largest, if not the largest, number of teachers of any of the 38 private colleges and universities in North Carolina. In recognition of its long involvement in teacher education and the accelerated demand for new teachers and administrators, the University launched its School of Education in January 1986, naming Theo Strum as its first dean. Strum is the former academic dean of Elon College, and prior to her appointment as dean, School of Education, served as chairman of the Division of Professional Programs of Campbell University.

The University is now in the seventh and last year of its Centennial Fund Campaign, which has as its goal the raising of $40,000,000 by January 5, 1987. It now seems likely that the campaign goal will be reached. In addition, plans are now under way for a candlelighting ceremony to be held on January 13, 1987, Founders' Day, when 100 donors will be lighting the Centennial Birthday Cake with each candle representing a minimum gift of $10,000 as a scholarship fund for students needing financial assistance.

At the close of the fiscal year on May 31, 1986, the University had a plant indebtedness of approximately $5 million, the major portion of which is in the form of residence hall bond indebtedness carrying an interest rate of two and one-half to three percent. In addition, the minor portion of the indebtedness carries a prime interest rate. The indebtedness, both self-liquidating and otherwise, constitutes no threat to the sound financial operation of Campbell University.

Campbell University was saddened by the loss of several employees during the past year. Benjamin Coleman Fisher, adjunct professor of religion and consultant to the president, passed away on November 3, 1985; J. Winston Pearce, writer-in-residence, who authored the two-volume history of Campbell University and many other publications, died on November 28; Donald E. Phelps, chairman, Department of Foreign Languages, died on February 22, 1986; and Muriel M. Bagby, longtime teacher of Latin and assistant librarian (retired), passed away on November 29, 1985.

J. Leon Rumley, chairman, Board of Trustees Norman A. Wiggins, president

Chowan College

Chowan College completed its 138th academic year in 1986, witnessing many gratifying and significant events related to the successful operation of the institution. Special attention was made to enrollment projections, decennial institutional self-study process (reaffirmation of accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools) and the formal launching of a five-year development campaign. The campaign will emphasize funds for student aid, scholarship assistance, general endowment, strengthening faculty and administrative staff, new and/or updated curricular programs, and the renovation of existing campus facilities.

Total enrollment statistics for 1985-86 (Fall semester, 963; Spring semester, 820) slightly exceeded anticipations at the time a budget was projected for the fiscal year. This was particularly gratifying in view of a continuing decline, nationwide, in the number of potential students in the traditional college-age bracket. Enrollment figures for the current academic year (1986-87) give strong indication the college may well experience a similarly good enrollment during the fall semester. If so, this growth will underscore the dedication of the college admissions staff and esteem in which the college is held by its many constituencies. The College also experienced a significant increase in enrollment for the summer term of 1986.

The College entered upon an institutional self-study, looking towards the reaffirmation of accreditation by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. The self-study involves the analysis and evaluation of every facet of institutional life. Self-studies are required of every accredited institution on a 10-year cycle.

Five principal working committees are currently engaged in the task of describing, analyzing, and evaluating all aspects of the institution's life and programs. Its successful completion will serve to strengthen the institution at present and for the decade beyond 1988.

On February 10, 1986, Chowan College officially launched a development campaign aimed at securing a minimum of $4,000,000. Unlike previous campaigns, however, whose major focus has been upon capital needs expansion, the current campaign is directed towards: student financial aid, scholarship assistance, general endowment, strengthening of faculty and administrative staff, new or up-dated curricular programming, and the renovation of existing campus facilities. Gifts and pledges already exceed $1,400,000 (May 31, 1986). Solicitation continues towards commitments for additional major category gifts which are essential to the success of any campaign of this magnitude.

A good enrollment, coupled with sound financial management, enabled the College to operate "in the black" during fiscal 1985-86, an accomplishment reached each of the last 28 years. Debt retirement on the long-term, low interest loans are on (or ahead of) the payment schedule required by the creditors. Current net indebtedness on the physical plant stood at $225,290 as of May 31, 1986.

Chowan College remains committed to cooperative ventures with the Baptist State Convention in ministry to common constituencies. In 1985-86, the College engaged in joint sponsorship or promotion of programs/emphases with the Council on Christian Higher Education (North Carolina Baptist College Day emphasis, College Representation at District Associational Meetings), Division of Youth and Campus Ministries (BSU and Related Campus Ministries), Division of Church Programs (January Bible Study Institute), Division of Missions (Royal Ambassador emphasis, North Carolina Missions Emphasis, Day Camp for Handicapped Youth, Baptist Resource Center), and Council on Christian Life and Public Affairs (Senior Adult Rally). Campus facilities, grounds, and personnel were utilized during the summer of 1986 by numerous church groups for purposes of assemblies, retreats, and encampments. Utilization of campus facilities serves both Baptist constituency and the interests of good stewardship of resources.

This report must not be concluded without reference to the loss of the following persons who made significant contributions: Benjamin Coleman Fisher, Raleigh, member of the Board of Advisors (1978-85), who died on November 3, 1985; Edwin Banks Branch, Enfield, member of the Board of Trustees (1962, 1964-67, 1969-72, 1974-77, 1979-82) and of the Board of Advisors (1978), who died on February 5, 1986; and George Matthew Wood, Camden, member of the Board of Advisors

J. Felix Arnold, chairman, Board of Trustees Bruce E. Whitaker, president

Gardner-Webb College

A strong, vigorous sense of direction and purpose is evident on the campus of Gardner-Webb College with the coming of the new president, M. Christopher White. The trustees elected the tenth president in December to succeed Craven E. Williams in June 1986. White came to Gardner-Webb after 14 years of teaching and administrative experience at Elon College, most recently as Vice President for Academic and Student Affairs. With degrees from Mercer University, the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, and Emory University, White is most capable of directing the College in the years to come. An ordained Southern Baptist minister, he has served pastorates in three states and is active as a speaker and conference leader.

Gardner-Webb College passed other milestones in 1985-86: accreditation by the National League of Nursing for the bachelor's degree in nursing program, the reaffirmation visit by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools, the complete revision of the statement of mission and purpose, and the one hundredth student to graduate from the master's degree program. Personal milestones were reached by some individuals long associated with Gardner-Webb. Robert Abrams retired June 1985 after long and distinguished service in many roles, but most recently as Registrar. Betty Carpenter, Associate Professor of Psychology, retired in December 1985 after a teaching career of twenty years. Dorothy Edwards was honored by the faculty by being named Registrar Emerita, and J. O. Terrell was elected Dean Emeritus.

Students at Gardner-Webb in 1985-86 saw significant improvement to campus buildings. The renovations on Elliott Hall, formerly known as Church Annex, were completed with new windows, new roof, painting and carpeting. Major upgrading, including air-conditioning, is currently underway in the following residence halls: HAPY, Decker and Stroup. The athletic complex was strengthened with the addition of a fully equipped softball field for the women's team and for community use.

Gardner-Webb concluded the 1985-86 year with no operating deficits at the College. Total indebtedness of the College as of June 30, 1986 was $2,027,466. The increase in the debt reflects the significant expenditures on the residence halls. The budget for the 1986-87 year is

For the third consecutive year over $2,000,000 was contributed to the College. Almost 2,000 friends, alumni, foundations, and corporations contributed to the continued growth of the College. The Heritage Club, for persons who have established an endowment or have remembered the College in their will, grew to 179 members. Plans are being developed for a major capital campaign to be conducted in Cleveland County in 1987 and the rest of the Carolinas in 1988.

The May 1986 graduating class of 337 was the largest in history. Associate, bachelors and masters degrees were awarded. The past chairman of the board of Trustees and long time benefactor of the College, Hobart C. Smith, received the honorary Doctor of Humanities. In addition to a strong academic program, 199 student athletes participated in eleven intercollegiate sports programs. Over 20,000 people attended one of the 54 home contests in football, basketball, volleyball and baseball.

The College continues to stress service to the church and community. For example, the B. E. Morris Academy had over 1,800 Baptist youth and 500 Baptist senior citizens attend rallies that involved a day of Christian witness, fun, fellowship, and attendance at athletic contests.

Gardner-Webb looks forward to her 81st year with pride, dedication to values, and commitment to excellence.

Mars Hill College

What is an educated person? That is the question which has engaged the Mars Hill College faculty for many months in study and reaffirmation. The faculty voted in May of 1986 to restructure the general studies curriculum, effective in the fall of 1987. Out of that study came a newly stated set of affirmations. In summary, they are:

1. We affirm the Christian faith.

2. We affirm a purposeful life.

3. We affirm the moral life.

4. We affirm the natural world.

5. We affirm responsible citizenship.

6. We affirm human achievement.

Consistent with these affirmations, the Community Meeting Program and regular chapel programs feature subjects and speakers designed to stimulate the spiritual and intellectual growth of students and faculty. Local pastors, such as Billy Cline, pastor, Merrimon Avenue Church, Asheville, are among those who lead chapel. Special events often bring invited leaders to the campus. Some examples are Wayne Oates, Louisville, speaking on "Mars Hill College: A Fountain of Leadership"; Eric Rust, Louisville, whose subject was "Christ and the Creative Process"; William Cook, addressing "General Education and Civic Responsibility"; and John Hewett, pastor, First Church, Asheville, exploring with students "Is There Life After Birth?"

The student religious program, under the direction of Campus Minister Marie Bean, worked in cooperation with the North Carolina Baptist Youth and Campus Ministries Program. Every summer Mars Hill College students serve with Youth Corps, in Home Missions, overseas in student-funded mission projects, and in North Carolina Baptist campus and conference centers. Last year students contributed $2,200 to the Student Missions Fund. A large number of graduates are attending Southern Baptists' theological seminaries. Each year two or three students serve as Missionary Journeymen, under the auspices of the Foreign Mission Board.

Local churches are very cooperative and support Mars Hill College. Many faculty and students are currently involved in area churches as interim pastors, leaders of youth or ministers of music. Almost every weekend there are special student ministries at the VA Hospital, Elida Home, nursing homes, the Shelter for the Homeless in Asheville, and the Baptist Retirement Home. Ministerial Education Day in the Buncombe and French Broad associations is always a meaningful and valuable experience for students as they go into the churches to preach, sing, and give testimonies under the supervision of the local pastor.

Dormitory Bible studies, Tuesday morning chapel, Thursday evening campus worship, the Staley Lecture Series, and Fall and Spring campus revivals are some of the resources which are available to encourage the college community toward a deeper spiritual life and a growing

The academic year 1985-86 proved to be very productive in college gifts and grants. The College received its first payments from the Mabel Pew Myrin Trust. The College received and invested $100,000 for library acquisitions as a supplement to budgeted funds. Approximately $25,000 per year will be spent over four years, with interest earnings being spent the fifth year. In addition, $25,000 was received for faculty development for the summer of 1986, with a similar amount anticipated for the summer of 1987. Through this grant seventeen faculty members were able to engage in research and study for the summer.

Earlier, the Mabel Pew Myrin Trust provided $370,000 to completely renovate laboratories and classrooms in the Wall Science Building. Several pieces of sophisticated equipment were purchased, making possible a comprehensive renewal of science programs.

Significant progress continues to be made in soliciting funds for the Mellon Challenge Grant. The College must raise $700,000 to be matched by $350,000 from the Mellon Foundation. With 18 months remaining on the 36-month challenge, cash and pledges total $452,610. Significant results are envisioned in the months ahead. Once the $1,000,000 endowment is in place, the annual interest earnings (approximately ninety thousand dollars) will support faculty enrichment and renewal.

Cooperative Program funds from the Baptist State Convention were directly responsible for the financial health of the College. Mars Hill College is truly appreciative of the enabling support from North Carolina Baptists, assuring that at year's end revenues were slightly better than expenditures. The indebtedness of the College totals $2,127,185. Total assets exceed $40 million.

Under the direction of the Board of Trustees, elected by the Convention, Mars Hill College continues to honor its Christian heritage and to prepare for service in the future through Christian higher education.

Meredith College

In her 95th year, Meredith College still affirms her long history of providing the very best in education for women. Meredith is the largest private, four-year college for women in the Southeast with a fall enrollment of approximately 1,850. The graduate program continues to grow with about 170 graduate students in class in the fall semester. A widely-publicized vote against admitting men to the graduate program may also make Meredith the only traditional women's college in the country offering graduate studies to women only. At Meredith, women are challenged to excel at whatever they choose to do and to make a contribution toward "culture made perfect through the religion of Jesus Christ."

In May 1986, Meredith awarded degrees to 352 women: 127 Bachelor of Arts, 196 Bachelor of Science, six Bachelor of music, 18 Master of Business Administration, four Master of Education and one Master of Music. Twelve more graduate degrees were conferred in August: nine Master of Business Administration, two Master of Education, and one Master of Music.

In undergraduate studies, students choose from 30 majors in a high quality academic program. Interdisciplinary majors also give students some flexibility in pursuing their academic interests. Classes are small, still averaging about 17, so students can receive individual attention.

Fifteen percent of Meredith's undergraduate student body are women 23 or older beginning or resuming a college education through Meredith's Re-entry Program. These women offer a new dimension in classrooms traditionally occupied only by 18-22 year olds. This year a re-entry student took top academic honors at graduation, and returning students were so pleased with the program, they established and awarded their first scholarship for re-entry students. The popularity and effectiveness of the program was perhaps best illustrated this fall when the largest group of re-entry students to date registered to begin work toward their degrees at Meredith.

Enrichment courses and professional certificate programs, like the legal assistants program, which is the only such post-baccalaureate program in North Carolina approved by the American Bar Association, continue to attract adult women to Meredith.

As costs for private education in North Carolina continue to rise. North Carolina Baptists and friends of the college keep Meredith accessible to middle income families in the state and beyond. This summer Meredith completed the $20-million Visions Program for faculty enrichment, capital outlay and general endowment two years ahead of schedule. The six-year campaign has provided $5.5 million for new construction, $13.5 milion for endowment and $1 million to supplement the annual operation of the college. The Visions Program has funded construction of the Christina and Seby Jones Chapel, Shearon Harris Building for Business Administration, and Mary E. Yarbrough Research Center and will finance construction of the Gaddy-Hamrick Art Center. The art center, to be completed next spring, is named for Claude F. Gaddy, former head of the Council on Christian Higher Education of the Baptist State Convention, and Fuller B. Hamrick, a Baptist layman from Shelby and treasurer of the Baptist orphanage in Thomasville before his tenure as Meredith's business manager from 1929-43. The Visions Program has also established new scholarships and helped endow the chairs of Meredith's Department of Business and Economics and the Department of English.

Gifts and grants to Meredith during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1986, more than doubled, totaling $4,108,532. This includes $837,225 from the Cooperative Program. An impressive 50.5 percent of Meredith's alumnae gave gifts totaling $958,422, while friends and families of alumnae added $302,161 in the names of women who attended Meredith. Last year Meredith led all colleges and universities in North Carolina in the percentage of alumni financially supporting

During the 1985-86 fiscal year, Meredith's assets were $37,300,000 and the indebtedness was $3,900,000.

Meredith regrets the loss during the past year of David R. Reveley, professor of education and chairman of the department 1955-75; Jennie M. Hanyen, associate professor of home economics, 1931-65; Harry E. Cooper, professor of music, 1937-70 and chairman of the department, 1937-68; Elizabeth Layfield Davis, alumna, trustee, 1963-September 1985; and Hugh G. Ashcraft, trustee, 1964-April 1986.

Wake Forest University

Wake Forest University experienced a "lively year" in 1985-86. In addition to the rigorous academic program, over 700 campus events were available to students, faculty and townspeople free of charge. 1985-86 was a year of "significant" accomplishments, recognitions, decisions, innovations, and contributions.

The Wake Forest golf team won the National Collegiate Athletic Association Championship, the third time Coach Jesse Haddock has led Wake Forest to the pinnacle of college golf.

Carl Tacy resigned as basketball coach after posting a 221-149 record in 13 years. Tyrone Bogues, the 5'3" "giant killer" on the basketball court, led the ACC in both assists and steals the past two seasons and is an All-America candidate. He also helped lead the United States to the world championship in the Goodwill Games.

Several academic changes occurred during the year. A new degree, Master of Arts in Liberal Studies, was established and will be offered beginning with the fall semester of 1987. The degree, designed for those who wish to broaden their education without necessarily preparing for a specific vocation, will be interdisciplinary. Because of the generosity of the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation, the University will offer its most prestigious scholarship, the Reynolds Scholarship, to an additional student, bringing the total to at least five scholarships. Two departments in the College changed their name, indicative of the enlarged scope of their work and purpose. The Department of Mathematics is now the Department of Mathematics and Computer Science, and the Department of Physical Education is now the Department of Health and Sport Science. Reflecting the increasing importance of the Orient to the United States, courses in elementary Japanese became a part of the curriculum for the first time. The Chinese language has been taught since the early seventies.

The annual Pre-School Conference, sponsored by the chaplain's office and held at nearby Camp Hanes, reported a record 250 attendance, with 30 students unable to attend because of the lack of space. The conference is an orientation program led by the chaplains, faculty and upperclassmen.

The assistant chaplain for Baptist students helped establish a new group called Students for Peace and Justice. The chaplain's office, in conjunction with the Wake Forest Baptist Church, also sponsored a revival in the spring. It was well attended by students. The campus ministry program is a varied one which involves the full time of six ministers.

Many well-known speakers lectured on the campus, including Betty Ford, who warmed the hearts of students and faculty as she shared her personal struggle with alcohol and prescription drugs. The former First Lady told of her ultimate victory over the addiction in which a strong faith in God played the major role. Dean Rusk, former U.S. Secretary of State, spoke during the Student Union's Vietnam Symposium, a program designed to help students understand and reflect on those difficult and tragic years in the life of our nation. Elizabeth H. Dole, Secretary, United States Department of Transportation, was the speaker for the Broyhill Executive Lecture Series.

Gifts to the University for the 1985-86 fiscal year were most encouraging. The University Relations Department reports the best year in the history of the school with $20,003,302 contributed. The University is particularly grateful to the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation for a $2 million grant. Of this amount $600,000 will be used for minority scholarships, and $1 million will be used to fund the Reynolds Scholars program. The remainder is designated for the Reynolds Professorships Endowment. The annual contribution of the Foundation for operations was increased from $620,000 to $750,000.

The endowment for the University as of June 30, 1986 was approximately $190,000,000. The 1986-87 budget (Reynolda campus: College, Graduate School, Babcock, and Law) is $57,187,000. The budget for the Bowman Gray School of Medicine is $102,466,746, for a total of $159,653,746. Cooperative Program and designated gifts to the Univesity for the fiscal year were $542,660.

A record 4,979-student enrollment is projected for the fall of 1986. The College is expected to have 3,450 students, the Graduate School 310, Babcock Graduate School of Management 276, the Law School 511, and the Bowman Gray School of Medicine 432. Allied Health, a program of the Medical Center (Bowman Gray/Baptist Hospital), will have about 100 pesons involved in non-degree studies.

Harold W. Tribble, college president from 1950 to 1967 and leader in the school's move from the town of Wake Forest, died June 17, 1986. The University community and friends across the state remembered with gratitude and respect his stalwart efforts and outstanding leadership in the school's relocation and in attaining University status. The Wake Forest community was also saddened by the death of James R. Nance of Fayetteville, who served two terms as a trustee.

The 1985 Baptist State Convention considered a proposal of the covenant committees of the University and the Council on Christian Higher Education. The proposed change, however, failed to gain the necessary two-thirds majority required to make the agreement part of the Convention's constitution. At the December 1985 meeting, the Wake Forest trustees amended the charter of the school to provide for a self-perpetuating board, stating that not less than two-thirds of its membership be composed of those who are members of churches cooperating with the Baptist State Convention. In the resolution accompanying the charter change, the University's desire to continue its relationship with the Convention is clearly stated. The outcome of the negotiations taking place between the two parties since that decision will not be determined until the meeting of the 1986 Convention in Greensboro.

Joseph Branch, chairman, Board of Trustees Thomas K. Hearn, Jr., president

Wingate College

The Wingate College yearbook, The Gate, appropriately entitled its 1985-86 edition "On the Move," for the phrase sufficiently summarizes the year. This was indeed an exciting year of growth and advancement for the College. The College continued its quest to find new and better ways to provide high quality education in a supportive Christian environment.

Construction and renovation were evident everywhere on campus with over five million dollars' worth of projects simultaneously underway.

The Charles A. Cannon Complex, the sports and recreation center, began to take form during the year. This $3.5 million, 55,000-squarefoot complex will be anchored by a basketball arena and swimming pool. Connected to Sanders-Sikes Gymnasium, the combined facility will greatly enhance the College's ability to offer first class opportunities in physical education, health and recreation, and intercollegiate athletics. C. C. Burris Hall, located in the academic quadrangle and the largest classroom building on campus, underwent a complete restoration. The comprehensive $1 million project included exterior restoration of the 1932 structure plus extensive redesign of the interior to enhance the classroom experience for faculty and students. Completely new electrical, mechanical, and plumbing systems were installed. Burris Hall houses 30 faculty offices, two secretarial office suites, three conference rooms, 19 classrooms, an English composition computer laboratory, and an audio-visual room. During the renovation people were relocated and schedules adjusted. Yet this project and the others have brought a renewed spirit of cooperation to campus.

On May 2 the R. W. Goodman Campus Service Center was dedicated. This facility, named in honor of a long-time friend of Wingate, R. W. Goodman of Rockingham, houses the physical plant staff. The ribbon-cutting ceremonies featured Mr. and Mrs. Goodman and four Wingate College graduates—their children.

A $300,000 football fieldhouse was constructed primarily from gifts-in-kind from friends of the College in neighboring communities. This fieldhouse provides a home for a sport that returns to campus after a 25-year absence.

Four building projects going on at one time have had a significant impact on campus life and signal an increase in activity in years to come. The College is indebted to the Charles A. Cannon charitable interests and many other donors for their loyalty, support, and commitment to the future.

Wingate and the Biblical Recorder co-sponsored four area writers' workshops, including one at Wingate. They were conducted by Dr. Robert Hastings, editor emeritus of The Illinois Baptist and visiting professor of communications at Wingate; R. Gene Pucket, editor of the Biblical Recorder; and Larry High and Robert Wachs, also of the Biblical Recorder. These seminars focused on the design and publication of church communications.

Founders' Day, February 19, brought two distinguished Baptist educators to campus. Ethel K. Smith, librarian emerita, and C. Allen Burris '49, Vice President and Dean of Meredith College, each spoke at the morning convocation and were the featured guests on campus.

Winternational, now well established as Wingate's international study/travel experience, took 193 students flying off to London, Rome, Berlin, and Geneva. This unique program continues to be an important part of the liberal arts experience. Additionally, 18 students accompanied Professor C. Douglas Helms on Wingate-in-London during the fall semester. This living and learning experience allows the students to unpack and become European citizens.

The Plan for the Second Century: Vision for Excellence, a decadelong, $30 million fund-raising campaign, was announced on April 2. This will be the most comprehensive capital campaign in the history of the institution. Plans call for its successful conclusion in time for the centennial celebration in 1995-96.

A milestone was reached in the Ethel K. Smith Library with the accession of the 100,000th volume. A King James Bible, published in 1629, was chosen to be the honored selection.

In 1985-86, 95 Wingate College students were preparing for vocations in Christian ministry. Forty-five students were preparing for the pastorate; 25 for educational ministries; 15 for music ministries; and 10 for home and foreign missions.

Two hundred and fifty-five students were awarded baccalaureate degrees at the College commencement ceremonies. Of those, 14 were Wingate's first recipients of the B.S.N. degree. The Charles and Hazel Corts Award for Excellence in College Teaching went to Dr. Bobby G. Bell, Professor of Ecucation and Social Science. Associate degrees were awarded to 27 students.

The College community was saddened by the death of Thomas B. Rushing. Rushing, of Marshville, was a 1933 graduate of Wingate and was in his seventh term as college trustee, having begun serving in

Approximately 2,000 donors made direct contributions to join with North Carolina Baptists who provided funds through the Cooperative Program to sustain Wingate's ministry. The College was able to once again operate on a balanced budget during 1985-86, and it continues to enjoy a position almost unique among the nation's private colleges in that it has no indebtedness and operates without use of borrowed funds. A great debt of gratitude is owed Baptists of North Carolina and other friends who have made it possible for the College to continue to offer "high grade" education.

Christian Life and Public Affairs

Through three departments, the Council on Christian Life and Public Affairs has provided a variety of field service events and educational resources for North Carolina Baptists. Associational Christian Life Committee members were trained. Information and guidance on a wide range of social and ethical issues were furnished to individuals, churches, and associations.

Two actions from the 1985 annual session relate to the work of this Council. First, the Convention asked the Council to promote the Sanctity of Human Life Sunday in January 1986 and to spend as much promoting this day in 1987 as would be spent promoting World Hunger Day. Promotional materials for the 1986 observance were ordered from the Christian Life Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention, which has primary responsibility for promoting special emphases on the SBC calendar. Additional funding was provided by the Convention's Executive Committee, and sample materials were mailed to all pastors in early December.

Second, the Convention voted to move North Carolina's emphasis on world hunger from June to the second Sunday in October, the date designated as World Hunger Day on the SBC calendar. Since this move put the Baptist State Convention back in alignment with the SBC on the scheduling of World Hunger Day, North Carolina Baptists were able to use the materials prepared by the Christian Life Commission (SBC).

The Christian Life Commission (SBC) will continue to prepare and provide materials for use in connection with dates of ethical significance on the Southern Baptist Convention calendar. These dates include the Sanctity of Human Life Sunday, Race Relations Sunday, Christian Citizenship Sunday, Day of Prayer for Peace, and World Hunger Day. North Carolina Baptists, by making use of these materials, are able to save Cooperative Program money by avoiding expensive duplication of efforts.

Douglas Cole, director

Christian Citizenship Education

This year has been one of varied activity for this Department. The General Assembly met for its regular short session, a session which ended up lasting for six weeks. Primary issues were the state's budget, including funds for highway improvements, and questions involving liability insurance. In addition, the legislature passed laws making it easier for parents to collect child support payments, setting up ways to help victims and witnesses of crime, and encouraging the preservation of prime farmland. At the same time, the General Assembly let die bills which would have extended the dram shop liability in alcohol laws, provided greater protection against hazardous wastes, and set up statewide standards for dealing with children who are endangered by their home environments. The newly elected General Assembly will convene in early February 1987. For the first time, membership in the Legislative Information Network will be available to all Baptists; and a nominal membership fee will be charged.

Hunger continued to be an important issue before North Carolina Baptists. As approved by the Convention last November, World Hunger Day was observed in October, the time suggested by the Southern Baptist Convention calendar. Decent rains in many parts of Africa have eased the crisis conditions facing millions of Africans. But a handful of countries still live on the edge of disaster, and the rains provide only short-term relief, while long-term, small-scale development is still desperately needed. Unfortunately, with the easing of crisis conditions, Baptists' gifts to fight hunger have diminished. North Carolina Baptists, who gave over a million dollars in 1985, will almost certainly give an average of less than 75 cents per person in all of 1986.

In September, the Council co-sponsored (along with the North Carolina Baptist Men) a week-long emphasis on pornography. The week included regional meetings in Asheville, Charlotte, Jacksonville, and Winston-Salem and a day-long symposium in Raleigh. Keynote speaker was Ken Wooden, nationally-known expert on the effects of pornography on children.

J. George Reed, director

Christian Family Life

The Department of Christian Family Life made available a wide range of family life events in 1986. A highlight was the "Evangelism Through the Home" conference, co-sponsored with the Division of Evangelism in conjunction with the "Good News America—God Loves You" emphasis. Another major thrust was the launching of the "Parenting by Grace" parent enrichment model. One workshop and five leadership training opportunities were offered.

Five Marriage Enrichment Retreats were held in the churches. These couples experienced relational communication, coping with conflict and affirmational skills in seeking to "make good marriages better." Special opportunities were the January Clergy Couples Retreat this year utilizing the Myers Briggs evaluation form. The August Basic Marriage Enrichment Leadership Training retreat enabled several couples to achieve a major part of leadership accreditation in this vital area of "Strengthening the Family."

Three area-wide (approximately 24 associations) single adult seminars were held and the more than three hundred single adults and leaders who attended received leadership training in single adult ministry and guidance in areas relevant to their life's needs.

Two videotapes were made featuring presentations by the director in family living entitled "The Perils and Possibilities of Mid-life" and "Discipline that Disciples."

A training session on battered women (domestic violence) was conducted for a Mount Airy pastor's conference and a family life workshop on "Divorce and Step Parenting" was held at Greenville High School.

Leadership and program assistance were offered by the department to associations, churches and their staffs in the crucial task of strengthening family life.

Two conferences for pastors' wives were underwritten by the department's budget.

Robert L. Newton, director

Aging

1986 has been a significant year for Baptist Senior Adults in North Carolina. In April eight regional senior adult rallies were held across the state with more than three thousand in attendance. The theme for the rallies was "Fulfillment of HIS Purpose."

Ths six conferences/retreats for senior adults held at Caraway Baptist Conference Center in May and October continued to attract capacity crowds.

In May a special two-day seminar for pastors, "Pastoral Care of Older Members and Their Families," was conducted at Caraway Baptist Conference Center.

More and more churches are offering specialized conferences dealing with such subjects as "You and Your Aging Parent." The Department Director has offered leadership in a number of these.

Leadership training opportunities have been offered by the department in the development of senior adult ministries and these efforts continue to be a major emphasis.

Churches are becoming more and more aware of the vast potential for ministry among older persons. Senior adults are responding to the challenge to fulfill God's purpose in their lives.

Ted W. Williams, director

Baptist Children's Homes of North Carolina, Inc.

Building Children's Hopes at the Baptist Children's Homes of North Carolina is more than a theme, it is a lifestyle. Our mission is to care for dependent, neglected and abused children, unwed mothers and their babies; and the rendering of related services to their families. All efforts are made to avoid, wherever possible, the removal of a child from the natural family. Therefore, our services are directed toward the preservation, conservation and rehabilitation of the family.

These building hope services are offered by the Baptist Children's Homes of North Carolina at 17 different facilities across the state.

Group care campuses are Mills Home, Thomasville; Kennedy Memorial Home, Kinston; Odum Home, Pembroke and Broyhill Home, Clyde. Nine Emergency Care Homes are located on our four campuses and in Forest City, High Point, Supply, Henderson and Charlotte. The Maternity Home is located in Asheville. A Therapeutic Camping program is located near Cameron-Vass. A network of Foster Homes are located across the state. A model Child Development Center is located on the Mills Home campus in Thomasville.

With the conclusion of the dramatic and moving centennial worship celebration at the 1985 Baptist State Convention in Charlotte, activities did not slow down a great deal at the Baptist Children's Homes.

In the spirit of cooperating Baptists, the Baptist Children's Homes, the Baptist Retirement Homes, the Baptist Hospital and the fine staff of our convention, formulated plans for the implementation of the new Homes & Hospital Offering, approved by the November convention. This offering was received in May 1986. We encourage your church to set a challenging goal for the 1987 Homes & Hospital Offering.

Some of the highlights centered around church life on our campuses included the following: Participation of the children/youth in January Bible Study, Vacation Bible School, chorus, Sunday School, worship, RAs, GAs, Acteens, drama, the Christmas cantatas, assisting in local church worship services across the state and witnessing the beautiful experience of 25 being baptized into the fellowship of believers. Many of the children/youth in care availed themselves to the opportunity of attending our denominational camps.

Through the six services available to children/youth at the Baptist Children's Homes, over 1,500 children/youth were given an opportunity for a new beginning.

The newest service of the Children's Homes, the Moody Farm Ministries, will be in operation by the beginning of 1987. This service is designed for teenage girls. Through intensive friendship therapy, with the help of a Christian couple, the girls will seek to build hope that will enable them to live normal and healthy lives.

Other highlights for the year include the Arts & Crafts Festival honoring the youth of our state. Youth under 18 years of age were invited to participate in a juried art show that was judged by well-known artist Bob Timberlake. There were 90 entries. More than a thousand people visited the Mills Home campus in Thomasville, including those who set up craft booths and the youth entertainers. Plans are for a repeat of this festival in April or May, 1987.

A first for the Baptist Children's Homes was the process of becoming an accredited child care institution. Only two other children's homes in North Carolina have this distinction. The procedure included a critical evaluation by a peer team of staff members from other child care institutions. All of our campuses were visited by the review team. It was an exacting and demanding process and will serve as the first step toward a long-range planning process which is to begin in early 1987.

Michael C. Blackwell, president, encouraged all employees to participate in a Presidential Forum on all four of our campuses. The purpose of the forums was to afford an opportunity for every employee to express themselves on the weaknesses and strengths of the institution. Solutions to the weaknesses would be given careful attention by those involved, as well as the trustees and the president.

Homecoming on the Mills Home and Kennedy Home campuses witnessed more than 1,500 alumni returning to their "home." Each alumni council plans include a special project on their "home"

The staff of each campus annually plans an awards night during which time every child/youth in care is given a certificate of achievement. Every child/youth is recognized as having made progress in one or more areas of their life.

Seventeen of the youth in care are enrolled in advanced educational institutions assisted by low interest loans and scholarships made available through Baptist Children's Homes.

The staff, trustees, children in care and our president are grateful to the Baptists of North Carolina for their faithfulness to this child care ministry, as expressed through their financial support. Thirty-seven percent of our daily operating budget is derived from the Baptists of North Carolina. The remaining portion is received from grant-in-aid funds from the legislature, purchase of care, friends, support payments, Duke Endowment, foundations and corporations. We believe our ministry is a fulfillment of the mission mandate of the Great Commission. We continue to commit this ministry and ourselves to honor the trust of Baptists and the mission of our Lord. The Baptist children's Homes of North Carolina has existed for 101 years for one reason...to serve children and their families...in your stead...in Christ's name.

Michael C. Blackwell, president David Morrow, chairman, Board of Trustees

Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina, Inc.

In 1986 the Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina, Inc. marked its 35th year of service as an institutional care provider serving the needs of Baptist older adults in the state. It was in many ways a year that signalled a dramatic new direction for the Homes.

In 1986, William B. Stillerman became the third president of Baptist Retirement Homes. As a result of his leadership, the year witnessed a reorganization of the management and financial structure of the institution.

In January, 1986, the Board of Trustees adopted a long-range plan for the expansion of existing and the construction of new facilities. Winston-Salem, Asheville, Charlotte, and the Raleigh-Durham area were targeted as potential sites for "Continuing Care Facilities." A State-Wide Development Committee, composed of church, community, and business leaders, was selected to assist the trustees in the development projects.

1986 was also a year that saw the development of new working relationships between the Homes and other institutions. Physicians from the Bowman Gray School of Medicine assumed direct responsibility for patient care at the medical unit in Winston-Salem, and new relationships with the University of North Carolina at Greensboro (School of Nursing) and the Gerontology Institute of Mars

Hill College were begun.

Although 1986 was a year of change, it was also a time when the Homes emphasized that which has marked its ministry through the years...quality care to residents and patients. At its five personal care facilities (Albemarle, Asheville, Hamilton, Winston-Salem, and Yanceyville), as well as in its medical unit in Winston-Salem, a professional ministry of concern and support was afforded to the many older adults entrusted to its care. Although the Homes has expanded its ministry and attempted to serve through the Baptists of the state an even greater number of senior adults, the need for residential services for older adults demands even more time, energy, and funding than was expended in years gone by. The vision for 1987 and beyond is to try in partnership with the Baptists of North Carolina to meet in a creative and positive manner that need.

John E. Dotterer, chairman, Board of Trustees William B. Stillerman, president

North Carolina Baptist Hospital, Inc.

During the past year, Baptist Hospital admitted 23,535 patients for a total of 195,243 days of patient care. These patients came from all across North Carolina, from 31 other states and the District of Columbia. Eight patients came from outside the United States. An additional 252,043 ambulatory patients were seen in the outpatient clinics and the emergency department.

These people came to Baptist Hospital because it has the medical expertise and the technical equipment required to provide the tertiary health care they needed. For example, Baptist Hospital surgeons successfully removed a relatively rare tumor from the interior surface of a woman's heart. Plastic surgeons were able to remove scar tissue and restore hair growth for a child who lost 40 percent of her hair-bearing scalp in a kitchen fire. Around-the-clock efforts of surgeons saved the lives of nine young people who drank potasium hydroxide (lye) thinking it was wine.

Carbon dioxide laser is now being used to treat some cases of early cancer of vocal cords, usually leaving patients with normal or near normal speech. Four types of lasers are used in treating problems of the eye.

A new lithotripter uses high energy shock waves to break up large kidney stones. This alternative to surgery saves money, pain and recovery time for many patients. Most patients can be discharged the day after treatment and can return to work within a week after therapy.

During the past year, the medical center has begun an emergency helicopter service to transport victims of trauma to the hospital more rapidly and also to transfer patients from one hospital to another. The helicopter not only provides faster transportation but is equipped and staffed to provide emergency care for patients while they are in transit.

The School of Pastoral Care continues its outreach through its satellite centers in Fayetteville, Morganton and Charlotte with opportunities also in other communities such as North Wilkesboro, Lenoir, Asheville and Rockingham. (The Raleigh Center has become independent.) These centers, together with the one in Winston-Salem, provided 24,553 hours of counseling during the past year. Chaplains in the hospital made 56,460 visits with patients, families and employees. The School of Pastoral Care provided clinical pastoral education to 694 ministers and trainees through a total of 71 CPE programs.

The medical center's $150 million facilities expansion program is on schedule and within budget. New facilities will include a new patient tower, a new clinical services building, an addition to the research facilities and a building to house the magnetic resonance imaging

During the past fiscal year, Baptist churches of North Carolina gave $566,307 through the Cooperative Program and $374,238 through the North Carolina Missions Offering. These gifts help make possible two of the distinctive ministries of the hospital: pastoral care and benevolent care. For these, the staff and the patients are most grateful to North Carolina Baptists.

Frances E. Garvin, chairman, Board of Trustees John E. Lynch, president

North Carolina Baptist Foundation, Incorporated

In 1985, North Carolina Baptists placed over $1 million in new trust agreements with the N.C. Baptist Foundation, making provision for the perpetual support of practically every Baptist cause. Endowment of Cooperative Program was a primary trust designation.

It is now possible through the Foundation for each Baptist to "Give it Twice," once to family, then to Kingdom causes. Through properly constructed trusts and Wills, family members and friends can receive from one's estate, over a period of years, an amount exactly equal to, or even greater than the estate portion they would normally receive through an ordinary estate distribution. With the "Give it Twice" plan, after the family receives their portion, the entire estate principal is still intact, with the income from the entire estate available for Christian causes—forever.

The Foundation also benefits the local church by encouraging individual stewardship growth and commitment. In nearly every instance, those who elect to commit to Kingdom use a portion of their estate assets, are during their lifetime more committed stewards. They enjoy their giving, and this happy, conscious stewardship dedication must be a profit for the church.

The Foundation seeks to inform Baptist people of:

1. Their responsibility as stewards to make provision for the future use of their resources.

The critical need experienced by all Baptist causes for endowment support—the ongoing, assured support of those who support them now.

3. Ways by which these realities may be met and accomplished.

174/Baptist State Convention

Specifically, the local church may be benefitted in these ways:

Members are encouraged to name a local church in their Wills. A percent of the estate is usually preferred, rather than a dollar amount.

2. The church may receive real estate in a Life Estate agreement. The individual deeds to the church certain property, or a portion of such property, maintaining all rights and responsibilities to it for life or for a designated period, and then the property becomes that of the church.

3. Appreciated property and securities, "E" bonds, church bonds, bank shares, and nearly any property of value can be transferred into a trust which can benefit the individual and the church—now or at a future date.

4. The Foundation assists churches in establishing their own endowment, memorials, or Planned Giving committees, then works with the committee to promote estate stewardship among the people. The Foundation can—and does—serve as fiscal agent, managing the memorial funds, etc. received as a result of church committee's efforts, and then distributes the income back to the church or other designated beneficiaries.

5. Local churches are now investing special funds which they hold for some future cause, with the Foundation for loans to new churches, to associations to purchase property for new churches, etc. These may be long-term or short-term loans, and each is handled on an individual basis. The local church receives a fair return on its funds while enjoying the knowledge they have made those funds available to a struggling congregation who is engaged in the same "calling" as they—preaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

6. Local churches, or specific programs of local churches, may be named beneficiary and owner of insurance policies, or the church may be named co-beneficiary, secondary beneficiary, remainder beneficiary, residual beneficiary, or even dividends may be assigned to the church. Tax consequences may accrue to the donor in each case.

In summary, every cause the church promotes and supports can be endowed for perpetual and "forever" support. The Foundation's role is to help the church, church members, and congregations find the best ways to do so.

Biblical Recorder

The Biblical Recorder will remember 1986 as 1982—the years in which second-class postage rates soared and threatened the very existence of state Baptist papers.

In January, 1982, the U.S. Postal Service raised the rates so much that the cost of a weekly mailing of the Recorder went from $2,500 to $6,500 each week. That increase of 260 percent created tremendous problems and the paper found it necessary to drop one issue each month to avoid bankruptcy. Second-class rates were rolled back some and in the fall of 1982, weekly publishing was resumed for the paper.

In January 1986, a new increase was applied, and it was followed by two more. In the first quarter of 1986, second-class rates for the Recorder increased 89 percent, and the postage bill increased approximately $100,000. The rates for 1987 are unknown at this time but it is assumed they will be increased, perhaps substantially because of a proposed restructuring of the rates.

The financial pressures imposed on the paper by the U.S. Postal Service could not have been managed if the Recorder did not have its own building debt-free which has greatly reduced the costs of overhead operations. Careful management of resources and thorough analysis of costs have enabled the paper to stay in the black for this year, but 1987 raises many questions relative to finances and solvency.

The Recorder continues to enjoy a wide readership. As could be expected, the crisis in the Southern Baptist Convention which the paper had to report, has produced bouquets and brickbats from supporters and critics respectively. Attacks upon the paper and its editors have hurt circulation in some areas while expanding it in others. All major Baptist state papers face the same dilemma, not one of their making but one forced upon them by conditions and circumstances in the denomination.

The Biblical Recorder takes seriously its responsibility to support the interests of the denomination, at every level. Every effort has been and will continue to be put forth to be fair and accurate in reporting without making the paper a tool or instrument of any particular element within the Baptist fellowship. The paper wants to serve all Baptists, with a particular responsibility to undergird the specific causes of North Carolina Baptists.

Two staff changes have occurred in the past year. Robert J. Wachs, associate in editorial and circulation at the Recorder since January, 1985, became the director of communications for Baptist Children's Homes, Thomasville on July 1, 1986. His new duties include serving as editor of Charity and Children.

Jean Gupton joined the Recorder staff in September as editorial assistant. Mrs. Gupton served 27 years at First Baptist Church, Raleigh, as church secretary. In her new role, she will assist the managing editor in production of the paper and the editor in the area of circulation.

As the North Carolina Baptist paper enters its 155th year, there will not be an increase in subscription costs. As a servant of the people and their churches, the paper will continue to be made available as economically as possible to make it easier for churches to subscribe through the budget plan which is only $5 per year for each subscription. The rates have not been raised for five consecutive years despite the substantial increase in second-class postage rates.

It is an indisputable fact that informed Baptists are better Baptists.

Accurate information is indispensible to any democracy in which individuals cast votes to determine their future. State Baptist papers were born and continue to serve that great need.

The directors and staff of the Biblical Recorder are grateful for the support and prayers of thousands of North Carolina Baptists. Thank you for giving us an opportunity to serve you. You are invited to visit the Recorder Building, get acquainted with the staff and see the operations of the paper. The building is just north of the Beltline, near Six Forks Road at 232 West Millbrook Road, Raleigh, NC 27609. The telephone numbers are (919) 847-2127 and 847-2128.

Executive Committee of the General Board of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina

We have examined the balance sheet of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina as of December 31, 1986, and the related statements of changes in general fund balances, receipts and transfers by fund, activity of restricted reserve funds, income and expenses of General Board and Convention, divisional summary of departmental income and expenses of General Board and Convention, and education and social services institutions funds income, expenses, distributions, and fund balances for the year then ended. Except as explained in the first two sentences of the following paragraph, our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The funds shown as sent direct on the statement of receipts and transfers by funds, were taken from reports received by the Convention and were not otherwise verified by us. Our examination as detailed by Note 3 was, in some instances, limited to recorded receipts. The statements presented in this report are, in our opinion, in accord with generally accepted accounting principles and agree with statements prepared on the accrual basis, except for differences explained in Note 1 relating to income, expenses, and depreciation. Additions to fixed assets are recorded at cost; dispositions of fixed assets are deleted from fixed asset accounts to the extent known; and, provision is not made for depreciation (Notes 1 and 2).

In our opinion, except for the effects of the matters referred to in the preceding paragraph, the aforementioned financial statements present fairly the financial position of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina at December 31, 1986, and the results of its operations and the changes in fund balances for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

The financial information presented in Schedules 1 and 2 has been subjected to the same auditing procedures that were applied for the aforementioned financial statements. In our opinion, it is fairly presented in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole, although it is not necessary for a fair presentation of the financial position and the results of operations of the Convention.

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

The Convention is on a modified cash basis and adheres to the principle of fund accounting. The financial statements presented in this report are in accord with generally accepted accounting principles, and agree materially with financial statements prepared on the accrual basis, with the following differences:

- (a) Income is recorded as received in cash because it is not generally susceptible to accrual.
- (b) Expenditures for inventory-type items, prepaid expenses, and fixed asset outlays are recorded as expenses when paid and charged to budgeted accounts.
- (c) There is no provision for depreciation of fixed assets.
- (d) When in existence, long-term debt is recorded on the Convention books and appears on the balance sheet.

Interest expense on long-term debt is recorded when paid and charged to a budgeted account.

Financial transactions are controlled by a budget passed by the Convention and accounted for within budgetary accounts. Distributions of income to Southern Baptist Convention areas or accounts and other external recipients are charged to the same period as the income. Salaries are expensed as paid; however, payment dates always correspond to the period in which salaries are earned. Other policies are described below:

- (a) Notes and accounts receivable not involving income accruals are recorded.
- (b) In a few instances, inventories and prepaid expenses at year-end are recorded at cost in asset accounts. Amounts in this category are not material and are recorded to conform to budget procedures.
- (c) Investments are recorded at cost. Earnings thereon are added to the investing fund.
- (d) Purchases of fixed assets and improvements are charged to operating expenses as they are paid. The assets are also recorded at cost in the fixed assets accounts of the general fund, and credited to the fund balance. No consideration is given to depreciation. Leasehold costs are amortized over the life of the leaseholds or extensions thereof. Real estate disposed of is deleted from the fixed asset accounts at the time of disposition. Personal property is also deleted from the fixed asset accounts when disposed of if complete information is available.

With the exception of the Baptist Building and Caraway Baptist Conference Center and Camp, detailed subsidiary ledgers are not maintained. Subsidiary ledgers for furniture and equipment at the two aforementioned locations have been compiled, and are being maintained on a current basis. In some instances, equipment is acquired through capital leases; generally accepted accounting principles dictate that the equipment should be added to fixed assets and a corresponding liability recorded. The leases involved are not material to the statements and their current lease cost has been recorded only as a budgeted expense item.

- (e) Current unpaid expenses are not accrued and do not involve an expense accounts payable account. As a practical matter, at the end of the year most creditors will have been paid up-to-date and the unpaid amounts are not material to the statements.
- (f) The Convention contributes to retirement plans for its own employees and shares in the cost of plans of ministers and employees of participating Baptist churches in North Carolina. All such costs are charged to operations in the year paid. The retirement plans are administered by the Annuity Board of the Southern Baptist Convention. Required contributions by the Convention for 1986, as determined by the Annuity Board, were $954,386.
- (g) The Convention routinely receives contributions designated for specific uses. From time to time, the Convention or General Board designates certain funds for special purposes. All designations are recorded in restricted fund accounts so that charges to the accounts can be restricted to the designated purposes.
- (h) The Convention is a tax-exempt organization and does not, therefore, have to account for income taxes.

2. DEPRECIATION:

Fixed assets are valued at accumulated costs for prior years, plus costs of additions for the current year, reduced by dispositions when ascertainable, and with no consideration given to depreciation. As a result, the values do not reflect depreciated costs, or net costs where complete information on dispositions has not been known.

3. FUNDS SENT DIRECT AND RECORDED RECEIPTS:

The funds shown as sent direct on the Statement of Receipts and Transfers by Fund, were taken from reports received by the Convention and were not otherwise verified by us. As a routine procedure, funds are received by the Convention business office from various departments within the Convention covering registration fees, miscellaneous sales, expense reimbursements, and other such items. Our examination of these items was limited to receipts as recorded in the business office receipts books. Our examination of receipts for the North Carolina Baptist Assembly, the Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute, and Caraway Baptist Conference Center and Camp, was limited to amounts recorded in prenumbered receipt books and did not include reconciliations to separate records of registrations, enrollments, and attendance.

4. NOTES AND BONDS RECEIVABLE - CHURCHES:

Notes receivable resulting from loans to churches bear low interest at varying rates and are secured by deeds of trust. Loan provisions generally require repayment over a period ranging from three to ten years according to terms of the individual notes. Bonds receivable consist of investments in church bonds with interest compounded semi-annually until maturity. All are first mortgage bonds. They are as follows:

Bonds Issued By	Interest Rate	Date Issued	MaturityDate	Face Value at Year-End
Matthews Baptist Church - Matthews, North Carolina	13%	4-1-82	1993	$ 8,813

OTHER NOTES RECEIVABLE:

The note receivable from Caswell Water Systems, Inc. for $21,000 is a noninterest-bearing demand note. In 1969, Caswell Water Systems, Inc. was set up as a nonprofit corporation to purchase and operate the water system supplying water for the North Carolina Baptist Assembly. The loan, originally in the amount of $25,000 from the Convention to Caswell Water Systems, Inc., was made for the purpose of providing funds for the purchase of the water system, related property, and expenses connected therewith.

6. RESTRICTED RESERVE FUNDS:

Restricted reserve fund balances as reflected by Exhibit D amount to $2,613,090 at December 31, 1986. These funds have been reserved for specific uses due to action of the General Board and Convention, or, in some instances, due to a designation accompanying the funds upon receipt.

7. CONVENTION RESERVE:

The Convention (1976 Annual Session), recognizing the need for reserves to meet emergencies or decreased income, made provision for the establishment of a reserve fund as early as feasible. As a result the Convention Emergency Fund reserve has been set up. The funds assets are being invested by the Baptist Foundation. The activity for 1986 was as follows:

Balance, December 31, 1985	$ 399,557
Increases (Decreases):
Foundation Net Investment Increase	53,612
Contributions	31,546

The balance is reflected in the restricted reserve funds.

13. NORTH CAROLINA BAPTIST ASSEMBLY LOAN APPROVAL:

The Convention in its November 1986 session approved borrowing up to and not to exceed, $2,000,000 to construct a conference center and two classroom buildings at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly. No borrowing against this approval had been effected at December 31, 1986.

14. CONVENTION BYLAWS:

Previous to December 31, 1986, the Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute had been under the supervision of the Missions Division. At its November 1986 session, the Convention approved an amendment to the bylaws, stating that, effective January 1, 1987, Fruitland will be responsible to the General Board of the Convention as an agency of the Board. The operations of the Institute will be managed by a Board of Directors who are elected by and report to the General Board.

15. CONTINGENCIES:

By action of the General Board in 1979, the Convention is underwriting housing loans obtained from the Baptist Employees Credit Union for new Convention staff employees. The Convention is obligated to make yearly payments of principal and interest on loans up to $5,000 for individual employees for up to a five-year period, or until the employees terminate employment. At December 31, 1986, the Convention was contingently liable on employee loan balances in the amount of $38,000.

15. CONTINGENCIES: (Continued)

By action of the General Board in September, 1986, the Convention has agreed to underwrite church loans extended through the North Carolina Baptist Foundation, Inc. up to a maximum of $3,000,000 contingent upon written financial and legal documents being presented to the Executive Committee. As of December 31, 1986, no such loans had been made.

Insurance coverages were provided by management and reflect renewal values at January 16, 1987. These coverages are subject to a 90% co-insurance clause.

The net decrease in furniture and equipment at Caraway Baptist Conference Center and Camp in the amount of $27,244 (as shown in the "Net Change" column above) reflects an adjustment to agree the cost to the total of an actual inventory of these assets taken in 1986.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

September 30, 1986

NOTE 1: NATURE OF ACTIVITIES AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

NATURE OF ACTIVITIES:

Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina, Incorporated is a nonprofit corporation organized under the laws of the State of North Carolina. Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina, Incorporated (the Home) is a religious, nonprofit corporate entity formed through the efforts of, controlled by and financially subsidized by the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. The Board of Trustees of the Home is appointed by the North Carolina Baptist State Convention and has the responsibility and authority to operate and make management decisions for the Home.

The Home owns, maintains and operates five facilities throughout North Carolina for the purpose of providing for the care for older adults in a Christian environment either free of charge or for compensation.

The Home is exempt from income taxes under Section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

The financial statements of Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina, Incorporated have been prepared on the accrual basis. The significant accounting policies followed are described below to enhance the usefulness of the financial statements to the reader.

Fund Accounting — To ensure observance of limitations and restrictions placed on the use of resources available to the Home, the accounts of the Home are maintained in accordance with the principles of fund accounting. That is the procedure by which resources for various purposes are classified for accounting and reporting purposes into funds established according to their nature and purposes. Separate accounts are maintained for each fund; however, in the accompanying financial statements, funds that have similar characteristics have been combined into fund groups. Accordingly, all financial transactions have been recorded and reported by fund group.

The assets, liabilities, and fund balances of the Home are reported in two self-balancing fund groups as follows:

Operating funds, which include unrestricted and restricted resources, represent the portion of expendable funds that is available for support of Home operations.

Plant funds represent resources restricted for plant acquisitions and funds expended for plant.

C. W. Bazemore

Cyrus (Cy) W. Bazemore who died July 2, 1987, at age 83 was the ideal "denominational servant." He was multi-talented in writing, preaching, teaching, counseling (especially with pastors), and above all, he knew and loved the Bible supremely.

After an early career in journalism, he was ordained to preach in 1943 and he and his wife, Lena B., headed for Louisville, Kentucky, where he entered Southern Seminary. After serving churches in Virginia and North Carolina, on his return he became superintendent of missions in the Roanoke Association in 1947 which then covered seven counties. He served for three years before coming to the Biblical Recorder in 1950 as associate to the Editor L. L. Carpenter.

He served the Recorder until his retirement December 31, 1968. During that time, the circulation doubled as he visited 2,300 churches. He traveled half a million miles and wore out seven automobiles. Along the way, he took 1,200 pictures and wrote hundreds of news stories.

Retirement didn't slow him down as he served as interim pastor at churches in Raleigh, Sanford and Wake Forest. In recent years his health had not been good, but despite physical setbacks, he was a person who always inspired those who visited him. He had a steel-trap memory which amazed those of us working closely with him. And he had voluminous files to document everything.

Surviving are his wife, Lena B.; son, Dr. C. W. Bazemore, Jr., and daughter, Mrs. Bernie Clapp, both of Winston-Salem; four grandchildren; and four sisters. His funeral was at Hayes Barton Church, Raleigh, with burial at the Scotland Neck Church cemetery. It's impossible in this limited space to convey the spirit of this man, but the order of worship at his funeral included a poem, "Lamps in the Storm," ending with these words: "He held out his precious flame and relighted mine."

That was Cy Bazemore, my co-worker and friend.

Marse Grant, Raleigh Editor-Emeritus, Biblical Recorder

R. Knolan Benfield, Sr.

The Reverend R. Knolan Benfield, Sr. was a pastor, teacher, denominational and community leader, but most of all he was an exemplary husband and father.

He was born February 10, 1908 in a pastor's home. His parents were the Reverend and Mrs. H. S. Benfield. Having finished Mars Hill College, he told his minister father the day before he enrolled at Wake Forest College that God had called him into the ministry. Between college and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, he taught English and history at Bunn High School and Hudson High School.

In 1934, he married Miss Emma Margaret Hartsell whom he had met at Mars Hill College. In that same year, Knolan was ordained into the ministry by the South Lenoir Baptist Church, now College Avenue Baptist Church. He entered Southern Baptist Seminary and graduated in 1937 with the Master of Theology degree. Because of his excellent academic record, he was not required to take a single examination while a seminarian.

His pastoral ministry began as a seminary student when the Bethlehem and Lockport Baptist Churches called him as pastor (1936). He later served at Angier (1937-40), Waynesboro, Georgia (1940-43), First Baptist Church, Hickory (1943-57) and First Baptist Church, Morganton (1957-73).

He was often called upon by Southern Baptists to serve his denomination. He was a member of the Foreign Mission Board (1947-55, 1964-67), served two terms as Director of N.C. Baptist Foundation, was chairman of the Search Committee which called Dr. Perry Crouch as Executive Secretary, General Board, Wake Forest trustee, and Children's Home trustee.

In his years of retirement, he served many interim pastorates in Western North Carolina and Coby, England at the request of the Foreign Mission Board. One of his proudest moments was serving as Honorary Chairman of the 34th Statewide Evangelism Conference in 1980.

Knolan and Emma Benfield were a team in ministry. God blessed them with two children, Bonita and Knolan, Jr. Mrs. Benfield served as President of N.C. WMU for five years.

The theme of his life was well expressed in his convention sermon at the North Carolina Baptist State Convention (1959). The title was "Glorving In the Cross of Christ."

R. Knolan Benfield went home to be with the Lord on May 5, 1987.

Billy T. Mobley, D.D., Hickory

lames M. Bulman

James M. Bulman was born in 1922 in Spartanburg, South Carolina. After high school, he graduated with honors from Furman University, then entered Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He served as Teaching Fellow under Dr. Dale Moody and Dr. William Mueller, and graduated with a Th.D. in 1949. His doctoral thesis compared John Calvin's Doctrine of God with that of Emil Brunner. His final examination was under Dr. William O. Carver.

Dr. Bulman married the lovely June Mobley the same day he received his doctorate. They had no children.

Dr. Bulman served as pastor in Kentucky; then in Cornelius, North Carolina; East Spencer, North Carolina, where he was the founding pastor of Providence Baptist Church; and then at Central Baptist, Oak Ridge, North Carolina.

Dr. Bulman is best known for his tenacious efforts to perserve and protect the autonomy of the individual Baptist church, growing out of the famous North Rocky Mount Baptist Church court case. His viewpoint at the time was opposed by some of the most prestigious Southern Baptists. Time, however, has justified his concern and vindicated his position.

Later, Dr. Bulman was elected as Parliamentarian of our Baptist State Convention and served for thirteen years. In 1971, he served as Parliamentarian of the Southern Baptist Convention. His knowledge of parliamentary procedure and law was unquestioned.

He was a member of the Society of Biblical Literature and presented papers before that body. He contributed articles to the Review and Expositor, the Westminister Theological Journal and the Calvin Theological Journal. He was author of the article on Baptist church polity in the Encyclopedia of Christianity, and contributed also to the new Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge. He was the author of Fulness in Christ, a commentary on Colossians (1973), and It Is Their Right (1975), a commentary on the Declaration of Independence from a philosophical and religious viewpoint. He was far more appreciated for his intellectual and academic achievements by those in other denominations than by his own Southern Baptist brethren.

James Bulman was an ardent believer in the truth of all the Bible. His ministry was in smaller churches, and was to a large extent unnoticed and unappreciated. But he was a dedicated and devout servant of God, a man who fervently loved the Lord Jesus Christ and His Kingdom, and one who was intensely loyal to his denomination.

M. O. Owens, Jr., Gastonia

Forrest Chalmers Feezor

After his 94th birthday, Forrest Feezor told me: "From babyhood until now my life has been a miracle of God working through my Lord Jesus Christ and His Holy Spirit. He saved me from sin. He inspired me with a compelling sense of purpose. He disciplined me through my conscience. He empowered me with devotion and a strong voice. He possessed me with a love for all people. He taught me grace through the everyday patience and devotion of Jessica, the woman whom God created to be my wife."

He was baptized at Jersy Baptist Church at age 14. While pursuing a high school education, he served as pastor of Jersy and Stoner's Grove churches. While a student at Wake Forest College, a distinguished athlete and debater, he preached in several churches. During a pastorate in Kentucky, he earned a theological degree at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary. He toured Europe and the Holy Land.

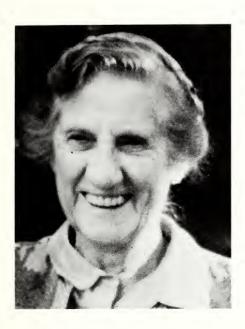

He married Jesse Rae Fuller, who at the time was Youth Director with Pastor George W. Truett at First Baptist Church in Dallas, Texas.

After serving as head of the Bible Department of William Jewell College, he served as pastor of the Second Baptist Church, Liberty, Missouri. Then he moved to Tabernacle Baptist Church in Raleigh, North Carolina. During this pastorate, he became a prominent leader in our Baptist State Convention. From 1943 until 1953, he was pastor of Broadway Baptist Church in Dallas, Texas and then at First Baptist Church, Waco.

Texas Baptists called upon him to serve as their Executive Secretary from 1953 until his retirement in 1961. In retirement, he was interim pastor, supply pastor, revival evangelist, and guest speaker in numerous churches and denominational bodies throughout the Southern Baptist Convention territory Forrest Feezor, truly "A Spirit-Led Man of God."

Winnie Rickett Pearce

She warmed the hearts of all she met! Such was the personality and life of Winnie Rickett Pearce, wife of the late J. Winston Pearce, Writer-in-Residence, Campbell University, until his death in November, 1985. Winnie or "Winnie Rickett" as she was known throughout the heartland of Southern Baptists, died suddenly June 21, 1987, while visiting her daughter, Patricia, in Middletown, N.Y.

A great traveler, she was a frequent speaker on the Campbell campus as well as other campuses throughout the state and nation. She loved people and lived life to its fullest. Her words were full of good humor, love and wisdom, never too demanding or harsh.

She and her husband, also a well-known Baptist speaker, worked as a team, spending most of their time speaking for state and regional Baptist assemblies and serving as a team for family-life conferences across the United States. Following Winston's death, Winnie kept on going and speaking, continuing the Lord's work that they had started.

Throughout her career, the Church and her family were the center of her life. She served as State Missionary Union President in Maryland, as a member of the Executive Committee of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Southern Baptist Convention and of the California Baptist Convention. She was a popular speaker for many religious focus weeks at colleges and universities and for various Baptist State Conventions throughout the nation. She also served as a trustee of Meredith College.

Winnie married J. Winston Pearce at Tabernacle Baptist Church in Raleigh in 1936, with the late Forrest Feezor performing the ceremony.

At that time, she was Intermediate Training Union Director of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention. Winston had progressed through Campbell Junior College, Wake Forest University and study at Southern Baptist Seminary in Louisville and was about to enter the University of Chicago, where he would receive the Bachelor of Divinity degree. Winnie studied with him there in 1937, adding to the Bachelor of Arts degree that she received from Meredith College and graduate studies at Southwestern Seminary.

The Pearces spent most of their ministry serving pastorates in Missouri, North Carolina, Maryland, Florida and at Golden Gate Seminary, in San Francisco, California, where Winston was a member of the faculty.

She is survived by her children: Patricia Dutton of Middletown, New York; Paula Hinton of Buies Creek; and Perry Pearce of Santa Fe, New Mexico; and five grandchildren.

Norman A. Wiggins, Buies Creek

Libby Tarlton Senter

Libby Tarlton Senter, 47, a home and church worker under appointment by the Southern Baptist Convention Foreign Mission Board in Nimba County, Liberia, was born September 15, 1939, in Cliffside, N.C. and later lived in Concord and Shelby. She was murdered November 26, 1986, at her home in Liberia. Also murdered with Libby was her only daughter, Rachel Janet, 10.

Libby died as she had lived—trying to be an authentic witness to the Gospel and befriend persons in need as a part of her Christian ministry while being a good mother and wife at the same time. Libby had permitted a young man whom the family knew as a seminary graduate in Liberia to sleep in the home while her husband, George had gone approximately 210 miles to Monrovia to pick up their son, Philip, a second-year student in the school there, to bring him back to their home in Yekepa for the Thanksgiving holidays.

The young Liberian attempted to sexually molest Rachel and when Libby intervened, the man killed them both for fear his attempts would be made public. The mother and daughter were found dead in a pool of blood by friends who were concerned that Rachel did not come to school.

Libby was a graduate of Wake Forest University, the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary and the University of Louisville. She met and married her husband while they were both students at the seminary. She was a high school teacher in Virginia, a social worker in Evansville, Indiana, and a Home Mission Board missionary in Indiana prior to going to the foreign mission field, something she had always felt called to do. The Senters were appointed to Liberia in 1980; her husband and son continue to serve there now.

Libby was the daughter of Pastor and Mrs. W.V. Tarlton, Shelby. Her father served as pastor of the Zion church, Shelby, for 18 years; her mother, Letha Carter Tarlton, was a graduate of Chowan College.

Libby's death is ironic in that she loved the Liberian people so dearly and sought to be a part of their lives and learn their ways. She spent many hours with them to learn their language and customs. She was the 11th missionary to be killed on the field of service in the 142 years of the SBC Foreign Mission Board.

When he learned of their deaths, George Senter said, "What a waste! Two beautiful, talented, smart, loving and caring people were gone!"

He later wrote, "God has blessed me by giving Libby to me as a wife for 18 years and Rachel as a daughter for 10 years. He continues to bless me with Philip and with thousands of friends around the world...Please pray that God will show us how to take the greatest advantage of the opportunities that have been opened up to us through this (loss)."

Libby was granted posthumously the E.Y. Mullins Award by Southern Seminary in September, 1987. It is the highest award the seminary bestows upon its graduates.

PREAMBLE

For the declaration of its fundamental purposes and the permanent guidance and control of its activities, the body does adopt the following as its Constitution, to wit:

Article I. Name

The name of this body is the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina.

Article II. Purposes

The object of this Convention shall be to promote missions, evangelism, education, social services, the distribution of the Bible and sound religious literature, and to cooperate with the work of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Article III. Authority

While independent and sovereign in its own sphere, the Convention does not claim and will never attempt to exercise any authority over any other Baptist body, whether church, auxiliary organizations, association, or Convention.

Article IV. Composition

The Convention shall be composed of:

- A. Two messengers from each cooperating church and one additional messenger from each church for every hundred members or major fraction thereof, beyond the first one hundred members; provided, that no church shall be entitled to more than ten messengers. No one shall be a messenger who is not a member of a church cooperating with the Convention, and messengers must be duly elected by their churches; a cooperating church shall be one that supports any object of the Convention and which is in friendly cooperation with this Convention and sympathetic with its purpose and work; and
- B. The officers of the Convention, the members of the General Board, the editor of the Biblical Recorder and the President of the Woman's Missionary Union.

Article V. Meetings

The Convention shall convene annually on Monday after the second Sunday in November no earlier than 6:30 PM and no later than 7:15 PM. In case of emergency or unusual circumstances, the General Board is empowered to change the time or place of meeting, cancel the sessions of the Convention, or call a special meeting by a vote of two-thirds of the members present when the vote is taken.

Article VI. Officers

The officers of the Convention shall be a President, a First Vice-President, a Second Vice-President, a Recording Secretary, an Assistant Recording Secretary, an Executive Director-Treasurer, three Trustees, and a Parliamentarian. The President shall appoint the Parliamentarian, who will serve during the term of the President.

A. President, Vice Presidents and Trustees

The terms of the President, the Vice-Presidents, and Trustees shall commence at the conclusion of the annual sessions at which they are elected and continue until the close of the next annual session of the Convention. The President and Vice-Presidents may not be elected for more than two consecutive terms. A vacancy in the presidency shall be filled by the Vice-Presidents succeeding to the office in order of their rank. The President shall serve as ex officio without voting on all Convention committees.

B. Recording Secretary and Assistant Recording Secretary

The terms of the Recording Secretary and the Assistant Recording Secretary shall commence on the first day of May following the annual session at which they are elected and continue until the first day of May in the following year.

A vacancy in any of the above mentioned offices (in A and B) except that of President, occurring between sessions of the Convention may be filled by the General Board.

C. Executive Director-Treasurer

- 1. In cases of a vacancy in the office of Executive Director-Treasurer, the General Board shall nominate a person to the Convention to fill this office.
- 2. Opportunity shall be given to receive additional nominations from the floor of the Convention.
- 3. The person receiving the majority of votes cast shall be declared elected. Upon election the Executive Director-Treasurer shall hold office for an indefinite period, with retirement to take effect based upon policies established by the Executive Committee and approved by the General Board.

They shall have the powers granted to trustees of religious societies by the laws of the State of North Carolina, but subject always to the limitations imposed by this Constitution and by action of the Convention, its General Board or Executive Committee. They shall require the treasurer of the Convention to give suitable bond, with corporate security and in adequate amount as determined by the General Board, and they shall cause such bonds to be safely kept. Failure on the part of the treasurer to maintain such a bond in force for as long a period as ten days shall authorize the trustees to remove the treasurer from office. 104. First Vice President Smith recognized Michael Taylor, North Albemarle Church, Albemarle, and expressed appreciation for his service as parliamentarian for this convention. Also recognized and thanked was Harvey (Butch) Raynor, Belhaven, assistant parliamentarian.

105. First Vice President Smith called for miscellaneous business.

106. Peter H. Gilliland, pastor, Church of God's Glory, Rocky Mount, moved that since the order of business was considerably ahead of schedule, the time for miscellaneous business and the report of the Resolutions Committee be changed so latecomers expecting these items to be later would not be disappointed, and that the report of the Committee on Place/Preacher be at this time. By common consent, the motion carried.

107. Richard Hicks, pastor, Edgewood Church, Winston-Salem, moved that everything possible be done to program the Baptist State Convention computer so that no lists of messengers could be printed more than two working days before the convention.

108. President Poe stated that there is no substance to rumors that the list was given to anyone.

109. Executive Director Smith said that his office checked into this allegation and found that "the integrity of our system is intact; this is confidential and sensitive information and we have taken seriously the trust placed in us that it does not get into anyone's hands prior to the convention; the data processing department is now instructed to print out no names and no addresses of anyone who pre-registers, until after the convention."

110. John M. Lewis, First Church, Raleigh, moved that in view of the assurance given by Executive Director Smith that no names or addresses will be printed until after the convention, the Hicks motion be postponed indefinitely. The motion carried.

111. Frank B. Robinson, Trinity Church, Raleigh, moved that we request the Christian Life Committee of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina to study and report on the low standards of TV/movies in low morals, etc.; that a copy be sent to the Christian Life Commission to send copies to all states in the nation and a copy sent to the President and congressmen and any other political leaders who may be involved in morals/ethics of our country.

112. President Poe said this is a resolution and should be referred to the Christian Life Council for study and action, the time for introduction of resolutions at this convention having elapsed.

113. First Vice President Smith ruled that a resolution is out of order but the matter would be referred to the Christian Life Council for study. A straw vote on the sentiment of the motion carried.

114. Russell Cherry, Lumberton, read the recommendation of the Committee on Place/Preacher that Fayetteville be the meeting place for the 1988 convention; that John H. Hewett, Asheville, preach the convention sermon with Curtis Barbery, Bennett, alternate. He moved adoption.

115. Tim Stevens, pastor, Micro Church, Micro, asked if recommendations should not also be made for the 1989 convention, in view of action taken on Tuesday. First Vice President Smith responded that time between Tuesday's action and this report did not permit the committee to make the necessary contacts and arrangements for scheduling the 1989 convention. The Cherry motion carried.

116. Don Christian, pastor, Mount Carmel Church, Chapel Hill, asked that in view of recent events, the rules be suspended and a resolution expressing appreciation to Randall Lolley and the faculty of Southeastern Seminary be considered: Be it resolved that whereas Baptists of North Carolina have a long-standing tradition of establishing, implementing and supporting quality higher education and theological instruction for all people in an open forum for dialogue, exchange, and spiritual growth; and whereas North Carolina Baptists have played an integral role in supporting the establishment and program development of Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary as well as having received innumerable benefits from the quality of education provided for the ministerial and lay leadership of our churches and convention through the efforts of this institution; be it hereby resolved that this convention of North Carolina Baptists expresses appreciation and heartfelt thanks to Dr. Randall Lolley for his numerous years of dedicated leadership and service to us as president of Southeastern as well as to the entire faculty and staff of the seminary for their self-sacrifice and commitment to quality theological education in our convention. First Vice President Smith asked that this resolution be held until a similar resolution is presented by the Resolutions Committee, (See Nos. 122, 123, 124.)

117. William L. Peters, pastor, Fremont Missionary Church, moved that Baptist State Convention of N.C. through the executive committee or other appropriate committee assist the Trinity Baptist Church in Baumholder, West Germany, in whatever way may be appropriate regarding purchase of a building there. (See No. 119.)

118. Executive Director Smith responded that the European Baptist Convention has prioritized the needs there and the church at Baumholder has been a priority item for the past two years; that $1000 per month is being contributed to the ministry of this church; that last year the executive committee voted to send $50,000 from the convention's emergency fund as a no-interest loan over a 10-year period to the European Baptist Convention for churches such as the one at Baumholder and that the situation there will be monitored closely to determine how the churches might be assisted; that the convention is not at liberty to try to organize its churches to gain any kind of support for any work other than that authorized as part of the on-going program of work of the Baptist State Convention and the Southern Baptist Convention; that the administration and executive committee will do what they can to provide the support that is available through the normal channels to the churches at Baumholder and in the Netherlands.

119. The Peters motion carried. (See No. 117.)

120. Jerry D. Hayner, Raleigh, chairman of the Resolutions Committee, read the following resolution and moved its adoption. The motion carried.

WHEREAS, the 157th annual session of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina is meeting in Greensboro, with the theme — "Sharing the Dream, Truth and Love"; and

WHEREAS, many people serving on a variety of committees have diligently worked to make the arrangements for the transactions of these sessions of this Convention,

THEREFORE, be it resolved that we as a Convention express our gratitude to these leaders, our host city and its citizens for making available the physical facilities both for our deliberative assembly and our personal accommodations.

121. Mr. Hayner read the following resolution and moved its adoption. The motion carried.

WHEREAS, we, the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, do seek the spiritual revival of our churches, of our State, and of our Nation and,

WHEREAS, we do seek God's forgiveness and cleansing for our sins, transgressions, and iniquities; and,

WHEREAS, the churches within the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina are confronted with the opportunity to witness to many minority groups within their communities; and,

WHEREAS, we acknowledge that many churches within the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina are making concerted efforts to improve relations with the wide range of minority groups, including Hispanics, Blacks, Chinese, Japanese, Koreans, Vietnamese, Arabs, Indians, and many others; and,

WHEREAS, the Scripture clearly teaches us to walk in love and witness daily to our neighbors, or other human distinctions; and,

WHEREAS, historically we have failed to do all in our power to improve relationships and Christian witness to all those in our community; and,

WHEREAS, we recognize that the Southern Baptist Convention was established in 1845 partially on the basis of its support for the enslavement and oppression of Black people;

THEREFORE, be it resolved that the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina renounce and repent of our sins and shortcomings against God, our Black brethren, and our neighbors of other minority groups; and we ask the forgiveness of God and our brethren for our failure to obey the teachings of our Lord Jesus Christ in our dealings with our neighbors, regardless of race, creed, ethnic background, gender, language, or other human distinctions, and

122. First Vice President Smith said the Committee has two resolutions that could not be printed in advance and two-thirds majority is required to suspend the rules so that voting may be accomplished. (See Nos. 66, 116.)

123. Mr. Hayner said the first resolution pertained to Sotheastern Seminary and is somewhat a word of affirmation. The second resolution concerns the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs and is a word of support. He moved that on behalf of the individuals submitting these resolutions, both of which refer to events taking place after the deadline for submission of resolutions (Oct. 7), the rules be suspended for consideration of these two resolutions. The motion carried. (See Nos. 66, 116.)

124. Mr. Hayner read the following resolution and moved its adoption. The motion carried. (See No. 116.)

WHEREAS, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, as an institution of the Southern Baptist convention, has provided quality theological education in an atmosphere of academic freedom, openness, and integrity;

AND WHEREAS many of the ministers who serve in North Carolina have benefitted from the education that Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary has offered:

AND WHEREAS our Baptist heritage rests strongly on religious liberty, autonomy of the local church, the priesthood of all believers, and has included the idea of unity of purpose amidst diversity of belief;

BE IT RESOLVED that we express our support and affirmation of the present administration, faculty, staff and student body of Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that we encourage the Board of Trustees of Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary to maintain the rich Baptist heritage and tradition, that has been a part of Southeastern Seminary's own heritage and tradition.

Submitted by Southeastern Students for Academic Freedom, Wake Forest, NC

125. Mr. Hayner read the following resolution and moved its adoption. The motion carried. (See No. 66.)

WHEREAS, for over fifty years the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs has upheld our traditional Baptist commitment to religious liberty and separation of church and state, and

WHEREAS, the Baptist Joint Committee has enabled Southern Baptists to work cooperatively with othe Baptist conventions and to present a united Baptist voice in the nation's capital, and

WHEREAS, the Southern Baptist Convention has repeatedly affirmed its commitment to the work and witness of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs by rejecting calls to alter that commitment, and

WHEREAS, there is at present a move to destroy that commitment led by a portion of the Soutern Baptist Public Affairs Committee;

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the messengers to the North Carolina Baptist Convention proclaim our gratitude and support for the staff and the work of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, and BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED we oppose efforts of the Southern Baptist Public Affairs Committee to disrupt the work and witness of the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, and

BE IT FINALLY RESOLVED that we pledge continued support to the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs.

126. Mark Corts, Winston-Salem, announced that the Foreign Mission Board would hold an appointment service in Greensboro, April 12, 1988. Keith Parks, president of the Board, will speak and there is an attendance goal of 16,000. George Shore, Cary, is chairman of a statewide committee on arrangements.

127. President Poe expressed appreciation for the work of Frank Marks, chairman of the Enrollment Committee; Howard Silver, chairman of the Tellers Committee; and Manuel Cannup, chairman of the Local Arrangements Committee.

128. Mr. Storey led the assembly in singing "To God Be the Glory."

129. President Poe introduced Leighton S. Ford, Charlotte, director of the Leighton Ford Ministries, who preached after the program of special music.

130. The Singing Churchmen sang "God of Our Fathers"—arr.

Donna Jo Butler and "Fanfare with Alleluias."

- 131. Mr. Ford read Mark 3:13 with the covention theme as the focus for his sermon: "God is calling you and me to be the church of Jesus in a world and an America that is fragmented and divided...America is noted for its individualism but unless that is balanced, it will lead to fragmentation...We must have some boundaries of doctrine, but we are not saved by doctrine or understanding of grace...God works through groups in building His church around the world...We come to worship that we might be sent to serve...We have a ministry of proclamation and of serving...The church should be the field hospital of the Kingdom of God...A wider vision is what it means to share the dream."
- 132. President Poe presented the gavel to incoming President Smith who accepted it with the promise to serve to the best of his abilities. He asked that a covenant of prayer be formed for the coming year. First Vice President Watterson and Second Vice President Cashwell spoke briefly, also asking for prayer.

REPORT to the 157th Annual Session of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina Greensboro Coliseum Greensboro, North Carolina November 9-11, 1987

1987 General Board Report to The Convention

The General Board, composed of 116 members, serves as the "Convention ad interim." In this capacity the General Board is charged with "general supervision" of the institutions and agencies and with directing the work of the General Board staff and programs.

The Board met three times during 1987: February 24-25 at Caraway; May 19-20 at Gardner-Webb College; and September 29-30 at Caraway.

The Board's ten subcommittees are: Business Management; Christian Higher Education; Christian Life and Public Affairs; Christian Social Services; Church Programs; Communications; Missions; Evangelism; Stewardship; and Youth and Campus Ministries. These committees meet on a regular basis three times a year and are available for special called meetings as needed.

The Executive Committee, composed of 20 members, is the "General Board ad interim" and meets 9 times a year. This group serves as a personnel committee, budget committee, and plans and policies committee for the General Board and the Convention.

The 1987 General Board considered the following business items:

1. Approved Baptist Children's Homes/Personal Evangelism Partnership.

Approval was granted to set up a three-year partnership between the Baptist Children's Homes and Personal Evangelism for the purpose of strengthening the ministry to our youth by making North Carolina Baptists aware of both the great needs and opportunities available to us.

2. Adopted Evangelism Intern Program.

The Home Mission Board's invitation for North Carolina to become one of two states selected to participate in an evangelism internship program was accepted. The intern will be a recent seminary graduate who wants to work in the field of evangelism. This program will provide on-the-field supervised training. The Home Mission Board will contribute $25,000 in salary and housing and the Baptist State Convention will provide the office space, travel, and fringe benefits.

3. Long Range Study/Planning Committee.

The Long Range Study/Planning Committee reported to the Executive Committee and General Board with a recommendation concerning convention priorities and budget planning.

4. Approved Pilot Project for Homes and Foreign Mission Days in the Churches.

North Carolina was invited to participate in a pilot project to improve the effectiveness of the Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions and increase giving to the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering. This emphasis was expanded in North Carolina to include both home and foreign missions with November 15, 1987 set as "Foreign Missions Day in the Churches," and February 18, 1988 as "Home Missions Day in the Churches."

5. Approved recommendation to include Messenger Enrollment Report in the Convention Annual.

Beginning with the 1986 Convention Annual, a report will be included which shows the number of messengers from each church registered during the convention. This is made possible by the new procedure for registering messengers by computer and will be a help to churches and associations in promoting messenger attendance at the state convention.

6. Approved request from Baptist Foundation to lease property.

The Executive Committee approved a request for a 25-year property lease for the purpose of constructing a Baptist Foundation headquarters building. This property is located on the west side of the Baptist Building. Convention trustees were authorized and directed to execute this lease in their corporate capacity on behalf of and as an act of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina.

7. Approved continuation of five-year reporting cycle.

The Executive Committee approved the continuation of the fiveyear reporting cycle which provides for all agencies, institutions and divisions of work to bring one 30-minute report to the Convention in a five-year period. The new cycle will begin in 1988 and conclude in 1992.

8. Approved Constitution for Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute.The General Board approved the constitution for Fruitland.

Recommendations adopted by the General Board

The General Board adopted the following recommendations with implementation contingent upon Convention action:

1. Partnership with the Sao Paulo, Brazil Convention.

The General Board approved and recommends that the Convention accept the Foreign Mission Board's invitation to enter into partnership with the Sao Paulo Convention for the purpose of helping establish 1,000 new churches in the Sao Paulo Convention between 1987 and 1992.

2. 1988 Program and Budget Proposals.

The General Board approved and recommends to the Convention for adoption the following proposed budget for 1988:

 Basic Budget

 Challenge Budget
 $ 1,000,000

 Total Budget
 $28,000,000

3. Convention Site. The General Board approved and recommends to the Convention for adoption:

a. the practice of rotating the site of the annual meeting at the pleasure of the Convention; and

b. that the Committee on Convention Program/Place and Preacher recommend a convention site two years in advance, beginning in 1989, and

c. that the 1988 annual meeting be held in Fayetteville, North Carolina.

4. Constitution and Bylaws changes.

The General Board approved and recommends adoption of the following constitution and bylaws changes: (See report on page 8.)

5. Military-related Ministries Task Force Recommendations.

The General Board heard the report and recommendations presented by the Task Force on Military Ministry in the May meeting. In the September meeting of the General Board, upon the recommendation of the Missions Committee, the following recommendations were approved:

- 1. This Task Force recommends a "military ministries director" at the local church level. This director should have a counterpart at the associational, state, and Home Mission Board levels.
- 2. The Task Force also recommends the following specific proposals:
 - a. Churches located in military communities should be encouraged to elect a "Director of Military Ministry," who will sit on the Church Council and devise creative ways of reaching and ministering to service members.
 - b. Associations that include a military installation should be encouraged to organize a military ministries committee. The chairman of this committee should hold membership on the associational missions committee, and provide leadership in developing ministry to service members.
 - c. The Baptist State Convention should designate a specific staff person to be responsible for overseeing and developing military ministry at the associational and local church level.
 - d. The Home Mission Board should likewise designate a specific staff person to oversee and develop resources for conducting military ministry.
 - e. The Home Mission Board and/or Baptist State Convention of North Carolina should consider funding distinctively Christian child care in situations where human resources are available but financial resources are not.
 - f. The Church Training department should give serious consideration to developing a Church Training module on military ministry. Perhaps the content of this paper could be used in producing such a module.
 - g. The position "Director of Military Ministry" should be added to the annual letter, or space to write in the name of such a person (and/or other specialized leadership positions) should be provided. This person could then be placed on appropriate mailing lists to receive military ministry resource material and assistance.

6. Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina, Inc. Request to Borrow.
The General Board recommends to the Convention that the Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina, Inc. be authorized to borrow up to $1.688 million according to the following terms:

Resolution

Whereas, the Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina has for 36 years sought to serve the needs of people over age 65 by providing quality residential opportunities for older adults within a Christian context and whereas, that care is open to people of all racial, religious, whereas, ethnic and economic backgrounds and the Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina believes that the good news of Jesus Christ is the premise upon which its ministry operates

Therefore, be it resolved that The General Board of the Baptist State Convention recommend to the messengers of the Convention in annual session in Greensboro in November that the Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina, Inc., be authorized to borrow up to $1.688 million according to the following terms:

- That the Homes secure a 36-month loan from a lending institution for up to $1.688 million at a fair market rate of interest.
- 2. That the principal of the loan will be reduced over a three (3) year period by using funds raised through a combination of Capital and Annual Giving Campaigns. (The average Annual Giving total per year for the "Homes" since 1978 has been $1.4 million.)
- 3. That interest payments on the loan will be made through the use of a special fund established by designating a portion ($450,000) of the monies received from the sale of the South Winston-Salem Campus on Reynolds Park Road for that specific purpose.

Minister Support

The year 1987 may be remembered among North Carolina Baptists as the year there was more talk and action relating to retirement planning for ministers than in any other one year period of time. Since January 1, 1988 is the beginning date of the Expanded Church Annuity Plan, ministers and lay people have been asking questions, seeking answers, trying to be ready to take advantage of the expanded contributions the Baptist State Convention will be making, in turn helping the churches and the ministers to increase contributions so there will be expanded benefits out in the future.

For too long now, ministers have been reluctant to talk about Annuity Board plans for fear someone will think they are only interested in money. However, if the minister does not talk about it, the church will not know what needs to be done. To some extent, 1987 has been a year when these matters were taken "out of the closet" and talked about openly.

A major problem involves the method by which churches compensate their ministers as to retirement planning. In many cases, the church provides one lump sum of money for the minister's compensation, with the individual minister deciding whether or not a portion of that amount will be set aside in a retirement program. Too often, the minister (especially if he is young) will not be concerned about his retirement income, feeling that that "bridge can be crossed" at a later date. No planning is done and the minister reaches age 50 or so only to realize (too late) that he has not set aside enough money to retire. The result of this situation has been that the average annuitant in North Carolina receives only $196 a month!

So far, 660 churches and 63 associations in North Carolina have signed the Cooperative Agreement for the Expanded Church Annuity Plan, a program designed to provide an adequate retirement income. It is hoped that by the end of the year, all of the associations and at least 60 percent of the churches will have signed. Hopefully, more and more churches will have a plan for protection—both for the church as well as the minister.

Another vital program of the office is the Ministers' Emergency Fund. Begun in early 1986, ministers who have been terminated can receive $100 for up to 13 weeks, plus hospital insurance payment for three months. Twenty-two ministers across the state have received $25,585 through July of this year. Payments totalling $21,006 were made to ministers in 1986.

One of the important areas of Minister Support is the continuing work helping churches seek ministers and ministers seek churches. This involves work with pastor search and personnel committees. In addition, there is a greater effort to provide help for the local directors of missions through training conferences, consultation, and sharing names of both churches and ministers.

The Minister Care Advisory Committee, composed of eight persons from across North Carolina, serves to develop and provide information about professional growth resources and services, emotional support resources and services, and financial planning resources and services for ministers as well as churches.

James M. Lambert, administrative associate

Business Management

Business activities continued to increase in 1987 with more churches providing financial support (and in greater amounts), placing the office in a strong financial picture. Also, the Convention debt continued to decline. More funds were received for the Cooperative Program, Lottie Moon Christmas Offering, Annie Armstrong Easter Offering, Homes and Hospital Offering, and State Missions Offering.

A new employee was added in the accounting area: Joanne Cox who filled the position that was held by Ella Mae Hurst prior to her retirement.

North Carolina Baptist Assembly (Caswell) and Caraway Conference Center and Camp both had excellent attendance. The Baptist men and women volunteers assisted in improving the buildings at Caswell and Caraway, with many hours spent in construction, building and grounds improvements.

The office has many dedicated and knowledgeable employees in all areas of our work, as evidenced by the many favorable comments made by visitors at the Baptist Building, Caswell, and Caraway.

Richard Smith, director

Data Services

Data Services, formerly Data Processing, continues to maintain church information such as staff positions, receipts, and statistical information. Along with the information on churches and Convention data, Data Services supports all personal computers and software packages used in the building.

Caraway Conference Center and Camp

Caraway Conference Center and Camp provides facilities for the Royal Ambassador camps, convention-planned leadership conferences, and church retreats. The facilities consist of the camp with 250-bed capacity, and the conference center with 84 bedrooms and supporting facilities. The facilities operate approximately 300 days during the year.

Improvements during the year included an additional cabin and meeting room in the camp, and a conference room and dining room for the conference center.

Bill Jackson, director

North Carolina Baptist Assembly at Fort Caswell

Caswell continues to be a vital and exciting part of the ministry of North Carolina Baptists. During 1987, Baptist men and women volunteers have been involved in the renovation of Fort Caswell and Driftwood hotels. Complete renovation of Silver Maple A, the Assistant Director's residence, was completed in January. Silver Maple B is scheduled for renovation in the fall.

Work is currently underway to complete the renovation of the summer staff quarters. Completion of this building will greatly improve living conditions for the summer staff as well as provide additional housing for guests.

In June 1987 the new classroom building was completed and has been even more beneficial to the summer program than had been anticipated. The building contains 32 classrooms, two offices, storage and restroom facilities.

Fort Caswell and Driftwood hotels were ready for occupancy in June after complete renovation. Again, much work was donated by the Baptist men, women, and youth. These two hotels provide the nicest accommodations on campus with new furnishings, wall-to-wall carpet, private baths, and spectacular views of the surrounding Cape Fear River and Atlantic Ocean from windows and porches.

Projects for the coming year will be Buildings 21 & 22. Work began with Volunteer Appreciation Day on Saturday, September 19, 1987.

Richard Holbrook, director

The Division of Church Programs is composed of eight programs of work—Church Building Planning, Church Music, Church Training, Sunday School, W.M.U., Church Administration, Weekday Early Education and Church Library (Media). These eight areas of work are organized into five departments. (Church Administration is a part of the Division Director's job description.)

The Division of Church Programs assists individuals in their effort to point people to God through Jesus Christ. This aid is offered to churches, associations, and institutions for the purpose of Christian education and leadership development—"Sharing the Dream." The number of field engagements for all of Church Programs surpassed all previous years.

Sharing The Dream challenges the departments within the Division of Church Programs. The five-year goals for 1985-1990 continue to constitute the very heartbeat of interest and activity. These goals are Reaching People, Developing Believers and Strengthening Missions. Program directors have been ably assisted by a great host of special and approved workers throughout the state.

Charles Gatwood's retirement from the Church Music Department as Department Director resulted in two other staff changes within that department. Charles Storey, associate, became the new department director, and James Reich was employed as associate in Church Music.

Church Training has undergone many changes this year: James

Simpson, adult consultant, moved to the South Carolina Baptist Convention as Church Training director; Doris Morgan, children/preschool consultant, and Dot Mills, part-time assistant field consultant in youth, retired. Simone Storey was employed as part-time secretary.

Woman's Missionary Union has also undergone many staff reassignments this year: Jan High, WMU consultant; Carolyn Hopkins, Baptist Young Women/Baptist Women consultant; Marcia McQueen, Mission Friends/Girls in Action consultant; and Acteens consultant/camp director yet to be employed. Tammy Herring left her position as camp director to become a campus minister at East Carolina University. Janie Jeans was employed as financial secretary and Suthell Walker retired as Baptist Women consultant at the end of 1986.

Burrell F. Lucas, director

Church Administration (Pastoral Ministries)

The objective of Church Administration (Pastoral Ministries) is to aid ministers in their personal and professional growth through Personal Growth Seminars and Career Development Seminars. Training for deacons, church officers, and committees is also offered by the Church Administration Department.

Field engagements in the area of Church Administration included pastor's conferences, training opportunities for pastors, deacon's workshops and retreats, and orientation for new ministers in our state.

Training opportunities were offered to pastors through Church Administration. This training included conferences in "Understanding Self—Leading Others," "Caring, Calling Ministry," "Developing Skills for Working With Others," "Building A Staff Team," and others. Each of these conferences was related to ministers' current needs.

Burrell F. Lucas, director

Church Building Planning

The Church Building Planning Department seeks to render personal and individualized service to every church within the Baptist State Convention and General Baptist Convention of North Carolina, as they call for assistance in the planning and maintenance of church buildings and the development of "Challenge To Build" programs.

The year of 1986-87 has been a year of heavy activity for the Department. Calls for assistance have exceeded 600 churches, with 295 visits to church sites, 35 initial presentations of "Challenge To Build" and a record 20 CTB Campaigns conducted. More than 300 churches have requested and received literature by mail on church furnishings, buildings, capital funding, church bonds, and information on architects, contractors, engineers, suppliers and other professionals.

The work of the Church Building Planning Department director is governed by the requests of local congregations. Employees seek to find the particular levels of participation, experience and potential of each church and make available to congregation's leadership options and instruments that will lead to appropriate decisions and develop catalysts through which the church may realize dreams in relation to physical facilities.

The Convention theme for 1986-90, "Touching Lives—Growing Churches," is a natural for the Department. New persons come in contact with the offices almost every day, with a conscious effort being made to help them touch lives for spiritual growth through better facilities. The Department is "Sharing The Dream" of North Carolina Baptists by assisting in developing physical facilities that are more conducive to functional corporate worship, Christian growth and active fellowship among the people. New churches have received particular attention, in cooperation with Brotherhood and Church Extension Departments, through the offering of working drawings that may be built with volunteer teams. Virtually every church with which Church Building Planning works is a dreaming, growing church!

Robert L. Clegg, director

Church Music

1987 has been a year of change in the Church Music Department. After serving 20 years in the Church Music Department (10 years as the first associate and 10 recent years as the second director), Charles Gatwood retired. Many significant accomplishments were made during those years under Mr. Gatwood's leadership. The Singing Churchmen were organized and directed for 20 years by Charles Gatwood. A program of volunteer retreats for volunteer and part-time music directors was developed and continues to be a strong and meaningful part of the activities of the Church Music Department. Handbell Festivals began under his leadership and have progressed from one to five statewide festivals now involving some 74 handbell choirs from across the state.

Upon retirement of Charles Gatwood at the end of February, Charles Storey, who had served for 10 years as associate, became department director on March 1, 1987. In May, James D. Reich, minister of music, First Church, Monroe, became the associate. Becki Canterberry completed her fifth year as the capable secretary for the department.

In addition to Handbell Festivals, the choir festival program continues to grow. Ten Regional Adult Festivals were held this spring with 60 choirs participating. The Statewide Youth Choir Festival included 978 youth choir members from 64 churches. A Senior Adult Festival now is held on alternating years with the Adult Choir Festivals. Small Church Music Schools for individual churches prove to be very beneficial to those churches that seek this help. A Small Church Music Conference also now runs concurrent with Children's Choir Camp at the North Carolina Baptist Assembly. Registrations were up this year for Children's Choir Camp at the Assembly and Mars Hill College. Youth/Adult Music Conference attendance was also up from recent years.

Many associations called on the Church Music Department for assistance with music training events and the department was able to respond with funds, materials, and personnel for particular events.

Churches seeking music staff personnel and ministers of music wishing to move continue to contact the Church Music Department for assistance. The department also has responded to requests for advice regarding renovation of choir lofts, choir rooms, the rebuilding and/or purchasing procedures for organs and other musical instruments and equipment. The Church Music Department continues to want to assist associations and churches in the development of strong programs of church music which aid individuals in developing and dedicating their talents to glorify God.

Charles Storey, director

Church Training

The Church Training Department assists associational and local church leaders in equipping God's people for bold growth in discipleship through emphasis on Continuing Training, Short Term Training, and Leader Training.

During the past year, assistance was given to leaders through the following projects and activities:

- Church Training Enabler Conferences are scheduled at Caraway and Ridgecrest where associational Church Training leadership will receive indepth training and update in leadership techniques, methods, and materials.
- Eleven associational Church Training workshops for training local church leaders.
- Approximately 45 programs of work were begun in various associations as a result of the work of Church Training Growth Consultants and other associational leaders.
- A "Mini-Assembly" for local Church Training leadership was held in August at Caraway. Approximately 125 local Church Training leaders attended.
- 12 area "Doctrine of Prayer" leadership seminars were held in Waynesville, Burnsville, Lincolnton, Asheboro, Mt. Airy, Kannapolis, Wilmington, Fayetteville, Wilson, as well as at Wingate, Campbell and Gardner-Webb colleges.

• Seminars presenting new models of Church Training work called Pastor/Director Interpretation Meetings were held in the Polk, Dan Valley, and Stone Mountain associations.

• Key Leadership Conference at Ridgecrest was attended by 58 associational Church Training directors.

• The state Church Training staff participated in Church Training

Week at Ridgecrest in July 1987.

• Five area and state Church Training tournaments in Clinton, Asheboro, Valdese, Charlotte, and Hendersonville featured Children's Bible Drill, Youth Bible Drill, and Youth Speakers' Tournaments. 635 children from 159 churches in 53 associations participated. State Youth Bible Drill winner, Tina Patterson, and State Speakers' Tournament winner, Kelly Morris, represented North Carolina at Ridgecrest during Church Training Week in July.

• Area Children's Bible Skills Rallies were held in Reidsville, Wadesboro, and Supply for the purpose of introducing 1988 Children's Bible Drill materials to children and their leaders.

• State youth and children consultants led conferences in several associations for training leaders of drills and tournaments.

Special interpretation in Church Training resources and priorities was provided to new religious educators.

- The department co-sponsored with the Baptist Sunday School Board a MasterLife Seminar at Caraway, reaching 62 pastors and church leaders.
- The Department also co-sponsored with the Baptist Sunday School Board a MasterBuilder workshop.
- The Department staff participated in nine associational "M" Nights in 1987.
 - Church Training work was presented at five Pastor's Conferences.
 - Church Training staff interpreted MasterLife in five associations.

• A Church Training Growth Strategy meeting was held at the Baptist Building with leaders from Eastern North Carolina.

• The Church Training staff taught a course entitled "Christian Initiation and Discipleship Development" at Southeastern Seminary during the 1987 fall semester.

• The Church Training staff has held numerous individual and small group consultations in associations and churches across the state.

• Representatives for the Church Training Department were in several annual associational meetings.

• The Department worked cooperatively with the leadership section of the Church Training Department of the Baptist Sunday School Board with the LIFE launch project in May 1987.

• Upon request from five associations, special conferences were held interpreting Children's and Youth Bible Drills.

Maurice Cooper, director

Sunday School

The Department staff consists of the director, Robert Stewart, four consultant field workers and the secretaries. Consultants are Johnny Ross (adult work and state training conferences), Phil Stone (youth work and associational team development), Janice Haywood (children's work and Vacation Bible Schools), and Bob Goode (preschool work, media centers and church weekday education). Linda Hicks is department secretary and growth projects assistant. Eva Teague is assistant department secretary and supervises promotional materials distribution. Part-time secretaries include Cheryl Cruikshank, Virginia Walker and Betsy Clement.

Sunday School enrollment declined slightly from 1985 to 1986. The 3.1 percent decrease from 666,187 to 664,149 was due in part to the tendency of churches not maintaining momentum of the 8.5 by 85 enrollment emphasis. When churches stop talking about enrolling people in Sunday School they usually not only enroll fewer but lose some of those they already have.

The current Challenge 10/90 emphasis (to enroll 10 million people in Sunday School by 1990 with a North Carolina goal of one million) could be reached if churches could enroll their own non-involved members in Bible study. Over 400,000 such church members are not enrolled in Sunday School.

State goals set in six key areas should challenge churches to set worthy goals for 1987-88.

• Enrollment...to have a net gain of 30,000 (approximately five percent net gain).

• Workers Meetings...to have 800 churches conducting weekly workers planning and improvement meetings.

• Leadership Training...to have 600 Sunday School Leadership Diplomas earned and reported.

• Witness—evangelistic training...to have 20,000 training awards reported for a witnessing or evangelism study.

• Outreach Bible Study...to have 600 churches providing Outreach Bible Study groups.

• New Sunday Schools...to start 65 new or mission Sunday Schools. Every church is challenged to consider settting minimum goals of five percent net enrollment gain. Churches in fast-growing communities may need to set 15 or 20 percent goals!

Although reports on current year goals will not be available until after the first of the year, significant opportunity for progress was provided throughout the year through various projects and activities.

- Annual Fall Leadership Training Conventions at Ridgecrest, Caraway and New Bern in which 1,579 participated, a 22 percent gain over the previous year.
- Six VBS clinics in which 617 associational workers from 73 associations were trained to conduct local associational clinics.
- ASSISTeam practicum conferences in three regional settings trained 255 associational Sunday School workers from 56 associations.
- January Bible Study institutes were provided on the campuses at Chowan, Campbell, Gardner-Webb, Wake Forest and Mars Hill colleges and Southeastern Seminary in cooperation with the schools to give pastors an early start on JBS preparation.

Production of weekly half-hour television Sunday School lesson programs for release to cablevision and institutional markets.

• Conferences provided in Sunday School methods during the annual bi-vocational pastor-spouse retreat and presentations in 36 associational bi-vocational pastor-leader dinner meetings.

- Training events in teaching improvement, curriculum utilization, and growth in local churches and associations included meetings in Stone Mountain, Mitchell, Carolina, Avery, New River, Mecklenburg, Stanley, Robeson, Montgomery, South Roanoke, Beulah, Tar River, Brunswick, Theron Rankin, Gaston, Three Forks, Yates, Transylvania, Rowan, Macon, Green River, Kings Mountain, Little River, Yancey, Sandy Run, and Truett associations. In addition, staff has had the privilege of speaking at leadership banquets, pulpit supply, worker conferences and personal consultations in churches across the state.
- Sunday School associational growth campaigns were conducted in Mitchell, Neuse, Carolina and Pee Dee associations. A Major Enrollment-Training Clinic was conducted in Mount Zion Association in cooperation with the Baptist Sunday School Board.

• State Library and Media Center conferences were conducted as well as providing special workers to lead in local church and associational workshops.

- Special attention was given to the needs of small churches not only by cooperative work with bi-vocational ministries (Cooperative Ministries Department) but with small church pastor-director workshops at Ridgecrest, Caswell, Camp Truett and Caraway Conference Center.
- The Department's cooperative work with other conventions resulted in Bob Goode and Janice Haywood leading conferences for preschool and children's workers for the European Baptist Convention at their annual meeting in Interlaken, Switzerland. The Department also enlisted and provided an age-group team of conference leaders for the West Virginia Convention through a training tour to four locations.
- The Department participated on the faculties for Sunday School training in other states and at summer assemblies. Our staff's writing of curriculum materials and articles for Sunday School Leadership and other periodicals provided opportunity to share good news of some of the things happening in our churches with a broader audience.

The Sunday School Department staff is grateful for the privilege of serving the Lord through the work of the Baptist State Convention. We welcome suggestions and partnership in our common goal of involving more and more people in life-changing Bible study through Sunday School.

Robert Stewart, director

Woman's Missionary Union

The objective of Woman's Missionary Union (auxiliary to the Baptist State Convention) is to promote Christian missions in churches in North Carolina. This objective is carried out through four main tasks: teach missions, engage in mission action and personal witnessing, support missions through prayer and giving, and support the ongoing work of the denomination.

These tasks form the nucleus of the work done by 144,703 members of 10,692 organizations of Mission Friends, Girls in Action, Acteens, Baptist Young Women, and Baptist Women.

The members of these organizations seek to improve their individual knowledge of and involvement in missions, and also to make missions a church-wide emphasis and concern.

Executive Board

The Executive Board of Woman's Missionary Union is the primary decision-making body for the program of work. The Board is composed of Dorothy Allred (Mrs. Hoyle), president; Ann Smith (Mrs. Sanford) 1st vice president; Donice Harrod (Mrs. J. D.), 2nd vice president, Nancy Hunter (Mrs. Al) recording secretary, and Charlotte Cook (Mrs. Robert) assistant recording secretary. The Board also includes age-level chairmen, and 15 members-at-large for the 10 state regions. The board meets three times each year and conducts the business of WMU in matters such as budget, finances, hiring of program staff, and guidance to the professional staff regarding programming and WMU services.

The state staff consists of four program staff members, four office staff persons, and a Camp Mundo Vista resident manager. Program staff experienced some reorganization this year as Jan High (Mrs. Larry) became WMU Consultant and Carolyn Hopkins became Baptist Young Women/Baptist Women Consultant. Marcia McQueen joined the staff this year as Consultant for Mission Friends and Girls in Action.

Convention Emphases

North Carolina Baptists voted to give priority in the years 1986-1990 to establishing new work and spiritual growth. WMU supported these emphases by including special features on them in various meetings, including the Friday evening session of the Annual Meeting, which was given to an extensive presentation on new work in North Carolina.

There is an ongoing emphasis on spiritual growth in the WMU materials and in all WMU events, as they emphasize missions, praying, stewardship, witnessing, and the devotional life.

Activities and Events

Meetings for training, inspiration, and information are planned and conducted each year by the state staff. These are for church WMU members and leaders, and for associational WMU officers. In 1986 these meetings included the following:

• Baptist Women 'Serendipities'—These four events wrapped up the North Carolina WMU Centennial year and gave inspiration and motivation for the work of the future.

• Associational Acteens Council Training—These two sessions were held for the purpose of training the girls who are Acteens Officers in their associations in how to do their jobs.

• Baptist Young Women Convention—This annual event reached over 250 young women, and was designed to give them inspiration and the tools with which to do better missions education.

 Girls in Action Day Camp Conferences—These two conferences were for church and WMU leaders who were interested in conducting Day Camps in their churches.

- WMU Annual Meeting—The 1986 Annual Meeting featured theme interpretations, missionary prayer times, business and reports, Bible study led by Dr. Charles Talbert of Wake Forest University, a Brotherhood emphasis led by David Langford, prayer times by Martha Franks, a presentation on new work led by Bob Watson and Joe Jones, a message by William Wakefield of the Foreign Mission Board, a panel of lay women who were short-term mission volunteers, and an emphasis on mission service by Diane Heck Daniels. A record number of about 2800 attended.
- Mission Volunteer Seminar—The seminar was for persons who had participated in volunteers missions through the Mission Service Corps, and those interested in the program.
- State Acteens Convention—This meeting reached over 1000 Acteens and their leaders with the challenges of daily Christian living and mission service.
- Mother/Daughter Retreat (for Baptist Young Women and their mothers)—This was a new event, and gave those attending an opportunity to hear Barbara Joiner, a well known writer and speaker, and also to share a special time of fellowship and inspiration.
- Girls in Action/Mothers Overnight Camp—There were three of these held at Mundo Vista, and enabled young girls to go to camp for one night and share that experience with their mothers.
- Summer Camp at Mundo Vista—Over 1700 Girls in Action and Acteens experienced missions education, recreation, crafts, games and fun at Mundo Vista in 1986.
- Associational WMU Leader Training—Over 625 elected associational WMU leaders attended a training session which was designed to help them learn their jobs and how to teach church WMU leaders.
- Retreats for N.C. Correctional Center for Women and Fountain Youth Center—These retreats were a highlight for those helping and for the women from the correctional facilities.

Other Emphases and Activities

WMU activities are also carried out through many ways other than state-wide events. For example, WMU worked with and supported the Baptist Nursing Fellowship, gave a Christmas gift to each North Carolina missionary, financially supported short-term mission volunteers, supported the Baptist Women World Day of Prayer, sent mission education materials to the churches of the European Baptist Convention and developing states, and worked to involve all the churches in participation in the major Convention Weeks of Prayer and Offerings.

The Scope of Woman's Missionary Union

Woman's Missionary Union, while continually promoting its program of work, is heavily involved in promoting all facets of mission work. This is true on the state, associational, and church levels.

On the state level, much of the time and a large percentage of the available money is spent aiding other areas of work which do not have a constituency of missions persons as does WMU. Thus, in 1986, WMU has worked cooperatively with the Language Missions, Church Extension, Cooperative Ministries, Associational Development and Brotherhood departments; Christian Life and Public Affairs, Evangelism, and Stewardship divisions; Baptist Children's Homes; as well as the other departments. In some cases the cooperative work has been extensive, in others it has been minimal.

Thus, the work of WMU in large measure is not limited to the promotion of the organization, but encompasses the larger concerns of Baptists as a whole.

Achievements

North Carolina WMU is recognized at the national WMU meeting as the state with the largest numerical increase in membership of any state. WMU was pleased with this growth, as it means more people involved in the vital work of missions.

A complete Book of Reports of North Carolina WMU is available upon request from the state WMU office.

Communications

The Division office in 1987 was involved in the general promotion of several state and SBC programs, including the two special mission offerings, the American Christian Television System (ACTS), use of print-electronic media by local churches/associations, and similar projects.

The Division office also serves as the media relations section for the Baptist State Convention with both on-going press services and special releases provided for the denominational and secular media.

William H. Boatwright, director

Publications/Distribution

The Publications/Distribution Department supports the General Board divisions, departments, councils and committees through Art, Print, and Bulk Mail services, using the most creative and effective means to produce, print and distribute promotional materials for various programs and projects.

Art Services is involved with design and mechanical art production for printing, quick-copy, and limited speciality items averaging 90 projects per quarter.

Print Services is an in-house print shop which provides quick-copy reproduction of materials. Print Services averages 870,000 impressions per quarter.

The Bulk Mail Services prepares materials to be mailed to North Carolina churches. There is an average of 400,000 pieces of material mailed bulk per quarter.

In 1987 the Publications/Distribution Department has also provided production services for the Homes and Hospital Offering and the State Missions Offering. These two offerings promote the missions work of the Baptist Children's Homes of NC, NC Baptist Hospital and Baptist Retirement Homes of NC and the missions of North Carolina churches.

The Baptist State Convention adopted 'Sharing the Dream' as the program emphasis for 1986-1990. In an effort to promote this emphasis the 1987 Annual Session materials, 1987 Annual, 1987 Directory and the 1988 Diary carry the theme 'Sharing the Dream...Truth and Love.'

In addition to these special projects, materials were published in the form of posters, brochures, fliers, programs, bulletin inserts, and other speciality pieces. These included Togo Partnership materials, European Convention promotional pieces, the Key Leadership program, Here's Hope emphasis materials, and cards for the Lottie Moon pilot project.

Jane C. Richards, director

Video/Audio Visual Productions

Video Productions produces programs for General Board departments, the various institutions, agencies, associations and churches of the North Carolina and Southern Baptist Convention. In addition, the department produces programs for other mainline denominations (as defined by the Home Mission Board) and for certain non-profit, tax exempt, community service organizations.

In 1986, the Video Department produced 130 video projects. These include 52 weekly International Bible Lessons (Sunday School); European Baptist Partnership, Camp Caraway, An Experience to Grow On, NC Baptist Men, The Second Decade, and a lecture series on Pornography & Child Lures (Brotherhood); Discipline That Disciples, and Perils and Possibilities of Middle Age (Christian Life); Continuing

Witness Training, Starting Churches with Praxis Teams, Focus on the Future: The New Church Growth Probe and The Church Planter Apprentice Program (Home Mission Board); Making a Difference (Carolina Association); and five television spots on Career Opportunities for the Baptist Children's Homes. Outside client projects include a program on Church Growth for United Methodists, A Long Look at Rock Music for Albert Long Ministries, and a series on Christian Counseling for Bill Wilson. A video tape, Changing Lives Through State Missions was developed to promote the annual State Missions Offering.

In the area of Audio/Visual Production, two filmstrips and a custom slide show were produced to promote State Missions and a filmstrip was produced to promote the Homes & Hospital Offering. Several custom slide programs were written and produced for the various reports given at the Annual Convention.

The Audio/Visual Library provides over 300 different video titles and over 2500 filmstrips to the North Carolina Baptist churches for a small fee to offset postage and handling. More than 12,000 audiovisuals were booked in the year. Audio Duplication and Distribution provides copies of major messages given each year and assists the Department of Special Ministries in duplicating audio tapes of the Biblical Recorder for the blind. Over 16,000 audio tapes were distributed this year.

Evangelism

Good News America was more than a success. It was a blessing to all who participated in it. Not only did people come to know Christ as Savior and Lord, but God's people were drawn closer to His church. Reports are still coming in from all over our state about the exciting revivals and the great blessings that God poured out upon our churches.

The State Evangelism Conference was held February 2-3, 1987 in Greensboro, under the theme, "Witness the Power of God's Spirit." Over 7,000 pastors, staff, and laity attended. The 1988 State Evangelism Conference ("Year of the Laity In Evangelism") will be held in Greensboro February 8-9.

The Key Leadership training for evangelism participants was held at Ridgecrest. The emphasis was "Year of the Laity," a cooperative effort by Evangelism, Brotherhood, WMU, and Church Training. During the October regional evangelism conferences, materials were given to pastors and staff to assist in working with the Year of the Laity.

Plans are continuing to assist North Carolina churches in developing "Church Evangelism Committees" to strengthen the work of evangelism in the church.

A major seminar, in cooperation with the Stewardship Division, will be held March 21-24, 1988 at Ridgecrest dealing with the Witnessing Giving Life.

Plans are now being made for another simultaneous revival effort called, "Here's Hope Jesus Cares For You." North Carolina revival dates are Eastern-March 18-25, 1990; Piedmont-April 1-8, 1990; and Western-April 22-29, 1990.

I. W. Hutchens, director

Evangelism Development

The purpose of this department is to provide direction, strategy, and training for a broad spectrum of year-round evangelistic endeavor. This includes encouraging aggressive pastoral leadership (rural as well as metropolitan applications), bi-vocational and ethnic leadership, spiritual awakening, and the mechanics of evangelism research, writing and utilization of mass media.

Specialized Evangelism Planning

Growing Evangelistic Churches in North Carolina, a five-hour seminar, is basic to planning for evangelism year-round. Associations are encouraged to schedule this seminar. An exciting variation, the "Church Alive" Growth Weekend, is available for a limited number of churches.

Revival Preparation

The Revival Training Seminar enables a church to organize and prepare in order to utilize the revival meeting for its maximum potential in reaching people. Revival Training is a primary strategy for emphasis.

Spiritual Awakening

The Prayer for Spiritual Awakening seminar continues to be available for churches and associations. Some churches are opting for a retreat or prayer revival format. Since its introduction in 1980, renewed interest is being expressed in using this means of establishing and implementing a congregational prayer ministry as the foundation of a church's total ministry. The message by J. Edwin Orr, "The Role of Prayer in Spiritual Awakening," is available on video cassette.

Metropolitan Evangelism

Urban Evangelism Awareness Conferences continue to meet the needs of many. The content brings a focus on interfacing evangelism with Christian social ministries, new work, language, student, multifamily, and inner city work.

Victor G. Cole, director

122/Baptist State Convention

Personal Evangelism

The Personal Evangelism Department provides opportunities for witness training to Christians of all ages with emphasis given to several target groups such as youth, single adults and young adults. A major part of the work is to provide leadership training for key church and associational leaders who can continue training others at the local level.

Continuing Witness Training (CWT)

Interest in CWT continues to rise at a very exciting rate across North Carolina! Thirty National CWT Seminars have been conducted with approximately 300 churches, including pastors of each church attending. During 1987 seminars were held in Asheville, Fayetteville, Hendersonville, and Jacksonville. (Two Seminars were held specifically for Southeastern Seminary and Fruitland Institute students.) The most distinguishing factor of this process is that it multiplies the witnesses as they are trained. A "Model Presentation of the Gospel" is used to share one's faith during visitation. The seminar covers four days with 25 hours of instruction and witnessing. Five seminars are planned for 1988. Registration is done through the Personal Evangelism Department.

Student Evangelism Team

Witness, the name of the Student Evangelism Team, experienced a great summer during 1987! Leading approximately 53 concerts, seven college/seminary students presented the gospel through exciting and meaningful Christian music. Each concert closed with an invitation with good public response. Some of the most valuable time was spent one-to-one and during witnessing classes.

The Baptist Children's Homes and the Baptist State Convention have formed a three-year partnership to reach out to youth through evangelism and to spread the news about the resources the Children's Homes has to offer families. The main thrust of this effort is through Witness as they tour the state sharing through music and testimony.

Youth Evangelism Weeks

Using the theme, "Run, And Not Be Weary," 1,800 youth and adults attended two weeks at Caswell in June and July. Leaders included Mike Gilbert, Richard Jones, Delos Miles, Morris Ashcraft, Johnny Hunt, and Greg Mathis. Music was shared by Joe Estes and Witness. During the commitment services over 694 youth made public commitments of their faith in Christ, with over 162 of these being first-time professions of faith! It was a great experience.

Super Summer '87

This three-day event proved to meet many needs. During July 29-31, 200 youth and leaders met at Friendly Avenue Church in Greensboro for the Love/Life Principles Seminar, written and taught by Barry Wood of Lubbock. Texas.

On Friday evening, 5,000 people joined together in the Greensboro Coliseum for the evangelistic crusade. Dwight "Ike" Reighard, Joe Estes, Witness, and Tommy Burleson led the service. Over 900 youth made public decisions for Christ, with 202 of these being first-time professions of faith.

Richard W. Everett, director

Missions

North Carolina Baptists' commitment to ministry and witness in the state is matched by their dollar investment. Over $2 million were allocated from Cooperative Program, State Missions Offering and Home Mission Board funds to support the work of the division office, two Area Missionaries and the Associational Development, Brotherhood, Chaplaincy and Language, Church Extension, Cooperative Ministries, and Special Ministries departments.

The division director serves as chair of the State Mission Week of Prayer Planning committee. The 1987 theme was "Changing Lives Through State Missions." The offering goal was $1. 2 million. Total receipts for 1986 were approximately $1.5 million.

A continuing priority in missions is organizing new churches. In 1987 there were 39 new church-type missions, nine new language churches and two new black churches.

The number and significance of bi-vocational ministers is increasing. A concerted effort was made to encourage their participation in ongoing associational and state events. Special conferences in skills development were scheduled at night and on weekends to increase their participation.

North Carolina Baptist Men accepted the responsibility of assisting West Virginia Baptists in building a new office building. Architectural services, site preparation specialists, and construction crews were provided. It is anticipated that this will be completed in time for occupancy early in 1988. North Carolina WMU will join West Virginia WMU in providing furnishings for the building.

Staff worked with chaplains, associational directors of missions, pastors and church and community ministries directors in studying needs of the 735,682 military related persons residing in North Carolina. A model for ministry in military settings was completed and is available to the churches. Larry McClure will be the staff coordinator for this work.

124/Baptist State Convention

There were two personnel changes in field staff. Bobby Stafford was elected director of Associational Development and Joe Frank Jones was elected associate in Church Extension.

Sara Ann Hobbs, director

Area Missions Eastern North Carolina

Efforts are being made to bring the resources of the Baptist State Convention to bear upon the many needs of the churches and associations in the eastern part of the state. The area missionary provides leadership opportunities, mission experiences, and training for members of these churches.

One area of great concern in eastern North Carolina has been the difficulties under which the farmers have been working since about 1981. Because of the world farm economy, high interest on loans and other major changes, many farm families have been forced from the farm. The Baptist State Convention has tried to provide some support to help these families face an uncertain future.

Eastern North Carolina is undergoing many changes that are providing great mission opportunities for our churches. There has been considerable growth in population along the waterfronts (oceans, sounds and rivers). This often involves starting new work or helping established work discover (or rediscover) its mission to a growing community.

North Carolina has long been home to several large military installations. Four major bases are located in the eastern part of the state. This year, a task force was instructed to give careful study as to how our churches, associations and convention might better minister to the hundreds and thousands of military personnel that move throughout our state. The Task Force discovered how complex and extensive human needs really are. Churches and associations near military bases have a great task. The Task Force, therefore, is calling for the convention to make a special effort to support this ministry. "The harvest truly is plentiful, but the workers are few." (Matthew 9:37). In obedience to our Lord, therefore, we are asking the Lord of the harvest to send the guidance, resources and workers required to reinforce our meager ranks and carry out the mission.

Key leadership workshops, retreats and Seminary Extension Centers continue to be valuable resources used to equip lay leaders and pastors to do the work.

The goal of the area missionary will be to continue to assist associations and churches in the planning process of becoming more effective witnesses for Jesus Christ.

Larry R. McClure, area missionary, Eastern North Carolina

Western North Carolina

Change—you see it all around the 30 associations that make up Western North Carolina. Someone has said "that the more things change, the more they remain the same." That seems to be a contradiction but is a truth for the mountain churches and associations.

The influx of people into the area has brought new opportunities for church expansion and growth. However, many of the small "family" churches in the mountains have found it difficult to reach out and minister to these "different" people. Often these newcomers talk differently, have different ideas—culturally and otherwise—and are often considered a threat to the fellowship of the small "family" church. It has always been true that new opportunities often remind us of old problems. The church in our day must find ways to "include" rather than "exclude."

The Area Missionary seeks to assist churches and associations in accomplishing their tasks. Many of the mountain churches have bivocational pastors. The dedication and quality of leadership offered by these ministers have proved to be one of the great assets of the churches. Training opportunities are provided throughout the year to help equip our leadership for the work they are called to do. Special conferences, seminary extension classes, and area meetings are planned to meet specific needs.

Western North Carolina is a growing tourist area. Working in cooperation with other convention personnel, we are seeking to involve churches in resort ministries. This work is growing in significant numbers. People are responding to the challenge of sharing the "good-news" with people where they are.

The Indian word for the mountain country was "Appalachi," which translated "land of the sky—the chosen land of God." The first white settlers over the Blue Ridge into the Swannanoa Valley called this place "Eden." Men continue to come to the garden. They continue to eat of the tree of knowledge. In all of the change that takes place in these hills, may we ever seek to be sure that the knowledge they find will lead men to God.

Tom E. Lolley, area missionary, Western North Carolina

Associational Development

The Department of Associational Development provides support for the 79 associations through cooperative agreements which provide requests for field services and financial support for various ministry projects within the association. The Department also supports associations through both professional staff and volunteer associational leader conferences and materials.

During 1987, 16 regional associational fellowship conferences were conducted. Six Annual Planning Workshops were conducted in connection with Vacation Bible School Training. The annual summer retreat consisted of professional and personal training conferences. A conference titled, "Communicating the Association to the Churches; was conducted at the Baptist State Convention. Many personal consultations were held with directors of missions and with associational leaders.

Eight associations (Mecklenburg, Caldwell, Chowan, Brushy Mountain, Catawba River, Atlantic, Stanly, and Three Forks) were involved in strategy planning, a process that studies the history of the association and analyzes the present and future trends of the communities. This planning helps determine ministry needs for the next five years of the association.

Resort Missions

Resort Missions reaches out to tourists as well as to persons that are making their homes in resort locations.

Thirty young adults ministered in resort areas this summer from the mountains to the beach. A new team, located in the southwestern area of the state, conducted "water ministry," campground ministry, and served on the staff at Truett Camp. Other resort ministers were involved in all types of ministry to vacationers.

The Avery Association began ministry to Beech Mountain. French Broad Association began a ministry at Wolf Laurel and Tar River Association started work at Lake Royal. Stone Mountain Association is now conducting a ministry at Greenstreet Resort and Montgomery Association began a new ministry at Lake Tillery. Atlantic and Brunswick associations each began beach ministries. Many laypersons are volunteering as chaplains for resort communities as well as conducting worship services. More and more, churches are becoming responsible for resort persons that visit or move into their communities.

Campers-on-Mission Chapter of the national organization has been formed in North Carolina with 841 families registered. The purpose of the group is to provide a vehicle for camping families to learn how to use it as a tool of ministry and mission. Two state rallies are conducted each year. The group is growing with enthusiasm.

World Mission Conferences

Deborah Batts has been named Director of World Mission Conferences in North Carolina. One of the purposes of World Mission Conferences is to allow every person in North Carolina to personally know a missionary. This year nine associations have hosted World Mission Conferences: Columbus, Yadkin, Cabarrus, Transylvania, Wilmington, Randolph, Ashe, Yates, and West Chowan. The goal is to conduct a World Mission Conference in every association in North Carolina by the year 1990.

Brotherhood

The basic task of Brotherhood is to involve men and boys in missions. This task is being accomplished better today (both in North Carolina and the Southern Baptist Convention) than ever in the history of Brotherhood. In 1987, there were more men involved in mission action, study, and prayer groups than ever before. Men's prayer groups continue to grow at a rapid rate. For both the church and Brotherhood, this is a vital sign of good things to come.

Local Leadership

During 1987, the state Brotherhood Department continued to help develop local leadership (associational and local church). Without good trained leadership at these most important levels, it will be very difficult to see sustained growth in mission outreach for men and boys. Great effort was made to train specialists in Brotherhood work to help lead both the church and associational workers.

Royal Ambassadors

Under the leadership of Tommy Puckett, Richard Brunson, and Tom Stocks, the Royal Ambassador program has become a model for the Southern Baptist Convention. New and innovative programs have challenged boys in grades 1 through 12 to become more involved in missions than ever before. From sports programs (involving thousands of boys) to overseas missions (involving senior high young men), Royal Ambassadors has become the vehicle to challenge boys to be "Ambassadors for Christ."

The summer camp program continues to help young men discover themselves in new ways. Under the leadership of Richard Brunson, Caraway for boys is a model example of what "decentralized camping" can and should be. Over 1,700 boys—one of the largest attendance in recent years—spent a week at Caraway, learning valuable lessons that will help them as they grow into manhood. Royal Ambassadors has a future that is very bright and, under the leadership of our present staff, will continue to grow.

North Carolina Baptist Men

North Carolina Baptist Men appreciates the State Missions Offering for providing 7.5 percent of that offering to operate this organization. N.C. Baptist Men continues to work hand in hand with the Brotherhood Department in enlisting men to various ministries. At the present time, there are 13 different ministries in which men are involved. David Langford, director of Brotherhood work, serves as executive director of N.C. Baptist Men.

In 1987, N.C. Baptist Men continued to enlist men to build the first unit of any mission church. Response has been very positive to this program. Baptist Men will continue to challenge every Baptist church in our state to have a Baptist Men's prayer group. A prayer support leader for every church in North Carolina is in the process of being enlisted. This is a reasonable expectation, and one that will provide power for both the church and the men to do great things for our Master.

Staff

Office staff includes Lynn Tharrington, office coordinator; Sharon Dixon, office secretary; and Rebecca Garner, office secretary. Countless letters, programs, and memos were sent to leadership across our state that enabled our work to be accomplished. With capable office staff and dedicated field staff, good days are still ahead for Brotherhood work in North Carolina.

David Langford, director

Chaplaincy and Language Ministries Chaplaincy

Growing a larger volunteer chaplaincy force has been the focus of the Department of Chaplaincy Ministries for the 1986-87 year. This is being accomplished by assisting associations to develop chaplaincy councils as a part of the Associational Missions Development programs. The area of focus has been ministry to institutionalized elderly, small hospitals, law enforcement, jails and prisons. The Chaplaincy Department furnishes assistance in surveys, planning and training for those who minister as volunteer chaplains.

The Department continues to assist associations with funding for part-time prison and jail chaplains. Seven associations participate in this program. Four seminary intern programs train students as chaplains in prisons, institutional hospitals and retirement villages. These programs are jointly sponsored by Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, the individual agencies, and the Baptist State Convention.

The director continues to give support as denominational representative to full-time chaplains serving in the three branches of the military and reserves, hospital, law enforcement and prison positions. Presently, there are more than 100 chaplains serving full-time positions in North Carolina.

Language

The Language Missions Department celebrates its 10th year as a department in the year 1987. We thank God for the growth of Baptist work among the many nationalities living in North Carolina over these 10 years. We continue to minister to our native Americans, the American Indian in the Burnt Swamp Association and the Cherokee Indian through the Tennessee River/Cheoah Associations. Our mission growth through other languages includes 52 churches and missions in 10 different languages: Asian Indian, Spanish, Haitian, Cambodian, Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Laotian, Middle-Eastern (Arab), and Vietnamese. All but four of these churches or missions have been started since the Department was formed in 1977. As the number of internationals grows across our state, the Department is dedicated to assisting churches and associations to reach out in the name of our Lord to the world at our door.

Seventeen Baptist associations are actively involved in ministering to the more than 65,000 migrants who work for North Carolina farmers. Approximately 61 percent of the migrants are Spanish-speaking, 10 percent are Creole-speaking Haitians, and the remainder are American born.

The Interfaith Witness program, as a part of the Language Department, has been challenged as never before to help churches who are trying to understand cults and sect groups found in their communities. We continually prepare to meet these needs.

The Language Department is filling a vital role of our convention's work as North Carolina Baptists minister in our changing communities.

Deaf Ministries

1987 is another historical year for Baptist work with deaf people. Robert Moore began work as the first associational minister to the deaf in the Mecklenburg Association. The Baptist State Convention works cooperatively with the Mecklenburg Association in supporting this ministry.

The first North Carolina Baptist Conference of the Deaf was held at South Mountain Baptist Camp on October 16-17. This conference was organized of, by and for the deaf.

This department participates in the support of ministries at the schools for the deaf at Morganton and Wilson. A number of deaf students have accepted Christ through these ministries and have been baptized into local Baptist churches.

The First Baptist Church for the Deaf, constituted in 1986 at Hickory with the cooperation of the Theron Rankin Association and the Baptist State Convention is going well. The pastor, Rev. Jessie Bowman, a hearing person, still hopes to one day have a deaf pastor.

A program of regular visitation continues at Lenoir-Rhyne College, Hickory to be available for counselling or just "listening" to the deaf students. A similar program is planned for visiting the deaf students at Gardner-Webb College. The Department was instrumental in starting the program at Gardner-Webb which is gaining the reputation of being one of the best programs available for deaf college students.

The Deaf Youth Retreat was held in May at Camp Caraway with 60 campers attending. There were 25 professions of faith and nine rededications. The success of this camp was attributed to having a deaf camp pastor, Robert Moore and a number of the counselors were

Burke Holland, director

Church Extension

The Church Extension Department works with churches and associations in North Carolina through New Work Starts and Church Growth. Established churches and new churches are assisted through Church Growth Assistance, loans and rental assistance.

Specialized assistance is provided for churches through the following programs: (1) PACT (Program for Assisting Churches in Transitional communities), (2) People Search (area survey and analysis), (3) New Work Corps and PRAXIS (Summer New Work Missionaries), (4) Church Planting (Growth Conferences for local churches and associations), (5) New Work Probe (survey of local area and/or association for new work start potential), (6) Multi-Family Housing Conferences and training, and (7) Urban Training Cooperative (conference on meeting urban needs).

Ten PRAXIS student Church Planters from Southeastern and Southwestern seminaries worked in five associations in the summer of 1987. For ten weeks they made evangelistic visits, conducted Big A Clubs, Backyard Bible Clubs, Mission Vacation Bible Schools and Home Mission Bible Fellowships. Several of the teams were instrumental in building the foundations for a new work. (One is even staying on to pastor the mission church,) PRAXIS teams served in the following associations: Atlantic, Flat River, Little River, Mt. Zion and Wilmington.

For the first time this year (through the cooperation and support of the Campus Ministries Division), three New Work Corps undergraduate students worked in two associations. A team of seminary students also served as New Work Corps persons in the Piedmont, New South River and South Roanoke associations.

A network of seven New Work/Church Growth Consultants has helped associations and local churches across the state in starting new work and helping plateauing churches to grow.

Church Growth Assistance was received by 43 New Works (1-5 years) and 28 established works (6 years or more) and 10 recieved rental assistance. Eight pastors received annuity assistance. As of August 1, 1987, there have been 30 new starts.

PROBES are scheduled for Piedmont and Pilot Mountain associations in November. Megafocus meetings have been held in Mecklenburg. Multi-Family Housing conferences have occurred in Mecklenburg and Buncombe. A Church Planting Growth Conference was held at Caraway. A two-day Strategy Planning Meeting, with a nationally known outside consultant, was held in Cary with state staff and consultants in attendance.

The Department works with the Cooperative Ministries Department in starting new work with Black churches and the Sunday School and Church Training departments in assisting new works; Chaplaincy, with Church Growth Assistance for Language pastors; and the Evangelism Division in reaching the multi-family housing sector. The Department also cooperates with the Baptist Foundation and the Church Building and Planning Department in building churches and securing loans. Information is shared with all divisions for the purpose of education and awareness.

Bob Watson, director

Cooperative Ministries With General Baptists And Seminary Extension

The Department celebrated 30 years of ministries in 1987. Initially, the purpose of the Department was to relate ministries and outreach to the predominantly black and white populations in North Carolina, through the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina and the predominantly black General Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. Today, interracial work has been experiencing change, moving toward a greater effort of organizing Southern Baptist churches among the black population. The channel of cooperative efforts between the two state conventions is still a viable effort but only part of an extended program.

Additional ministries of the Department include seminary extension programs, bivocational ministries, coordinating volunteer ministries in the criminal justice system, an in-service guidance program on college campuses.

Cooperative Ministries

Forty black student summer workers served in 19 locations throughout the state, with Orientation Week held at Meredith College. Nineteen black teenagers attended Youth Week at Caswell Baptist Assembly, Southport.

Scholarships totaling $10,675 were provided to 25 black Baptist students preparing for church related vocations. Southeastern Seminary provided $3,200 in matching funds. The students attended five different institutions.

The annual statewide General Baptist pastor's conference and conference for new pastors was held in 1987. The Department also directed programs for Christian Education for churches and associations in the General Baptist State Convention. The department director served as Dean of Continuing Education for the Shaw Divinity School and conducted regional institute and workshops for pastors and lay persons.

An annuity program was coordinated for General Baptist pastors

Seminary Extension

A total of 102 Seminary Extension centers and branches now exist, the largest statewide program of its kind in the United States. The two most popular courses in 1987 were CD 0291—CHURCH GROWTH and PM 0256—CLINICAL PASTORAL TRAINING.

Sixty-four courses in 26 centers were established among General Baptists, with a recorded 1,100 registrations. The total record as of August 1, 1987, now stands as follows:

Number enrolled)

The Department also operates the Department of Seminary Extension for the Shaw Divinity School.

Over 400 courses for prison inmates were provided in 1987, bringing the total to over 2,300 courses since beginning the program in 1979. Seven diplomas in Pastoral Ministries were presented, bringing the total to 28 inmates having earned a diploma in Pastoral Ministries. One or more students have enrolled representing 30 of the 87 prison units in North Carolina.

Bivocational Ministries

The sixth annual Retreat for Bivocational Ministers and Spouses was held at Caraway with a record 103 in attendance. The Department also sponsored 26 associational conferences with over 700 bivocational ministers and lay leaders in attendance.

Crime Related Ministries

A new manual, Baptist Involvement in the Criminal Justice System: Volunteer Ministries with the Offender and Those Affected by Crime, was distributed. The Department also provided personnel for programs in churches and associations.

In-Service Guidance

The Department assisted Meredith College in an initial step toward establishing an in-service guidance program for students exploring careers in chruch related vocations. The Department also began discussing with Wingate College a similar program.

Staff

Those associated with this department in addition to the director are: Cecilia S. Davis, office secretary; Leo Williams; J. Z. Alexander; Norman Band; and Wilburn Hendrix.

Corbin L. Cooper, director

Special Ministries

The Special Ministries Department is responsible for helping North Carolina Baptists become more aware of (and provide) a ministry with persons with handicapping conditions, promote the area of Church and Community Ministries, provide literacy promotion and training, and help volunteers find ways of serving Christ in and through local churches.

Donna Boykin serves as secretary.

Ministry With Blind/Visually Impaired Persons

May Waugh continues to serve effectively as field consultant for ministry with blind persons. She travels extensively in sharing with pastors, associational leadership, WMU groups, brotherhood groups, and senior citizens' groups about ways they can minister in helping blind persons know Christ and find an effective way of serving Him.

The cassette ministry of the Department remains strong and in much demand. Two hundred forty-two persons are currently on the mailing list to get each issue of the Biblical Recorder. Forty-three sets of the Foreign Mission Study book, 63 sets of the January Bible Study, and 45 sets of the Home Mission study were also mailed during the year.

Ministry With Retarded Persons

One-hundred-twenty North Carolina Baptist churches now have special classes for persons with mental retardation (MR). At least 15 new classes started this year. Training for workers in those classes was provided in cooperation with the Sunday School Department in ASSIST Conferences, VBS Clinics, and Fall Leadership Conferences. The Training sessions were led by Wayne and Mary Bowen, Bill and Barbara Voorhes, Patsy Koutsogeorgas and Gene Nabi of the Baptist Sunday School Board, Nashville.

Three Happiness Retreats were held at Caraway Conference Center and Truett Camp. Bill Voorhes and Nancy Cody served as camp directors respectively. The retreats at Caraway have training sessions for teachers of MR classes as well as a program for persons with mental retardation. There were 320 persons at these retreats, 185 of those were persons with mental retardation.

Day camp programs for mentally retarded persons continue to be successful. Saturday programs were conducted at Campbell University and Wingate College for the fourth year and at Camp Cale for the second year. Recreation departments, BSU students, Christian service clubs, WMU groups, an ARC group, and the Department work together to make these Saturday events possible. Over 175 persons were involved in these events.

information to churches. The Department provided 39,300 bulletin inserts to churches upon request.

The "Open Doors" newsletter was mailed quarterly to 569 persons and/or churches with information about activities, events, teaching materials, etc., available for ministry with persons with mental retardation.

Church and Community Ministries

At the time this report was written there were 10 full-time and six part-time Church and Community Ministries (CCM) programs in progress. One new full-time program is set to begin the last quarter of 1987 in the South Roanoke Association. Four of the full-time CCM Directors are new on the field this year.

The full-time Directors of Church and Community Ministries are: Carolyn Johnson, Buncombe Association; Marvin Southard, Dan Valley Association; Cathy Hopkins, Eastern Association; Robert Davis, Kings Mountain Association; Sheila Black, Mecklenburg Association; Richard Spell, New South River Association; Michael Bradshaw, Pilot Mountain Association; Roy A. Smith, Raleigh Association; Marsha Cook, Wilmington Association; Faye Bassett, Yates Association. There is a vacancy in the New River Association; Gerry Hutchinson moved from there to a position in the CCM Department at the Home Mission Board.

The workers and associations having part-time CCM programs, or receiving part-time funding are Joyce Camp, Cabarrus Association; Linda Lariscy, Flat River Association; Delene Russell, Gaston Association; Ann Williamson, Mount Zion Association; Robin Chapman, Neuse Association; and Aubrey Walker, South Yadkin Association.

Literacy

Bill Hern coordinates the literacy program for North Carolina Baptists. He enlisted leaders for 15 literacy workshops, conducted 10 Literacy Awareness Conferences, and conducted the annual Literary Missions Retreat at Caraway Conference Center for about 50 persons.

Neal L. Peyton, director

Stewardship

The Division of Stewardship plans, develops, and promotes a plan of biblical stewardship to aid churches in enlisting members in the practice of and growth in Christian stewardship.

This plan of biblical stewardship includes the individual Christian's response in terms of giving, lifestyle, and money management. It also includes the local church and its stewardship responsibilities.

Biblical stewardship also includes the support of missions through the Cooperative Program.

The Division's goal for 1987 was to fulfill this purpose and help churches and individuals to reach Bold Mission giving goals.

In May, 1987, Virginia Beal became division secretary. She replaced Joyce Burchette who served nearly nine years as division secretary before moving to a position in Administration. The Stewardship Division wishes to record here a word of appreciation and gratitude to Joyce Burchette for faithful, gracious, and efficient service.

The Division staff seeks to achieve its goals through the following programs.

Planned Growth in Giving

Serving as staff for the State Planned Growth in Giving Task Force was a continuing responsibility of Stewardship during 1987. This is in keeping with the goals and objectives of the Division. (A more detailed report on Planned Growth in Giving can be found in the report of the Task Force to the General Board.)

Missionary-in-Residence

The missionary-in-residence program continues to utilize a furloughing missionary couple to interpret mission support needs to the churches. Steve Cooke, missionary to Chile, served until August 1987.

Cooperative Program Promotion

Materials have been prepared and distributed to aid churches in emphasizing missions support through the Cooperative Program. Special emphasis was given to Cooperative Program Day in April, Vacation Bible Schools, and promotional materials for use in the fall.

Key Associational Leadership Conference

The Division participated in the training of key associational leadership by preparing materials for and training the 34 associational stewardship directors who attended the conference at Ridgecrest, plus participation in the Key Leadership Conferences, and training as requested.

The Great Challenge

The Division sponsored and provided a consultant to lead Great Challenge Stewardship Programs in approximately 17 churches. The Great Challenge is a stewardship program designed especially for smaller churches.

Special Seminars

1. Two Christian Money Management Workshops involved 26 couples in a process of clarifying Christian commitments, financial goal setting, assessment of resources, and the development of a family spending/saving/giving plan. Lee Davis directed the process, using his book, In Charge: Managing Money for Christian Living. Each couple is asked to plan and lead a church or associational Christian Money Management Workshop within the next year.

2. A Stewardship Seminar for leaders of large churches was conducted in July with 15 persons in attendance. Donald Cook of Southeastern Seminary presented Bible studies on Christian stewardship and Ernest Standerfer from the SBC Stewardship Commission shared programs and resources for a year-round stewardship ministry.

136/Baptist State Convention

3. Fifteen persons participated in a three-day Stewardship Seminar in August. The program included a biblical theological study of stewardship and an overview of stewardship programs. Lee Davis of the SBC Stewardship Commission presented a study on "Wealth and the Distinctive Christian Lifestyle." Participants were asked to be available to assist churches with stewardship development.

Bold Missions Stewardship Conferences

The primary method of assisting churches in stewardship development and in reaching mission support goals is through Bold Mission Stewardship Conferences in the associations. The purpose of the meeting is to present and discuss the stewardship material in the packet developed by the Division. Conferences were held in 64 associations, with 663 pastors attending, and a total of 1,844 representatives from 827 churches attending.

Church/Association Staff Support

Church/association staff support recommendations were published in a booklet entitled, "Reapers Should Receive Good Wages." The booklet was sent to church and associational leaders as well as church and association staff.

O. D. Martin, Jr., director

Youth and Campus Ministries

The Youth and Campus Ministries Division is assigned coordination and development of the Convention's many-sided youth ministry program. The Division provides resources for over 1,000 professional, part-time and volunteer youth ministers and projects ministry with college students (and church workers with collegians) through 18 full-time campus ministers, dozens of volunteers and two area resource persons. Jim Greene, division director gives guidance to this area of work.

Youth Ministries

Youth Ministry is everything a church does both inside and outside the church fellowship with young people in grades 7 through 12. Hal Melton, director of the program, coordinates the work and presents to local churches and youth ministers a balanced calendar of youth emphases.

The Division also encourages and equips full-time, part-time and volunteer youth ministers. Programs include the N.C. Youth Ministers Retreat and Workshop, Regional Youth Ministry Workshops, Key Leadership Conference, and "Curtain Call," a drama conference. Another key element is the development of the N.C. Baptist Youth Ministers Association, a group of over 130 concerned youth ministers from across the state. They help the Division in its tasks of educating, resourcing and communicating youth ministry to the churches and associations.

The Division seeks, finally, to program a few state-wide youth ministry events that meet the demanding spiritual, social and service needs of today's youth. Four Youth Conferences held each summer at Caswell reach almost a thousand youth per week. Youth Ministry Council Retreats equip youth and adults for effective youth leadership in churches. The annual High School Seniors Retreat gives seniors a chance to look into the year ahead and begin to ask questions/find answers to what life is like after high school graduation.

Future plans by the Division (along with the church program departments) will strengthen youth ministry programs where they exist.

Local Campus Ministry

The full-time campus ministers serving on 18 major campuses across the state are unique among Convention or University employees in that they are the persons entrusted with day-to-day ministry in academic settings. (Baptist Student Union — BSU — is the organization on the campuses.) Consistent contact with administrators and faculty is also a part of the responsibility, as is cooperative work with a number of other campus ministers. These persons, from Cullowhee, Mars Hill and Boone to Wilmington, Murfreesboro and Greenville also seek to encourage churches in their ministry with students.

In addition to the on-going ministry provided by full-time campus ministers, many of the campuses are served by volunteers. These persons, who may be church staff members, faculty members or interested laypersons, commit some of their time to the nurture and development of students. Were it not for these dedicated persons, there might not be a BSU on 15 or so campuses in the state.

The major development of students occurs in the local setting. Training in evangelism, interpretation of faith and academic disciplines, experience in Bible study and the intentional development of leadership skills are parts of each local program. In addition, the Division develops a sensitivity to others and leads students to minister to all needs and persons in the name and spirit of Christ.

The work also focuses on preparing students to minister off campus. Teams of students are trained to lead youth revivals, present mission programs, and communicate the gospel through other creative means in various off-campus settings.

Several associations work in exceptionally creative ways with students and campus ministers providing cooperative efforts that demonstrate to academic communities Baptists' concern for students.

State BSU Ministry

The state-level BSU ministry provides additional opportunities for spiritual growth and leadership development for college students. The state BSU structure gives students the opportunity to assume leadership roles in planning and implementing programs.

Student Committees (with other students and Baptist leaders) plan statewide conferences such as the leadership conference in the spring or Baptist Student Convention in the fall. Other committees help develop emphases in the area of evangelism and ministry with international students.

Another major state-level emphasis is missions. Here, attention is focused on mission education and involvement. Hundreds of students are involved in mission projects throughout the school year, with other students serving in positions during the summer. These opportunities are made possible through mission monies raised by students.

In 1987, two events are of special significance and need your prayer support: North Carolina will join with other Conventions along the seaboard to sponsor a Global Concerns Conference in Washington in December. Pray that the vision of our young people will be broadened and deepened during this December 27-30 event.

Twenty-six students will join 75 others from across the Southern Baptist Convention in a two-week mission ministry and learning event in Brazil from December 28-January 14. Teams of American and Brazilian students will serve together under SBC missionaries and Brazilian Home Missionaries to minister to people and bear witness in selected parts of that country. Their effectiveness and growth depend in part on your prayer concern.

David Moore and Kay Huggins, with local campus ministers on a rotating basis, give direction to the state-level BSU programs.

Volunteers/Church Workers With College Students

Joe Clontz and Joe David Fore serve as area resource persons for the Division. They proivide support for volunteer BSU directors and assistance for those who work with college students in local churches. The latter includes providing resources and training for Sunday School teachers of college-age persons. Other special emphases involve ministry in predominately Black schools and with international students.

James Y. Greene, director

Christian Higher Education

Council Membership

When the Council on Christian Higher Education was established in 1944, North Carolina Baptists were concerned about quality of education, harmonious relationships among the colleges, and a higher level of financial support for Christian higher education. For 43 years the Baptist State Convention has looked to the Council for leadership with the challenges and opportunities related to the mission of Baptist colleges.

The Council is comprised of the presidents, academic deans and chairmen of boards of trustees of six institutions: Campbell, Chowan, Gardner-Webb, Mars Hill, Meredith and Wingate; and the General Board's Committee on Christian Higher Education. The president, dean and trustee chairman of Wake Forest University are associate members of the Council. New members elected from the General Board are: Earl Farthing, Nan H. McNeill, C. Ray Pruette, and James D. Whetstone. Ex officio members of the Council are the executive director-treasurer of the Baptist State Convention, General Board president, convention president, president of the North Carolina Woman's Missionary Union, and the executive secretary of the Council on Christian Higher Education.

Bonner Joins Gardner-Webb, Council

A. Frank Bonner was named Vice President for Academic Affairs at Gardner-Webb College, effective June 1, 1987. He is a graduate of Furman University, the University of Georgia, and earned the Ph.D. degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He comes to Gardner-Webb from Anderson College in South Carolina, where he was associate dean for special programs. Earlier he had taught English and served as assistant to the president of Anderson College. He succeeds John R. Drayer, who has accepted the post of academic dean at Bethel College in Tennessee.

Two Presidents Honored

Fred B. Bentley and Bruce E. Whitaker, presidents of Mars Hill and Chowan, were chosen by their presidential peers to be listed among "the 100 most effective presidents in the nation." The same study also named Dr. Whitaker as one of the 18 most effective college presidents in America. The study was designed by Dr. James L. Fisher, president emeritus of the Council for Advancement of Education. Dr. Whitaker was further honored by Wake Forest University at spring commencement with the awarding of the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws.

Committee on Funding

From September, 1986, to May, 1987, a committee of the Council conducted the required study of Cooperative Program distribution to the colleges. A careful study was undertaken, one which included interviews with each college president, an evaluation of pertinent enrollment and financial data from the institutions, and an examination of procedures used by other state conventions. The committee's report was adopted by the General Board on May 19, 1987. The following members conducted the study: Jerry E. Harper, chairman; Max Freeman; Charles Lethcoe; Carlton Nixon; Dan Stanley; and Bob Shepherd, ex officio.

Trustee Study Committee

The General Board authorized and appointed a Trustee/Convention Relationship Committee, chaired by former Convention president Mark Corts. Two of the Council's members, Dorothy Goodwin and Bruce Whitaker, are serving on the committee.

Cooperation With Churches in Recruitment

Since 1973 one Council program has connected the colleges and the churches in a cooperative effort to inform and to recruit Baptist students for Baptist colleges. Pastors and other church leaders have furnished names and addresses of more than 52,000 prospective students. This year, 1987, the Council received and distributed to the colleges names and addresses of approximately 7,000 young people, all of whom have been sent information from the Council and the colleges, including financial aid procedures. Baptist colleges have a strong desire to recruit Baptist students.

Special Campus Events

Campbell University climaxed its centennial year with a birthday celebration on January 13, 1987.

Wingate College marked 10 years as a senior college on Founders' Day, February 19, 1987, with former president Thomas E. Corts as principal speaker.

Wake Forest University's Founders' Day, February 5, 1987, focused upon its Baptist founders. The University's commitment to honor its Baptist heritage was the focus of President Hearn's address entitled "A Goodly and a Godly Heritage."

Meredith College honored the memory of the Council's first executive secretary, Claude F. Gaddy, in its dedication of the Gaddy-Hamrick Art Center March 27, 1987.

Gardner-Webb College inaugurated tenth president M. Christopher White in campus ceremonies on April 8, 1987. The Council and the six other colleges were participants in the events of the day.

Convention President Poe, SBC Peace Committee

A two-year study and report by the Southern Baptist Convention's Peace Committee was approved by that convention on June 16, 1987, in St. Louis, Missouri. The Council acknowledges, with gratitude, the generous investment of time and energy by William E. Poe, president of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention and member of this Council, as a member of the Peace Committee, SBC.

A Continuing Commitment

The Council on Christian Higher Education acknowledges with appreciation the deep level of trust expressed by the Convention and General Board. By its very existence the Council symbolizes the need for a healthy dialogue between faith and reason, church and college. A major focus of the Council will continue to be a helpful partnership between Baptist churches and Baptist colleges, each helping the other to fulfill its mission.

Bob D. Shepherd, president
T. Robert Mullinax, executive secretary

Campbell University

The 1986-87 school year at Campbell began on June 1, 1986. The month was highlighted by the beginning of a vigorous summer program, including the thirty-first annual basketball school. The Pastor's School was held on June 30-July 4, 1986 featuring Frank Pollard, then president of Golden Gate Seminary (now pastor of the First Church of Jackson, MS); Peter Rhea Jones of Decatur, GA; and Robert Dale, Professor of Church Ministries, Southeastern Seminary. The Board of Ministers met on June 5, and Norman Aycock of Richlands was elected chairman, succeeding J. R. Bouldin of Rocky Mount.

Faculty Orientation for the 1986-87 school year was held Aug. 21 and 22, under the theme "Celebrating One Hundred Years of Integrating Faith and Learning." Thomas Rich, pastor, First Church, Fairmont, led the faculty worship service, and Arthur L. Walker, Jr., Executive Director-Treasurer, Education Commission, served as principal lecturer. Roy J. Smith, Executive Director-Treasurer of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, gave the banquet address.

The Opening Convocation was held on Sept. 2. The speaker was Mable Parker McLean, president, Barber-Scotia College, Concord.

On Sept. 9, Campbell celebrated "North Carolina Baptist State Convention Appreciation Day." Members of the convention staff and their families were invited as guests of the University to attend a festive barbecue picnic on the university campus. President Norman Wiggins, on behalf of the University and the Trustees, expressed the University's appreciation for the dedicated service of the Convention staff and the nearly 100 years of support of Campbell by the Baptist State Convention.

The Campbell University School of Pharmacy celebrated its first Convocation on September 9, 1986. Representatives of leading pharmaceutical companies, other pharmacy schools, many colleges and universities, and governmental agencies were present for the occasion. Daniel A. Nona, Executive Director, the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education, delivered the principal address. Dean Ronald W. Maddox and the faculty were commended for the excellent progress made in preparation for the initial year and the selection of the beginning class.

"The Billy Kim Crusade," which was sponsored by the Thomas F. Staley Foundation in cooperation with the University and the Little River Association, was held on the campus on Oct. 19-23, and was a highly significant event in the life of the University. Kim, Pastor of the Central Baptist Church in Seoul, Korea, Director of the Far Eastern Broadcasting Company and interpreter for Billy Graham, is blessed with a warm heart, a cool head and a fiery message. The students responded well to Kim's call for Christian commitment. The University particularly appreciated the opportunity to work closely with the Little River Association.

On December 7, the Board of Trustees and the Presidential Board of Advisors joined several hundred guests, including members of the Century Club, for the annual Christmas concert by the University Choir, dinner and the unveiling of the portraits of President and Mrs. Wiggins. The portraits were presented by the Advisors and Trustees.

On Tuesday, Jan. 13, 1987, Campbell celebrated its Centennial Founders' Day. The chapel service and lunch were followed by a candlelighting ceremony. One hundred and ten candles, each representing a scholarship of $10,000 or more, were lighted. Alumni and friends from around the state and across the nation were present for the joyous occasion.

The one hundred and first graduation services were held on Sunday and Monday, May 10 and 11. Milton Ferguson, president, Midwestern Seminary, delivered the Baccalaureate Sermon, and William Poe, president, Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, gave the Commencement Address.

For 37 years, including the 1986-87 school year, the University has operated on a balanced budget. Such indebtedness as the University has carries an interest rate of two and one-half to three percent, or the prime interest rate. The majority of the indebtedness is self-liquidating. The indebtedness constitutes no threat to the sound financial operation of the University.

During the year, the university was saddened by the death of several dear friends: Mrs. I. M. Wallace, oldest living former trustee; Mrs. Mary Green Johnson, Distinguished Alumna; Coach Press Maravich, one of the nation's most outstanding basketball coaches; and James R. Coates, benefactor and vice chairman of Campbell's Presidential Board of Advisors.

The world has turned over many times since Campbell University opened its doors on a cold, windy day, January 5, 1887. All three of its presidents and nearly all who have served her believe the University was called into being by God. As Campbell begins its second century, we renew our pledge to do all that we can to keep her within the will of our Heavenly Father.

Clyde J. Rhyne, chairman, Board of Trustees Norman A. Wiggins, president

Chowan College

Chowan College inaugurated her 139th academic year on Thursday evening, August 21, 1986, with the traditional President's Banquet—prelude to a two-day faculty/staff workshop. Keynote speaker for the President's Banquet was T. Robert Mullinax, executive secretary, Council on Christian Higher Education, Baptist State Convention. In addition to procedural matters related to the beginning of another school year, principal focus of the workshop was upon progress reports from each of the major committees engaged in the decennial institutional self-study—a requirement of all schools which are accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Enrollment for the Fall Semester totalled 881; that for the Spring, 713.

The academic year was concluded with Commencement Exercises on May 17, 1987, at which time degrees and/or diplomas were awarded to 116 students in recognition of their successful completion of a prescribed course of study. The baccalaureate sermon for the occasion was delivered by J. L. Wilson, pastor, Ardmore Church, Winston-Salem, and a member of the college's Board of Trustees. The commencement address to the graduates was delivered by William A. Poe, president, Baptist State Convention. The year witnessed significant accomplishments related to the fulfillment of the institution's purpose of providing quality higher education within the context of a commitment to Christian faith and values.

Of major significance was the completion of the initial phase of the institutional self-study which was begun in the autumn of 1985. That phase involved the examination and analysis of the total educational program of the college, under the guidance of a steering committee and five principal "study" committees. The study committees submitted drafts of their reports in early March, 1986, for review and evaluation by the steering committee. By mid-May, these reports—with needed corrections—had been placed into the hands of an editor for compiling into a single, coherent, unified document. It is anticipated that the edited self-study document will be ready for approval by the faculty and, then, by the Board of Trustees in early September, 1987. A visitation committee from the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools is scheduled to visit the campus in February, 1988. It is anticipated that reaffirmation of accreditation will be forthcoming in December, 1988.

By the end of fiscal 1986-87, the current development campaign—aimed at securing $4,000,000—had reached $2,334,000 in gifts and pledges towards that goal—or, 58 percent of the total projected for a successful campaign. Both the college and the consulting firm which has assisted with the logistics of planning and conducting such an effort are gratified with the progress to date. Solicitation continues towards commitments for additional major category gifts which are essential to the success of any such campaign of this magnitude and scope.

A total enrollment which fell within budget projections for the fiscal year—coupled with sound fiscal management—enabled the college to operate "in the black" during 1986-87. This represents a feat which has been accomplished in each of the last 29 consecutive years of the current administration. Moreover, debt retirement on the one long-term, low interest loan which is outstanding remains on schedule, with adequate cash reserves to liquidate that indebtedness. Total plant fund indebtedness as of May 31, 1987, was $493,000.

With major buildings anticipated in the college's Long Range Master Plan now realized, increased attention is being paid to renovations and/or maintenance of certain existing facilities. Jenkins Hall, a residential facility for women constructed in 1958, was thoroughly refurbished during the summer of 1986 at a cost of some $170,000. The ground floor of Whitaker Library—used since 1968 for administrative office space, library storage, etc.—was renovated during the winter and spring of 1986-87 at a cost in excess of $100,000. Currently, work is in progress towards the renovation of a portion of West Hall, a residence hall for men which was constructed in 1963, and the fourth floor of McDowell Columns Building (1851) to provide additional housing accommodations for women.

Chowan College remains grateful to the Baptists of North Carolina for the strong measure of financial support which is forthcoming through the Cooperative Program, and for that moral and spiritual support/encouragement which is accorded through prayer and praise. The institution also remains committed to cooperative ventures with the Convention, her divisions and departments, in ministry to common constituencies. In 1986-87, the College engaged in joint sponsorship or promotion of programs/emphases with the Council on Christian Higher Education (North Carolina Baptist College Day, College representation at district associational meetings): Division of Youth and Campus Ministries (BSU and related campus ministries); Division of Church Programs (January Bible Study Institute); and Division of Missions (Royal Ambassador emphasis, Baptist Resource Center). In addition, youth teams from Baptist Student Union were invited to participate in deputations, or youth weekend emphases, in several churches of the region.

This report must not be completed without reference to the loss by death in 1986-87 of the following persons who made significant contributions to the cause of Christian higher education: Mrs. Lois Daniel, Wake Forest, member of the Board of Trustees (1966-70, 1972-75), who died on October 5, 1986; James Guy Revelle, Sr., Conway, a member of the Board of Advisors (1975-86), who died on December 14, 1986; H. Melvin Kunkle, Portsmouth, Virginia, a member of the Board of Advisors (1968-87) and chairman of the Board (1974-87), who died on March 12, 1987; and Edward Hughes Pruden, Richmond, Virginia, a member of the Board of Advisors (1970-78), who died on April 4, 1987.

Robert B. Spivey, chairman, Board of Trustees Bruce E. Whitaker, president

Gardner-Webb College

On the historic occasion of his inauguration as tenth president of Gardner-Webb College, M. Christopher White pledged that the College would remain true to the Christian heritage from which it has grown and has drawn strength and purpose during its 82-year history.

Several thousand friends of the College attended one or more of April's inaugural events, bringing good wishes from the churches, the alumni, and colleges and universities across the nation. Inaugural speaker C. D. Spangler, Jr. affirmed church-related institutions such as Gardner-Webb that support traditional values. "Gardner-Webb, because it is a liberal arts college, can help young people cope intelligently, creatively and justly in an era of radical change," Spangler said.

Gardner-Webb is proud of its Baptist heritage, is grateful for the financial support it receives from the Cooperative Program, and is enriched by the harmonious relationship it enjoys with the denomination. Over 60 percent of the students are North Carolina Baptists, a significant measure of the confidence North Carolina

Baptists place in Gardner-Webb.

Gardner-Webb College has launched a $5.95 million capital campaign, "The Future: Building on a Solid Foundation," to raise funds over a three-year period for campus improvement, faculty/academic enrichment and endowment. By summer's end over $2.5 million had been raised, enabling the College to begin muchneeded renovations of the men's residence halls.

Making substantial gifts this year to the College were the Dover, Broyhill, Davis, Lutz, Belk, Duke Power and Yelton foundations, as well as numerous individuals and churches. Alumni giving is rising, as the College intensifies the effort to elicit active support from its alumni. The College received more contributions and pledges in the past year than during any other year in its history, increasing the College's endowment and enhancing its economic stability.

Gardner-Webb concluded the 1986-87 year with no operating deficits. Total indebtedness of the College, as of June 30, 1987 was $2.1 million. The operating budget for the current year is $11.7 million.

Approximately 65 percent of Gardner-Webb College students receive financial aid. In addition to arranging aid, the Office of Financial Planning takes the innovative approach of helping parents with asset management that will enable them to meet educational costs.

Twelve new scholarships, including the Forrest C. Feezor Memorial Scholarship, were endowed this year by friends of the College. Scholarship donors and student scholarship recipients met one another at a special luncheon honoring the donors.

A. Frank Bonner, formerly of Anderson College, joined the College as vice-president for academic affairs. Gardner-Webb's accreditation was reaffirmed by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools.

Enrollment has grown steadily at the College over the last 10 years, reaching 1,882 in the fall of 1986. At spring commencement, 352 students received associate's, bachelor's and master's degrees. John A.

Roberts, commencement speaker and editor of South Carolina's Baptist Courier, was awarded an honorary doctorate of humanities degree.

In recognition of the College's outstanding faculty and in honor of their parents, who were "very good teachers by example," President and Mrs. White established the Fleming-White Award for Excellence in Teaching. The first recipient of the award was Charles Andrews, chairman of the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature.

Three faculty members retired after long careers with the College: P. A. Cline, Jr., classical languages; Thirlen Osborne, English; and Garland Allen, history and religion. The College bestowed the status of professor emerita on Bettye Carpenter of the psychology faculty and Abbie Miller Mitchell of the music faculty.

Honored as the College's first trustees emeriti were three long-time supporters whose leadership and service have spanned 50 years: Mrs. Rush Stroup, Charles I. Dover and Patrick Spangler. The College community mourned Mr. Spangler's death several months later, gratefully acknowledging his leadership in the College's attainment of senior college status in the early '70s.

Two retired professors, M. A. Moseley, Jr., chemistry, and Gladys Morris, English, died following lengthy illnesses. The College also lost to death former trustee Charles P. Nanney and his wife, Mrs. Irene B.

Nanney, and former advisor Forrest W. Hunt.

The Programs for the Blind and the Deaf made significant advancement under the leadership of director Sharon Jennings. Marguerite Noel of Kannapolis made generous provision for the renovation of a facility to house these programs. Gifts from the Baptists of North Carolina and from civic and medical organizations help these programs meet the specialized needs of the increasing numbers of blind and deaf students enrolled at Gardner-Webb.

The B. E. Morris Academy hosted Royal Ambassador (RA) Day, Youth Celebration, Senior Citizens' Day, a tax seminar for pastors and church staff members, several Bible studies, and a weekly radio broadcast of study helps for Sunday School teachers.

Lecturers at the College's two annual Christian lecture series were Frank Campbell, former president of the Baptist State Convention, and loe McKeever, pastor, First Church, Charlotte.

The trustees are happy to report that Gardner-Webb College, founded in 1905 by Baptists as a place "where students could have the best possible educational advantage under distinctive Christian influence," in the diversity and expansion of its varied programs continues to remain true to that original purpose that brought the College into existence.

Mars Hill College

The academic year 1986-87 was excellent! The enrollment was on target in each division; the faculty achieved major goals in reshaping the general education curriculum and student activities were outstanding. During the spring semester goals were projected which will encompass the next five years and which will involve a capital campaign for $10 million.

Central to the development campaign was approval of plans to construct a chapel. The college does not have a designated place conducive to religious life activities such as chapel services, Thursday night worship, weddings, Bible study, Christian Student Movement meetings or meetings of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. For the past 21 years the college has built residence halls, classrooms, a student center, an administration building, a media center and several laboratories. The time has now come to erect a chapel! Groundbreaking ceremonies will occur in late October, 1987, and construction utilizing volunteer labor will occur in April, 1988.

Campus ministry at Mars Hill College continues to be a course of challenge and growth for the campus minister. There are imperceptible, but unmistakable changes with each student generation. Some things have not changed over the past years. Mars Hill students are still responding to the call to service. As always, students served through the Youth Corps in local churches, in mission and ministry positions in North Carolina Baptist camps, in inner city areas and resort areas. One student is serving in the Philippines.

Throughout the year students provided worship and friendship at the VA Hospital, nursing and residential homes for the elderly, at children's homes and the shelter for the homeless in Asheville. Revival teams and the New Beginning Singers spent many weekends in assisting area churches with special emphasis for youth and/or the church at large.

The Center for Christian Education Ministries continues to be a valuable resource for pastors, church leaders and the students. The teaching ministry through the Center is important. College classes in Christian Education serve a special need for those called to full-time Christian service. Also, January Bible Study classes were taught in several area associations by the Center director. Other special Bible study classes were conducted by the Director in area churches.

A Christian college should be a place where teachers and students are "out-thinking and out-living" their contemporaries. To more nearly assure that the Mars Hill College faculty are current in their subject areas, the college has established an endowment fund for faculty renewal. With assistance from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, a fund of three-quarters of a million dollars is invested. The income from the fund will be used for summer study, sabbaticals, workshops and special research.

Cooperative Program funds continue to be the backbone of "non-student" sources of income for the College. These funds are used to help defray expenses of salaries, equipment, scholarships and maintenance. Mars Hill College would not be considered a financially stable institution without this strong Baptist support. Since the founding of the College in 1856, Baptists have helped to provide a Christian education for more than 50,000 young people. The administration, trustees and faculty are pleased to be a part of North Carolina Baptists' mission in Christian education, in concert with the sister colleges.

The long-term indebtedness of the College totals $1.75 million with total assets exceeding $40 million.

The College experienced a great loss in its trustee leadership through the deaths of C. C. Dickson of Charlotte who died on February 8, 1987, and Ernest Teague of Mars Hill, who died on January 10, 1987. These two men gave unselfishly to their church, their community and to Mars Hill College.

Meredith College

Only four years from the centennial celebration of her founding, Meredith College continues to affirm the ideals set forth by her early founders to provide the very best educational opportunities for women. At Meredith, women are challenged to excel at whatever they choose to do and to make a contribution toward "culture made perfect through the religion of Jesus Christ."

As the largest private, four-year college for women in the Southeast, Meredith had a fall enrollment in 1986 of 1,947. One hundred and sixty-four women were enrolled in the College's graduate program, and it is anticipated approximately 200 will be attending graduate classes in the fall semester of 1987.

In May 1987, Meredith awarded degrees to 376 women: 119
Bachelor of Arts, 204 Bachelor of Science, 12 Bachelor of Music, 30
Master of Business Administration, 7 Master of Education and 4 Master of Music. Fourteen more graduate degrees were conferred in August: 11 Master of Business Administration, 2 Master of Education, and 1 Master of Music.

In undergraduate studies, students choose from 30 majors in a high quality academic program. Interdisciplinary majors also give students some flexibility in pursuing their academic interests. Classes are small, still averaging about 17, making it possible for students to receive individual attention.

The Continuing Education Program at Meredith grows in popularity and effectiveness. Seventeen percent of the College's undergraduate student body are women 23 or older, beginning or resuming a college education through the Re-entry Program. These women offer a new dimension in classrooms traditionally occupied only by 18-22 year-olds. This year a re-entry woman again took top academic honors as the recipient of the Dean's Award. Re-entry students also participate in extracurricular activities and find ongoing support through their special student association, WINGS (Women In New Goal Settings) and their special alumnae group, ARC (Alumnae Re-entry Club).

Short courses for enrichment and professional development attract adults to Meredith as well. In addition, the College offers postbaccalaureate career preparation in arts administration (Cultural Resources Management Program) and for the paralegal profession (Legal Assistants Program). In all of these opportunities, and in others developed for special audiences, continuing education at Meredith helps to extend her educational mission while building a strong relationship with the larger community of which the College is a part.

As costs for private education in North Carolina continue to rise, North Carolina Baptists and friends of Meredith keep the College accessible to middle income families in the state and beyond. During the 1986-87 fiscal year, gifts and grants to Meredith totaled $2,372,666, with $944,488 of this amount received through the Cooperative. Program. Alumnae support to the College continues to be strong with 47.07 percent giving $538,996.

Meredith ended the 1986-87 fiscal year with assets of $39,800,000 and an indebtedness of $3,400,000.

The Meredith community regrets the loss during the past year of Edward Pruden, former pastor-in-residence, and Harry E. Cooper, former chairman of the Department of Music.

Wake Forest University

The fraternal relationship between Wake Forest and the Baptist State Convention became effective January 1, 1987. It included the provision that the University elect its own trustees and no longer receive Cooperative Program funds. Though this is a significant change, the fact remains that there is a relationship and it is one the University hopes will be cordial and mutually supportive, for, if so, both parties will be benefited.

The school is committed to continuing its existing programs and services which are provided for Baptist people and students. Scholarships for students, concessions to ministerial students, children of ministers and others related to the Baptist family, conferences and various goodwill gestures will all be maintained.

President Thomas K. Hearn, Jr., in his Founders' Day address in February of 1987 said, "Baptists are a worthy people. They deserve a university representative of their best and noblest contributions to the culture. Wake Forest has a unique and special opportunity to be that institution. To be a Baptist university in this sense is not to be narrowly sectarian. It is to be open, waiting and expectant. To be a Baptist university is to celebrate the diversity that results from a tradition grounded in freedom, autonomy and independence in the context of a community of faith and service... We do this day claim and proclaim our heritage—a goodly and godly heritage." He affirmed that Wake Forest is a Baptist school and would remain so.

Two important developments took place academically. One was the appointment of a Director of Women's Studies which affords a minor in this field and is interdepartmental in nature. The other was the establishment of the Office of International studies which is designed to help students find places abroad best suited for study both in Wake Forest and non-Wake Forest programs. The office is also seeking to begin programs in China and Japan.

The University library system this year acquired its one millionth volume, and is the largest Baptist school library east of the Mississippi. The Baptist Historical Collection, which is a part of the library, receives a large number of Baptist periodicals and continues to grow in books obtained. It is pleased to microfilm and file without charge church and associational minutes and other records. Many pastors and others place their personal papers with the Collection for storage.

Opportunities for spiritual growth are abundant at Wake Forest. Many students are involved in various programs of the campus ministers, of whom there are now six. Members of the Baptist Student Union raised $3,700 for summer missions and sponsored a "Hunger Symposium" during which $942 was raised for that cause. Students were also involved in various local ministries such as Crisis Control, the Prodigal House (a half-way house for released prisoners), the shelter ministry, the Samaritan Soup Kitchen, the prison ministry, the Baptist Retirement Homes, Habitat for Humanity and a literacy program.

The University continues its William Louis Poteat Scholarships for North Carolina Baptist students, eleven of which are awarded annually and are now valued at $3,000. The Matthew T. Yates Scholarships for the children of Southern Baptist foreign missionaries are available and are valued at $2,500. The Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation, through generous grants which total $600,000, has made scholarships possible for minority students. The University, as part of the agreement with the Foundation, has placed $250,000 in endowment for this purpose. Last year seven scholarships in this category were awarded, averaging

Cash gifts to the school for the fiscal year 1986-87 exceeded $12 million, and counting gifts in kind the total was nearly $53 million. RJR Nabisco of Winston-Salem, which is moving its headquarters to Atlanta, donated its office building of 520,000 square feet to Wake Forest, a gift greatly appreciated and which is anticipated will be of much value to the school.

The University was saddened by the loss of four friends of long standing. Two professors were from the Department of Biology, James C. McDonald and Robert L. Sullivan. They had been members of the faculty from 1960 and 1962, respectively. Owen F. Herring, professor emeritus of religion and a member of the faculty from 1946-63, died at the age of 95, and Leon L. Rice, Jr., who for many years gave valuable service to the University and was chairman of its trustees for the 1968-1969 terms, also died.

Wingate College

Commencement exercises held on May 9 marked not only the conclusion of a most exciting and eventful 1986-87 academic year, but also the end of a special relationship between college president Dr. Paul R. Corts and the Class of 1987.

One milestone celebrated at commencement was the awarding of master's degrees for the first time in the College's history. Twenty-three individuals completed their degree requirements and were presented the Master of Arts in education diplomas and hoods. Two hundred and thirty-three students received baccalaureate degrees and twenty students received associate degrees. The Charles and Hazel Corts Award for Excellence in Teaching went to Dr. Jerry. L. Surratt, Lang Professor of History and of Religion and Philosophy.

A new program, the Great American Heritage, began in the spring, thanks to a grant from the Jessie Ball duPont Religious, Charitable, and Educational Fund. The program is designed to be the domestic study/travel counterpart to Winternational. It will give students an opportunity for an urban learning experience in the U.S. before they travel abroad in their junior year for Winternational. Winternational's 1986-87 destinations included Madrid, London, Paris, and Vienna. Since 1978, Wingate students have learned another culture from firsthand experience. Additionally, Dr. Ernest Lee, assistant professor of English, led students on a semester long Wingate-in-London program.

It was announced that Wingate will begin a missionary-in-residence program in spring 1988. The Reverend Jack Hancox, foreign missionary to Haiti, will fill the first such position. He will teach two classes and participate in the various religious activities, all the while interpreting missionary life and needs to the college family.

College president Paul Corts, college chaplain Jim McCoy, and trustee Dewey Hobbs spent a week in October at two mission stations in Ecuador. The group investigated ways Wingate students could participate in the needs of the missions. Other long and short-term mission projects are being explored in conjunction with the Foreign Mission Board.

In 1986-87, sixty-nine Wingate College students were preparing for vocations in Christian ministry. Sixteen students were preparing for the pastorate; 16 for educational ministries; 12 for music ministries; and 10 for other fields of ministerial service.

Rededication ceremonies for C. C. Burris Hall highlighted the opening of the academic year. The "new" Burris Hall was restored for $950,000 and contains 19 classrooms, 30 faculty offices, three seminar rooms, the Computeracy lab, and an audio-visual room. The reopening of the building provided a special time to remember and honor former president Craven Cullom Burris. The family of Mr. Burris announced the establishment of the endowed Craven Cullom and Virginia Currie Burris Fund to support faculty development.

The Charles A. Cannon Complex was officially dedicated in afternoon ceremonies on October 30. The arena portion of the sports and recreation center was named Cuddy Arena—for Cuddy Farms, Inc., Marshville, NC— in recognition of their corporate contribution to the Plan for the Second Century: Vision for Excellence—the College's comprehensive capital campaign.

The College community was saddened by the untimely and sudden death of John A. Cox, former director of admissions and alumni advisor, in December. John was a dear friend and devoted servant of Wingate College.

Founders' Day events in February focused on the tenth anniversary of Wingate College's becoming a four-year institution. The convocation speech was delivered by former president Thomas E.

Corts, current president of Samford University.

The gifts and prayerful support of North Carolina Baptists who provide funds individually and through the Cooperative Program helped sustain and enhance Wingate's ministry and vision for excellence. In partnership with many other friends, the Baptists of North Carolina ensured the fiscal integrity and strength of the College. The College was able once again to operate on a balanced budget during 1986-87, and it continues to enjoy a position almost unique among the nation's private colleges in that it has no indebtedness and operates without use of borrowed funds or direct government support.

Christian Life and Public Affairs

Through three departments, the Council on Christian Life and Public Affairs has provided a variety of field service events and educational resources for North Carolina Baptists. Associational Christian Life Committee members were trained. Information and guidance on a wide range of social and ethical issues were furnished to individuals, churches, and associations. Special programs focusing on religious liberty and first amendment concerns were conducted in several churches and associations. Co-sponsored with the School of Pastoral Care and the Mt. Zion Association, an area-wide conference on providing pastoral care for AIDS victims and their families was held this Fall.

A major personnel change will occur with the retirement at year's end of Ted W. Williams, director, Department of Aging. As the inaugural director of the department, Ted has expanded both the number and scope of senior adult programs and created fresh and innovative approaches for helping senior adult leaders, pastors, and associations meet the challenge of reaching this rapidly growing segment of our society. Through his involvement with state and national gerontological agencies, Ted has kept North Carolina Baptists on the cutting edge of developing ministries with older adults, and he will be greatly missed. We note his many accomplishments, affirm his gifts, and express our gratitude for his life among us.

W. Douglas Cole, executive director

Christian Citizenship Education

The General Assembly convened in February and stayed in session until mid-August, making this one of the longest sessions ever. Throughout this time, the Department, through the Legislative Information Network, provided frequent and up-to-date material on a wide variety of legislative issues. This information was sent not only to Network members, but also to all members of the General Assembly.

The legislature dealt with a host of issues of interest to Baptists.

Among these are the following:

—A bill which could have created a state lottery was defeated.

—Pari-mutuel gambling (on horse and dog racing) was put on hold when supporters lacked votes to secure passage in the Senate.

—A state-wide ban on phosphate detergents was imposed, a move designed to prevent algae pollution in rivers and lakes.

—The minimum age for imposing the death penalty was raised from fourteen to seventeen.

—Stopgap measures were taken to reduce prison overcrowding and other related problems.

The General Assembly will re-convene next June for a short session, given over primarily to the budget and to consideration of matters left over from this year. Supporters of pari-mutuel gambling hope to push for passage of their bill during this 1988 short session.

The North Carolina Hunger Fund continues to provide financial help for churches and associations which are working to combat hunger here in our own state. Requests for assistance have been higher this year, perhaps reflecting greater needs in North Carolina and certainly signifying greater involvement by North Carolina Baptists. During the first eight months of 1987, $39,000 was sent to 21 churches and 10 associations. Those assisted by the North Carolina Hunger Fund may be found throughout the state, from the Atlantic Association to the Cheoah Association, from Oxford and Spartz to Lenoir and Lincolnton and Jacksonville.

Because of the generosity of many North Carolina Baptists and because of the involvement of these thirty-one churches and associations, we have been able to work together to provide food for some hungry people in Jesus' name.

J. George Reed, director

Christian Family Life

There has been an increasing and gratifying response to the broad area of Family Life events sponsored by the Department of Christian Family Life during the current year.

Among the Family Life events led by the Department's director were six church-wide Family Enrichment Conferences; five Marriage Enrichment Retreats in churches in addition to sponsoring the annual three-day Clergy Couples Marriage Enrichment Retreat in January and Convenant Marriage Leadership Training Workshop in August. When the latter workshop is completed there will be 40 couples available for leadership training in this new LIFE course in Marriage Enrichment. Our North Carolina churches have been most impressive in their response to the LIFE course introduced last year, Parenting by Grace. Two Parenting by Grace courses of 10 lessons each were conducted during the year, as well as two Parenting by Grace Leadership Training Conferences for the churches of two host associations and 16 invited associations from the surrounding areas. An "Introduction to Parenting by Grace" was led in another association.

Another highlight of the current year was the sponsorship of four regional conferences entitled, "Farm Families Looking to the Future." These were held throughout eastern North Carolina on four successive days and drew over 300 participants. The director will be leading two other associational "Farm Families in Crisis" pastor's conferences. These conferences are co-sponsored with the Family Life Department by WMU and Brotherhood.

Co-sponsored with the Chaplaincy and Language Missions Department was a Language Missions Conference whose theme was, "Strengthening the Language Family."

In the area of material services, a video tape on adolescence entitled "Questions before the House" was produced as well as two pamphlets in the areas of abortion and AIDS.

Among other services rendered was a presentation to the Chowan College Lyceum entitled "Biblical Perspectives on the Family," a range of planning committees assisted in their preparations for Family Life and Single events as well as some seven consultations in the Family Life area.

Robert L. Newton, director

Aging

Baptist Senior Adults in North Carolina continue to be actively involved in effective ministry. More and more churches are becoming aware of the great potential for ministry among older persons and are providing many opportunities for service.

Four regional senior adult rallies were held—two in April and two in June—with more than 1500 people in attendance. These rallies provide opportunity for fellowship, encouragement, and challenge.

The six conferences/retreats for senior adults at Caraway Conference Center continue to attract capacity attendance.

A special two-day seminar for pastors, "Pastoral Care of Older Persons and Their Families," was conducted at Caraway Conference Center in July.

Leadership training continues to be a major emphasis of the department.

A significant number of churches in North Carolina observe Senior Adult Emphasis Day, usually the first Sunday of May.

Several churches offered specialized conferences dealing with such subjects as "You and Your Aging Parent."

A large number of North Carolina Baptist Senior Adults attended the National Senior Adult Convention in Ft. Worth, Texas in April.

Christian Social Services

The area of social service is in a state of fluctuation and change with the ever-present demands and needs in this area. Baptists of North Carolina are turning to its social service institutions for assistance and guidance in ways that it has not at any time in its past.

158/Baptist State Convention

North Carolina has a "graying" population that will continue to offer a challenge to the Retirement Homes. The Retirement Homes, under the capable leadership of William Stillerman, is knowing some of its most challenging and demanding periods. The Board of Trustees have courageously moved forward with the new program in Winston-Salem for Brookridge Retirement Community. An ambitious program similar to the one in Winston-Salem is being developed for Charlotte.

The Chidren's Home is still recognized as the forerunner of institutions ministering to the hurting families and especially children of North Carolina. The bold new programs that have been instigated under the direction of Michael Blackwell have brought vitality and statewide interest to the program. There is definitely a new day in the way that ministry to boys and girls of North Carolina is to be attained. North Carolina Baptists must continue to be on the cutting edge of this opportunity.

The North Carolina Baptist Hospital has continued to grow and multiply its facilities, having ministered to nearly 23,000 patients in the past year. The Baptist Hospital identifies readily with its Christian heritage. There is no greater influence in terms of structures or edifices in the Winston-Salem area than the cross that stands as a caring, ministering unit of Jesus Christ atop one of the major buildings at the hospital complex. The hospital has found ways to minister and provide assistance to the entire person, not just the physical ill, through cooperation with the Pastoral Care program. President John Lynch is to be applauded for this meshing of programs. This ministry is carried on both for inpatients and a ministry to outpatients.

These three institutional ministries depend heavily on the Homes & Hospital Offering received each May. The participation by the churches of North Carolina, as this offering has been realigned, has been disappointing to the institutions. When the offerings were held separately they realized greater participation. Because of the flux of offerings through the last several years, there has probably been some confusion relating to the timing and the direction. All of us as North Carolina Baptists must commit ourselves again to these vital social service ministries that are so depended on throughout our state. The leaders of our institutions are people of integrity, commitment and dedication. As North Carolina Baptists we should hold them high in our acclaim.

Tom C. Womble, administrative associate for staff development and executive secretary for the Council on Christian Social Services

Baptist Children's Homes

The former president of Williams College in Massachusetts, a medical doctor at Bowman Gray School of Medicine, a leader in the music department at North Carolina State University, an athletic director at a North Carolina Baptist college, a vice-president of an architectural firm in Charlotte, owners of successful printing companies in Goldsboro and Asheville—these are just a few of the alumni success stories of the Baptist Children's Homes of North Carolina.

In completing another year of Building Children's Hopes at the Baptist Children's Homes, future success stories such as these are currently on our campuses.

The Children's Homes' mission continues to be to offer quality care to hurting children and broken families. Bold hope has kept this child care ministry on the frontier of innovation to provide new approaches to child care. Current services include: four Group Care campuses (Mills Home, Thomasville; Kennedy Memorial Home, Kinston; Odum Home, Pembroke; and Broyhill Home, Clyde); eight Emergency Care Homes on the four campuses and in Forest City, Henderson, Charlotte and High Point; the Maternity Home in Asheville; the Moody Home Ministry in Franklin; a network of Foster Homes; the Child Development Center on the Mills Home campus in Thomasville; and Therapeutic Camping for Boys in Moore county.

During the year, reorganization of group care on the Mills Home campus occurred in order to deliver more effectively services to children and their families. Intentionalized services will focus on specific needs to the children in care assisting them to regain the ability to function.

The Moody Home Ministry, an intensive program of "friendship therapy" for eight girls, was opened in Macon County.

The process of Long Range Planning, which in today's complex world of child care can only extend up to five years, was begun. As a basis for this Long Range Planning, accreditation by the National Association of Homes for Children was awarded in 1987. Baptist Children's Homes is only one of three National Association of Homes for Children accredited child care institutions in North Carolina. Baptists of North Carolina undoubtedly share in this accomplishment.

More than 50 youth made a profession of faith in Jesus Christ during this church year. This can be attributed to the continuous spiritual emphasis in all the areas of campus living.

This year could well be called, "A Year of Partnerships." Nancy Curtis, executive director, Woman's Missionary Union of North Carolina, mailed out a Children's Homes "needs list" to the statewide membership. There has been an excellent response from WMU in meeting some of these needs. David Langford, executive director, North Carolina Baptist Men, has issued an appeal for the men of the state to provide the labor for some needed painting and repairs on buildings on the Children's Homes' campuses.

Ted Williams, director, Department of Aging, coordinated the Senior Adult Rally to coincide with the Baptist Children's Homes Area Conference on the Kennedy Memorial Home campus. Highlight of the area conference was the dedication of the W. Roy Poole Administration Building. More than 400 persons were in attendance.

The fourth partnership involved the Baptist State Convention Personal Evangelism Department under the direction of Richard Everett. Through the generosity of Mrs. Ella Shaw Spiers of Charlotte, the staff of the Baptist Children's Homes was able to purchase the sound equipment for "Witness," a group of Christian college students touring our state, sharing their faith through song and testimony. In return the Children's Homes staff had the opportunity to share information during each of the group's 22 engagements.

It has been an exciting and rewarding experience working with denominational leadership.

Baptist Children's Homes continues to devote a great deal of energy and time in promoting the Homes and Hospital Offering. We encourage you to assist us in promoting the 1988 Homes and Hospital Offering in your church during May.

The staff, trustees, and children in care are grateful to the Baptists of North Carolina for their faithfulness to this child care ministry, as expressed through their prayers, concern and financial support. Forty percent of the daily operating budget is derived from the Baptists of North Carolina. The remaining 60 percent is received from grants, purchase of care, support payments, Duke Endowment, foundations, corporations and other friends of children.

The fulfillment of the child care ministry is a mission mandate of the Great Commission.

Our commitment to you, the Baptists of North Carolina, is to remain faithful to our Baptist heritage and to be good stewards of that which has been entrusted to our care. We continue to be laborers together for God, being thankful for the opportunity to serve with you in the vital ministry to children and their families.

Michael C. Blackwell, president Hubert J. Philpott, chairman, Board of Trustees

Baptist Retirement Homes

The year 1986-87 has been an exciting time in the life of the Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina, Inc. Charged with the task of providing quality living opportunities for older adults within a Christian context, the Homes has this year attempted to move forward in three broad directions.

Advocacy for Older Adults

During 1986-87, the Homes has endeavored to become an advocate, a spokesman, for a very special segment of the state's population...the older adult. Appearing before church, associational, and convention groups throughout the state, the Homes' administration and staff have attempted to sensitize Baptists to the particular needs of older adults as well as the significant contribution they can make to the well-being of the churches and associations of the Baptist State Convention.

Quality Care

During the year 1986-87, the Homes has continued to develop creative ways to meet the needs of older adults. For example, a significant new relationship has been established between the Homes and the Geriatric Section of the Bowman Gray School of Medicine (Wake Forest University). Mary Lyles, an attending physician in the Department of Medicine, has been appointed the Homes' medical director. As a result of this new relationship, the Homes will be able to offer "sub-acute" care as well as intermediate and skilled nursing to its residents and patients.

In an attempt to provide quality care opportunities to older adults who still reside in the local community setting, a respite (or temporary care) program has been begun at the Albemarle Home. Quality care, long the hallmark of the Homes, is still the institution's main objective.

Expanded Services

During 1986-87, plans for institutional expansion and new development have moved forward at a rapid pace. Ground-breaking for a new continuing care retirement community, Brookridge, will take place in October. The Homes' long-range plan includes the development of similar facilities in Asheville, Charlotte, and in the eastern part of the state.

The "Good News of Jesus Christ" is the presupposition upon which the Homes operates. In reaching out in service to older adults, the Homes attempts to offer concrete expression to the love of the Christ for all people. The support of North Carolina Baptists makes this ministry of love possible.

North Carolina Baptist Hospital

During the past year, Baptist Hospital, Winston-Salem, admitted 22,973 patients for a total of 186,321 days of patient care. More than 1,000 of those patients had heart surgery and 27 received kidney transplants. During this period, the hospital also performed its first heart transplant and, as of June 1, 1987, has performed four successful heart transplants.

Approximately 1,000 persons with kidney stones have been treated with the lithotripter. The lithotripter has also been used to break up gallstones. Baptist Hospital was the first hopsital in the United States to achieve this success.

The Air Care Program, described as "a flying emergency room staffed with highly trained pilots and flight nurses," continues to save lives and to contribute to more rapid and complete recovery for many victims of trauma. For example, Air Care made it possible for a man whose arm was severed in a hav mowing accident to reach the hospital in time to have his arm reattached.

Baptist Hospital is one of less than a half dozen medical centers in the nation routinely transplanting living bone tissue. A woman underwent this rare procedure to correct an arthritic condition in her hip where her bone tissue had died. Bone tissue with its own blood supply was successfully transplanted from her lower legs to the upper end of the right femur.

In addition to those admitted to the hospital, 30,726 persons were seen in the outpatient clinics, 35,134 in the emergency department, and 196,556 in the Bowman Gray Department of Clinics. 2,747 patients

During the past year, the Pastoral Care Department has continued to provide pastoral services for hospital patients, pastoral counseling, clinical pastoral education, and human enrichment events. In addition, the department in cooperation with the Baptist State Convention, has offered the "Pastor's Sabbath" Program at Caraway Conference Center and has provided assistance to more than 100 pastors and their families through the Minister's Care Plan. Plans are being made to offer training in "Conflict Management," "Healing of Corporate Pain," and "Ministry to the Interim Church."

Due to the change in the method and timing of the special offering, Baptist Hospital received during its past fiscal year the largest offering from the churches in its history. The last North Carolina Missions Offering in September of 1985 and the first Homes and Hospital Offering in May of 1986, together with designated gifts, brought the hospital a total of $474,662. Cooperative Program gifts to the hospital during the same fiscal year was $608,389, making our total receipts

Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute

Fruitland Baptist Bible Institute, Hendersonville, is now an agency of the General Board operating under a board of directors composed of four members of the General Board, four alumni of Fruitland and four members at large. The Executive Director of the Convention, the President of the General Board and the President of Fruitland are ex officio members of the board. The elected directors are as follows:

General Board: Clyde Shuping (87), Frank Page (88), Michael

Taylor (89) and Leon Smith (90).

Fruitland Alumni: Eugene Gaskins (87), Leon Hawks (88), Stuart White (89) and Curtis Barbery (90).

Members at Large: William T. Mills (87), Donald Hoover (88), James Jacobs (89) and Mark Corts (90).

The Board organized in March with Curtis Barbery, chairperson, Michael Taylor, vice chairperson and Donald Taylor, secretary. The orientation meeting was on campus in April, 1987. The Board meets in conjunction with the regular General Board meetings and on the campus at least once each year.

Fruitland is operating with the best financial situation in its history. The Friends of Fruitland endowment fund has reached almost one-half million dollars. Fruitland employs 25 faculty members and has an enrollment of about 125 students.

New program improvements include two new courses and the establishment of the Advanced Diploma Program. They include Denominational Participation 201, taught by 10 selected pastors, and Denominational Participation 202, taught by 10 directors of missions or denominational staff members.

In April Fruitland graduated the first student to receive the Advanced Diploma with an additional twenty-four quarter hours of credit. Courses leading toward the Advanced Diploma are scheduled twice each year; the week of Founder's Day in May and the week of Alumni Day in October.

North Carolina Baptist Foundation

Through the North Carolina Baptist Foundation, every cause the churches promote and support can be endowed for perpetual and "forever" support. It is the Foundation's role to help the church and congregations find the best ways to do so. Through assisting individuals and church groups, the Foundation fulfills its basic function, that is, to provide financial support through trusts for the Baptist institutions, agencies and mission causes.

In 1986, new trusts agreements were prepared for 93 persons. Their gifts to initiate these trusts totaled $1,181,288. Many of the agreements provide funds as well as anticipated the addition of funds in the future. It is difficult to assess the long-term benefit to Baptist work provided through the trusts. Assistance was given to dozens of persons in preparing their Wills, all of whom included trusts through their estates for nearly every cause supported by Southern Baptists. Total book value of assets managed by the Foundation was $11,036,640 on December 31, 1986. Market value was $13,296,770.

In cooperation with the Baptist State Convention, the Foundation established a line of credit of $3,000,000 for the purpose of making church loans for new church starts and for churches which need special assistance. Loan applications will be recieved through the Baptist State Convention Church Extension Department.

The use of a detailed computer program related to charitable giving, installed during the year, provides the Foundation staff with capabilities for accurately advising individuals concerning estate preservation and tax benefits through gifts made to Baptist causes.

An intensive study was made by the Board of Directors during 1986 of the development, the present operations and future role of the Foundation in fulfilling its responsibilities. The study recognized the critical need of all Baptist endeavors for greater financial support from endowment as the denomination strives to meet its commitment of Bold Mission Thrust. A goal was set to double asset holdings by 1991. Staff restructuring was begun by the addition of an Associate Director for Administration. Preliminary plans were made for the construction of an office building for the Foundation on property adjacent to the Baptist Building in Cary. Occupancy of the building is scheduled for 1988.

The Foundation promotes endowment of Christian causes with an assurance drawn from its experience with donors that such planning for the future in no way minimizes "now" witnessing and giving. Just the opposite has been the case; the faithful steward is faithful in every area. The statistics, dollars and facts of this report are truly about the people whose impassioned concern for mission and ministry has resulted in positive action.

One imaginative concept employed in several trusts and Wills has been "Give it Twice." A trustor provides that family members receive income earned by the trust until they have received an amount equal to the principal placed in trust. Then, after the family has received the full amount, the income thereafter is paid to Baptist causes selected by the trustor in the trust agreement. He has denied his family nothing! They have received it all. But the principal is still intact and the second time around the income will support Kingdom work.

Biblical Recorder

January 1988 will mark the 155th anniversary of state Baptist papers in North Carolina. Messengers to the annual session in August 1832 voted to endorse and support the paper which was started by Thomas Meredith, pastor of the Edenton Baptist Church, the following January. Complete copies of the papers, which went through three transitions before emerging as the Biblical Recorder in 1835 while Meredith was pastor at New Bern, are on file in the Historical Collection at Wake Forest University, Winston-Salem.

From the first, the purposes of the paper have not changed in these 155 years. Meredith launched the first paper with the support of the young state convention as a means of informing and enlisting Baptists in the "interests of our denomination." Then, as now, the paper contains articles on missions, education, Sunday School, theological matters and church news.

The state Baptist paper for North Carolina is committed to reporting the news like it is—the good, the bad, the victories and the warts—with an emphasis on the good because there is so much good being done by our people as they take seriously the Great Commission from our Lord.

Some Baptists are well-informed, some misinformed, some uninformed. The Recorder tries each week to present the news and activities of Baptists so that all will have the opportunity to be the best informed. As our state grows and there are more challenges every day for witness and ministry, our Baptist people need to be at their very best with information and insight into the situations. Never in the history of North Carolina has there been a greater moment for Baptists to make known the Gospel and help people live in the manner of Jesus.

Readership is strong, but we want every reader and subscriber possible so that more Baptists can know the opportunities and victories within our fellowship. The paper is a bargain—only $5 per year for the Church Budget Plan! For half the price of a first-class postage stamp, the Recorder comes into Baptist homes each week.

For the sixth consecutive year there will be No Increase in the subscription rates. Despite the fact that second-class postage costs went up more than $90,000 in 1987, the Recorder directors have agreed to leave the subscription prices as they are so that the greatest number of Baptists can benefit from the paper at the lowest costs.

If your church does not have the Budget Plan, we urge you to consider it for 1988. Special introductory offers are available. Please contact: Biblical Recorder, Inc., 232 West Millbrook Road, Raleigh, NC 27609 Telephone (919) 847-2127.

Joint Committee on Cooperative Ministries with General Baptists

The Baptist State Convention members of the Joint Committee met in April to receive an update of activities and discuss the growing apathy regarding cooperative relationships between the two state conventions. Internal needs of both conventions have dominated agendas to the point of expressing less interest in joint activities.

The Department of Cooperative Ministries and Seminary Extension continues a full scale program of outreach involving summer programs for black Baptist college youth, providing scholarships for black Baptist students preparing for church related vocations, an annuity program for General Baptist pastors, and operating the nation's largest Seminary Extension program among black Baptists. In recent years the department has been assigned additional programs including bivocational ministries, coordinating prison ministries, and in-service guidance programs on college campuses.

The committee voted unanimously to encourage the department to promote a local church program of joint activities related to celebrating the annual Martin Luther King, Jr., holiday celebration. Black and white pastors will be encouraged to plan together for church and associational activities.

Trustee Orientation Committee

Trustees of all Baptist institutions and agencies convened at Holiday Inn Four Seasons in Greensboro on January 16-17, 1987 for annual orientation. Three hundred thirty-three trustees and spouses attended the dinner on Friday evening. E. Bruce Heilman, Chancellor of the University of Richmond, Virginia, spoke on the subject "The Trustee and Institutional Advancement." Responders to this address were David Morrow, trustee of Baptist Children's Homes of North Carolina, Inc., and Rollin S. Burhan, trustee of Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina, Inc.

James P. Guenther, Legal Counsel for the Sunday School Board, Nashville, Tennessee, spoke Saturday morning on "Trustees and the Law." Responders to Dr. Guenther's address were Dr. Norman A. Wiggins, president of Campbell University, and Mr. William B. Stillerman, president of Baptist Retirement Homes of North Carolina, Inc. The session was concluded with an address by Edwin S. Coates, on "How You Can Help—The Computer's Answer." Mr. Coates is Executive Director of the North Carolina Baptist Foundation, Inc.

The Committee feels this time spent with the trustees of our Baptist institutions and agencies is one of the most important programs of the year. The trustee response has been excellent. It is the goal of the Trustee Orientation Committee to continue to make this an outstanding event. Tentative plans are already in operation concerning 1988, 1989 and 1990.

Historical Committee

The Historical Committee met twice in 1987: on April 14 at the Baptist Building in Cary and on August 14 at Caraway. Several leaders of the newly organized North Carolina Historical Society were invited to meet with the Committee in April to clarify the relationship of the Historical Society and the Convention-elected Historical Committe. The following statement was formulated:

"The North Carolina Historical Society shall function as an auxiliary of the Historical Committee of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina. The Chairman of the Historical Committee and one other member selected by the Historical Committee shall serve on the Executive Committee of the North Carolina Historical Society."

Dr. Wyan Washburn and Chairman Kathryn Greene will serve in this relationship.

The Historical committee has sub-committees working on several projects. One of these committees has begun plans for the 160th Anniversary of Baptist State Convention of North Carolina.

There has been a very good response to the Committee's plan to recognize historical writings. Recognitions will be made at the meeting of the Baptist State Convention in November.

Also the Committee will recognize at the Convention churches 150 years old and those older than 150 years at intervals of 25 years. This year the Committee will also recognize Associations which are 100 years old in 1987. A new project of the Committee concerns historical markers. The Committee adopted guidelines for recommending churches 175 years old or older with outstanding growth and outreach. The recommendations will be submitted to the North Carolina Highway Historical Marker Advisory Committee. Consideration is being given to future heritage festivals in older churches in the state.
